REPUBLICAN REGULARS STATEWIDE VICTORS

Returns From State Give G. O. P. Candidates Big Majority Over United List in the Primary

GOV. JOHNSON'S MACHINE UPSET

Convention Delegates Sweep Everything in Fight to Maintain Party Integrity Here

G. O. P. for Harmony

No Rancor in Party

The statement of the Regular Republican Campaign Committee follows:

"The gratification of victory in the presidential primary election yesterday is necessarily tempered with a realization that our opponents were actuated in the main by honest motives and believed they were voting for the best interests of the Republican party. The sweeping majority for the Regular Republican ticket, however, reflects the sentiment of the rank and file of the Republican party. Fortunately the campaign was so free of personalities that all loyal Republicans can now get together in a harmonious organization that will insure the success of the Republican presidential ticket in California this fall."

The Regular Republican forces throughout the State of California yesterday won a sweeping victory in the presidential preference primary election, when the twenty-six candidates named by the G. O. P. conference as delegates to the Chicago national Republican convention were elected by the voters, burying the so-called Earl United Republicans under an avalanche of votes, the latest returns showing 96,711 ballots cast for the regular ticket, as against 69,585 for the United ticket. The defeat is considered a sinister omen for the political ambitions of the governor, whose vice-presidentall boom was urged by the defeated group of candidates.

COMPLETE OVERTHROW.

While the vote in the state was light, the repudiation of the State administration comes as a surprise to its most active critics. In Alameda county it was not thought that the United ticket would be defeated, but rather, with many of the Progressive party and United faction leaders residing here, the two tickets would be held relatively even, with the Governor's friends slightly in the lead. Today County Clerk George Gross, himself an ardent supporter of the Governor, acknowledged that the Regular ticket would win here, the figures already giving that group a total of 18,779 as against 11,525 for the United.

Both San Francisco and Los Angeles, where it was thought highly probable the United faction would secure a heavy endorsement, gave the Regular ticket a healthy lead. Early in the night, when the count from all parts of the state indicated that the United ticket had been repudiated by the electors, the Governor's friends admitted that the situation was helpless, and have made no comment. The election thus ends the effort made but a few weeks ago by the Progressives to capture the Republican party and give Johnson a working unit on the floor of the Republican convention at Chicago.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The winning Republican ticket is made up of the following, who will go to the Republican national convention at Chicago representing the Republican party in California: Walter Bordwell, Olive E. Cole Abbie E. Krebs, J. O. Hayes, Amiel Hochheimer, P. L. Lancaster, J. C. Berendsen, Alexander Russell, Peter J. Crosby, Joseph F. Carlston, F. A. Cressey Jr., John Frank Gibson, Wm. H. Crocker, Willis S. Clayton, Luke McDonald, Charles E. Clinch, Ephriam Light, Richard R. Veale, Albert E. Castle, F. V. Keesling, Lewis L. Lostutter, William C. Mushet, John G. Mott, Eugene W. Britt, John S. Ackerman, Chas. C. Chapman.

PROGRESSIVE TICKET.

The Progressive delegates elected were as follows: Ralph W. Bull, Thomas P. Boyd, George A. Logg, S. G. Beach, Clinton L. White, W. H. Briggs, Rose Steinhart, Percy V. Long, Alfred Greenbaum, Thomas W. Nowlin, Eustace Cullinan, Arthur Arlett, John W. Stetson, T. C. Hocking, Chas. A. Whitmore, W. F. Chandler, A. J. Crites, Lillien J. Martin, George W. Stone, J. H. Braly, B. F. Tucker, Geo. D. Jennings, C. W. Rhodes, Mary A. Scherfee, Dell A. Schweitzer, Lou M. Myers, R. A. Collins, F. F. Grant, S. J. Jackman, Thomas A. Ogden.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The Democratic delegates elected were as follows: James D. Phelan, John E. Raker, Denver S. Church, William Kettner, Claude F. Purkitt, William Maddux, John B. Curtin, Charles Culbert, George E. Catts, George Vice, Emanuel S. Heller,

More Motor Trucks Needed in Mexico

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 3.—Many more trucks will be required if the motor truck line from Columbus, N. M., to the field is to be maintained, according to information received at headquarters today. Chief Clerk Daly, from the office of the quartermaster-general at Washington, is expected to reach San Antonio tonight with a full report on the transportation problem. He is returning from Columbus after making an investigation of the situation. Headquarters has been advised that heavy transportation has made the roads south of Columbus almost impassable. Machines of several motor truck companies are reported to be held up between Columbus and Ascension.

Married on Dare, He Says, Seeks Separation

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Attorney J. F. Sweet of Oakland preserved great secrecy in the filing of a complaint for a legal separation by Thomas J. Edwards, an electrical supply dealer, against Eva Edwards, 1006 Hayes street, today, but he was unable to prevent the details of the elopement of the couple becoming public today, although threatening an injunction. Edwards testified that he had married his wife on a dare and that they had eloped to San Jose July 9, 1914. They separated two months later. He said that there had been no love on either side and that they had thought it best to part. He was given a decree.

Spanish Steamship Sunk by Submarine

LONDON, May 3.—The sinking by a submarine of another neutral steamship, the Spanish vessel Vinifreda, is reported in a Lloyd's dispatch from Corunna, Spain. One member of the crew was lost. The Vinifreda, 1441 tons gross and 250 feet long, was built in Sunderland, England, in 1889, and owned in Bilbao.

Five Airships Drop Bombs on England

LONDON, May 3.—Five hostile airships attacked the northeast coast of England and the southeast coast of Scotland Tuesday night. A few bombs were dropped in Yorkshire. No details as to casualties or damage inflicted have been received.

This official announcement is made by Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the home forces.

Bulgaria and Turkey Peace Rumor Denied

BERLIN, May 3.—Reports that Bulgaria and Turkey are negotiating for peace with the entente allies are untrue, the Bulgarian official news agency declares today. The Geneva newspaper La Suisse circulated the report.

Policeman, Crazed, Kills 4, Wounds 14

SHANGHAI, May 3.—A policeman, armed with a rifle and seized with a mania to commit murder, began last night to chase and shoot people in the North Chuan road extension, which is within the international settlement, but runs through Chinese territory. The madman killed a young Chinese woman, a Chinese postman, a Portuguese clerk, a Japanese merchant, and wounded fourteen others, including four women. The crazed policeman fired upon Charles H. Williams, marshal of the American consulate, but missed him, the bullet slightly wounding a lady whom Mrs. Williams was endeavoring to protect. Eventually an English sergeant shot and seriously wounded the madman, who was taken to a hospital.

James H. Creely Dies of Stroke of Apoplexy

Following a stroke of apoplexy suffered last night, James H. Creely, prominent lawyer of both sides of the bay, died this morning at his home, 2608 Myrtle street. Creely had practiced law for twenty-six years in Stockton, San Francisco and Oakland. He came to this side of the bay after the fire and identified himself actively with the city's interests, being a member of the Bar Association and the Chamber of Commerce.

It was while he was away from his home last evening on a visit that he was stricken. He was taken home but did not regain consciousness. The widow and six children survive. Funeral services will be held Friday at 10 o'clock from St. Francis De Sales Church.

Mexico Takes Over Meat Supply House

MEXICO CITY, May 3.—A meat supply depot belonging to a foreign corporation with a large capital was taken over by the government today on orders of the secretary of the interior. The organization formerly was known as the Popo Meat Company and was largely financed by London capitalists. It had exclusive rights to slaughter and provide beef and other meats to the city. Lately it was managed by C. A. Mallory, an American.

Richmond Mystery May Mean Murder

RICHMOND, May 3.—The body of an unidentified man was found, partly in the water, under the Santa Fe Pier today by Martin Kingler a boatman. Whether the dead man was the victim of murder or accident has not been determined. The coroner and police are investigating. The body had been in the water some time, and was unrecognizable.

VILLA HUNT SURE TO BE CONTINUED

Conference to Result in Early Mexican Adjustment

Carranza's Approval of United Effort Is Awaited

WASHINGTON, May 3.—An early termination of the campaign in Mexico is what the Scott-Obregon agreement means, in the view of authorities here today. Hampered heretofore by the necessity of maintaining strong communication lines in almost parallel rows, General Pershing has not had the free rein desired. The use of the Mexican Northwestern railroad, granted by War Minister Obregon, means that it will be utilized by troops in trailing Villistas. The only thing remaining is Carranza's O. K. This, it is believed, will be given.

The agreement for an established base at Colonia Dublan means that the present base will be moved northward eight miles. In effect this agreement is what General Scott's original orders sought.

Americans will patrol northern Mexico while Carranzistas chase the Villistas southward. A short, quick clean-up is in prospect. When Funston feels that the scourge of border raids is eliminated the American troops can be withdrawn.

CONFERENCE SUCCESSFUL.

The way may be clear for the state department to "treat" with Mexican envoys on the subject of the withdrawal of troops, unless Carranza unexpectedly thwarts what Scott and Obregon have accomplished.

EL PASO May 3.—American troops are to remain in Mexico without interference from Carranzistas, according to an agreement reached by War Minister Alvaro Obregon and General Hugh Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, after a conference lasting twelve hours.

The agreement was reached at midnight. Obregon and Scott emerged smiling from the room, refusing to indicate the outcome. In a statement earlier in the evening both said that "negotiations in progress probably will result in satisfaction to all concerned."

General Fred Funston was eliminated from the conference. This was obvious, although no official objection to his presence was given. Funston strolled about the lobby during the meeting and his absence indicated that the negotiations had been robbed of their military aspect. Funston was reported to have clashed with Obregon during the first conference.

DETAILS NOT ANNOUNCED.

Obregon granted permission for the expedition to have full use of the Mexican Northwestern railway and promised to co-operate as fully as is possible with General Pershing and his forces, it was stated reliably. In return, Scott is unofficially reported to have set a sixty-day limit on the presence of American troops in Chihuahua. Scott's concessions are not definitely known however, and it is believed the war department will give out shortly the program agreed upon.

The conclusions of the conferees will not be effective, however, until they are ratified by the Mexican and United States governments.

British Arrest Woman From S. F.

Mrs. Evelin Taken From Ship at Falmouth

NEW YORK, May 3.—Officers of the Holland-American line steamship Ryndam, which arrived today, reported that a woman, who claimed to be an American citizen, resident of San Francisco, was taken off the ship by the British at Falmouth without explanation and held for examination.

The woman gave her name as Mrs. Gertrude Evelin, and that of her daughter, Anna Maria Evelin.

The Ryndam came around Scotland. At Kirkwall her mails were removed.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Mrs. Gertrude Evelin is the wife of James E. Evelin, an engineer, of 640 Forty-fifth avenue. Her husband was employed at the Belgian exhibit during the Exposition. She left for Germany about a year ago, to settle an estate there. Why she was held, save for the fact that she had visited Germany, is not known here. The matter will be taken up at once with the government by her relatives. The Evelins have lived in San Francisco for some time.

Don Rathbun, government investigator, today received a telegram from the state department directing him to interview Evelin, who is a mining man with interests in Grass Valley, and learn what he knew about the arrest of his wife and daughter by the British.

Evelin told Rathbun that his wife was German born, and that the only possible reason for her detention might be that the British censor had opened some of her letters from Germany containing pro-German sentiments. Evelin himself is English. He met his wife in Nancy, France, in 1909. The daughter, who was taken into custody with her mother, is 5 years old.

WOMEN DIE IN BERLIN PEACE RIOT

Twenty-Five Reported to Be Slain During Disturbance

Labor Class in Capital Clamors for End of War

LONDON, May 3.—"Serious trouble is reported to have taken place in Berlin and elsewhere in Germany on May Day," says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company. "Vast crowds, composed for the most part of women of the laboring classes, clamored for peace.

"The crowds were dispersed by the police and many persons were arrested. Two women were wounded at Chemnitz, Saxony."

A Geneva telegram to the Central News says:

"During food riots at Leipsic the police killed three persons and wounded seventy.

"In riots in Berlin it is reported that twenty-five persons were killed and 200 wounded."

Dr. Carl Liebknecht, the Socialist leader, was arrested on May 1 in connection with a May Day demonstration in Berlin.

RUSH CAVALRY TO CURB STRIKE RIOTERS' FURY

Woman Among Pittsburg Arrests for Plot Complicity.

PITTSBURG, May 3. — Troops of the Pennsylvania National Guard today took charge of the situation in Turtle Creek and Monongahela valleys, where two persons were killed and a number wounded in strike riots yesterday. The governor's troop arrived this morning. More workmen walked out of the Pressed Steel Car Co.'s works at McKees Rocks today, and it was said the entire plant employing 10,000 men would be closed this afternoon.

Two regiments of infantry, the Eighteenth of Pittsburgh and the Tenth of Greensburg, are being held in readiness.

Quiet prevailed throughout the night in Braddock. Fearing another outbreak, citizens sworn in as deputy sheriffs patroled the streets, while more than 300 guards and deputies, armed with riot guns, guarded the Edgar Thomson works of the Carnegie Steel Company, where yesterday's rioting occurred.

ARRESTS EXPECTED.

Other arrests were expected today in connection with the commitments issued by Coroner Samuel C. Jamieson as a result of the riot. Seven labor leaders, among whom were Fred Merrick, a former Socialist newspaper editor; J. H. Hall and Anna Bell, were arrested last night and are being held on a charge of being an accessory before and after

City and Saint Not Compatible

Berkeley Professor Says S. F. Unlike Its Patron

BERKELEY, May 3. — "To consider San Francisco and its patron saint at the same time is compatible with no human sense except that of amusement."

So professor Arthur U. Pope of the department of philosophy of the University of California told members of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon at the Hotel Shattuck. Many cities, he said, have had patron saints from whose lives and expressions the cities took the cue for their behavior.

"But St. Francis, the patron saint of San Francisco," he said, "cannot be considered in the same moment with the city for which he is supposed to stand sponsor. St. Francis stood for humility, modesty and clear thinking; he stood for chastity. It is mockery of such a patron saint to pair with him such a roaring, blazing city."

Professor Pope advised Berkeley, in the approaching city of its golden jubilee, not to forget the striving for perfection which served as the creed of its patron saint, George Berkeley, Bishop of Cloyne.

Gertrude Lamson on Stand Today

OROVILLE, May 3.—Gertrude Lamson, 15, was called to the witness stand today to testify against Rev. Madison Slaughter, who is being tried for the second time on a charge of attacking her.

In spite of many interruptions by defense lawyers who frequently objected to the questions asked her, the girl recited again her story of alleged wrongs by Slaughter. She described advances which she claims Slaughter made when she was working for him in his almond orchard.

It is probable that she will remain on the stand for the prosecution until tomorrow noon.

French Claim Verdun Victory

German Attack in Argonne Is Repulsed

PARIS, May 3.—A German attack in the Argonne, near Harazee, was repulsed with serious losses for the assailants, the war office announced this afternoon. In the Verdun region last night there was heavy fighting with artillery.

The text of the statement follows:

"In the Argonne, after a spirited bombardment with shells which released irritating gases, the enemy undertook yesterday evening a small attack in which three companies took part upon our trenches between Harazee and Four de Paris. The Germans were successful in gaining a footing for a few moments in our advanced positions, but they were not able to maintain their success and had to retire. They sustained heavy losses by our fire.

"In the region of Verdun there has been fairly intense activity on the part of the opposing artillery forces in the sectors of Dead Man Hill and Douaumont. One of our long-range pieces bombarded the railroad station at Sebastopol, east of Vigneulles. Flames were observed at the station.

"In the Lorraine there has been an encounter between patrols near Moncel."

BERLIN, May 3.—The following announcement was issued today by German army headquarters:

"Western front: North of Dixmude our detachments succeeded by a surprise attack in entering the Belgian line and took several dozen soldiers prisoners.

"In the Four de Paris sector, our patrols reached the second French line and returned after capturing several prisoners.

"The situation remains unchanged in the Meuse (Verdun sector). First Lieutenant von Althaus shot down his sixth enemy airship above the Caillette Wood. Another French airship was brought down in a combat in the air south of Thiaumont. Anti-aircraft guns brought down two more airships south of Talou Ridge, and a fifth plane was destroyed by machine gunfire near Hardaumont. The pilot of the last-mentioned airship was killed and the observer seriously wounded."

GERMANY'S DIVER REPLY TO SEEK DELAY, IS REPORT

LONDON, May 3.—Dispatches from English correspondents in Holland today agree that Germany's reply will not meet the American submarine demands. As they forecast it, the note will make concessions for the purpose of getting a delay, and it will throw upon President Wilson the responsibility for a break. It will, the correspondents predict, be argumentative and indecisive.

BERLIN, May 3.—The draft of the German reply to the American note has been finished.

The reply is subject to minor alterations, which may result from interchanges of views between Berlin and general headquarters.

NO ROOM FOR DOUBT.

The attitude of Germany will be stated in clear and precise terms. The note will leave no room for doubt concerning the exact position assumed by Germany, which will communicate the definite nature of instructions that will be given to submarine commanders and other data on which Washington itself can judge the situation.

The Associated Press is permitted to make these statements, although the censorship on dispatches tending to reveal the tenor of the German reply still is effective. The date of delivery of the answer has not been fixed.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The announcement from Berlin that new and definite instructions are to be given to German submarine commanders is the first positive indication of how Germany will attempt to meet President Wilson's final demand that she declare and effect an abandonment of the present methods of submarine warfare.

Whether or not the new instructions will meet the terms of the last American note and thus prevent a break in diplomatic relations can only be determined by a close and careful examination.

WILL STAND FIRM.

President Wilson is represented by those closest about him as unshaken in his determination that the issue is not negotiable, that a settlement cannot be delayed by discussion of side issues such as the British blockade and retaliatory measures before the countries can proceed further in diplomacy only if German effectually stops destruction of ships without warning, and takes measures to bring her submarine operations otherwise within the confines of international law.

With a declaration that such orders have been given and evidence that they will be carried out in good faith, the President is willing to discuss the conduct of submarine warfare, but only upon that basis.

The news that new instructions to submarine commanders would be announced served to encourage hope of a favorable outcome of the long dispute, but all decision is being reserved until the newest German communication can be thoroughly considered.

German Ambassador von Bernstorff is so confident that the kaiser's reply to the American submarine demands will be satisfactory that he completed plans today to remain in Washington all summer. Apparently he bases his belief, however, on the willingness of this government to "negotiate" further. Strong indications that the United States believed negotiations like these in the past are at an end may upset the ambassador's plans.

CONNOLLY, PEARSE, 2 OTHERS DIE FOR RIOTS

Court Finds Leaders to Be Guilty of Treason and Penalty Is Paid Without Any Appeal

AUGUSTINE BIRRELL SENDS RESIGNATION

Normal Conditions Are Reported Returning to Dublin and to Other Sections of Ireland

LONDON, May 3.—James Connolly, leader of the Irish rebels; P. H. Pearse, who was declared president of the Irish republic, Thomas J. Clark and Thomas MacDonagh were court-martialed, found guilty of treason and shot to death, Premier Asquith announced today in the House of Common.

Three other signers of the proclamation were sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

They were the first rebels whose execution was publicly announced. All Irish prisoners have been removed from Dublin. Three hundred, including several leaders, were brought to England today. The remainder were taken to Belfast under heavy guard.

Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, has resigned.

Asquith stated that the men shot to death had signed the proclamation announcing the establishment of an Irish republic.

The swiftness of the government's action was a surprise. There had been no previous announcement of a court-martial. Birrell's resignation was expected. He was forced from the cabinet by a heavy fire from the newspapers and public.

It is understood that the resignations of General Friend and Under Secretary Nathan will follow. All rebels are being tried with great rapidity. It is believed that the rebels who fought in the ranks will be leniently treated.

DUBLIN, May 3.—Normal conditions are returning gradually. The chief of the fire department estimates the damage to buildings in Dublin at £1,000,000 and to stock at £750,000. The number of buildings destroyed or damaged is 179.

In County Galway the insurrection has been quelled completely, but the need of bread is great.

In an order of the day thanking the troops engaged in the suppression of the rebellion here, Lieutenant-General Sir John Maxwell, the military commander, says that owing to the tireless efforts of the soldiers all the rebels in this city have now surrendered. The orders says further: The order says further:

"I especially wish to express my gratitude to the Irish regiments which have so largely helped to crush the rising."

He is unable to refer in the present order, General Maxwell says, to the gallant behavior of the men, but he expresses his admiration for a small detachment which was attacked while convoying ammunition. After a splendid defense of three and one-half days, during which its leaders were struck down, the detachment delivered the ammunition safely.

Compulsory Service Bill Is Introduced

LONDON, May 3.—Premier Asquith today introduced in the House of Commons the government's bill providing for general compulsory military service.

RECALL PETITIONS NOW UNDER PROBE

Rejected certificates to the recall petition against Commissioner F. F. Jackson will number close to 2000, according to estimates from the city clerk's office today. It was thought until noon today that there would be only 1500, but the discovery this afternoon that Rasmus H. Albertson, one of the most active of the verification deputies, was registered from what is apparently a fictitious address, has resulted in the weeding out of all his certificates. It is thought Albertson turned in about 350 or 400 certificates.

Evidence in connection with irregularities in the method of signing and circulating the recall petition was placed in the hands of District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes today, according to rumors on the streets. City Clerk L. W. Cummings stated that he knew nothing of this matter being taken to the district attorney's office, but that it could have been done by representatives of Commissioner Jackson. Dr. Jackson has employed Charles A. Beardsley, former assistant city attorney, to investigate the legal status of some of the irregular petitions and to initiate the necessary procedure.

SOME WITHDRAW.

About two score withdrawals of signatures to the recall have been registered at the city clerk's office. One man withdrew his name, stating that he had signed the recall while "under the influence of liquor." Others have stated that they believed they were signing a petition asking for lower taxes. A number withdrew on the ground that when they signed, they believed there would be a general recall election aaginst the entire council, but that when they learned that the expense of the election would be incurred merely in an attempt to recall Commissioner Jackson, they wished to avoid the expense.

If the certificates obtained by Verification Deputy Albertson are thrown out, the Taxpayers' League will have to go out for over 2000 new names, as it will be necessary to allow for a margin of irregularities in the supplementary petition. They have 15 days in which to secure the new signatures and file a supplementary petition. In the meanwhile, it is anticipated that there will continue to be some withdrawals from the old petition, as any signer can withdraw his name up to the time the city clerk is ready to make his final report.

Albertson signed his application for appointment as verification deputy and gave his address as p636 Twenty-second avenue. He also registered at the county clerk's office as from the same address. City Clerk Cummings went out to the address today and says he found it to be a vacant lot.

MISTAKES.

"It might be considered by us that a mistake had been made by Albertson if it were only in our records that the fictitious address were given," said Cummings. "But he registered at the county offices from the same address. His certificates will have to be thrown out."

Albertson, it is understood, got paid for the signatures at the rate of ten cents a name.

Cummings will finish his tabulation of the results of the verification of the petition late this afternoon, and will send a copy of his report to Dr. Mabel Anthony, who filed the original petition against Dr. Jackson. Dr. Anthony and the Taxpayers' League will then have the privilege of inspecting the certificates which have been rejected, to satisfy themselves that they have been properly rejected by the city clerk.

It is stated that only a few certificates bearing evidence of being forgeries have been discovered. The evidence in these cases has already been placed in the hands of District Attorney Hynes, it is said.

Dr. Anthony and members of the Taxpayers' league, declared that if there had been any forgeries, it was without the knowledge of officers of the league.

Criticize Wilson For Serving Wine

Methodist Conference File Protest.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., May 3.—Criticism of President Wilson for providing wine for guests at banquets at the White House was expressed in resolutions submitted to the Methodist General Conference today by Rev. James A. Anderson of Oregon, Mo. The resolution was referred to the committee on temperance. Although the resolution was offered by Dr. Anderson as an individual, the entire Missouri delegation supported the action.

The resolution in part follows:

"Whereas, It has been reported through the public press that our President, the Hon. Woodrow Wilson has restored the use of intoxicating liquors on state occasions at the White House functions; therefore, be it resolved by the General Conference of the Methodist - Episcopal Church that we hereby express to the President our keen disappointment and regret for same action, especially at a time when the rulers of other nations have taken such advanced positions with reference to intoxicating liquors, and when there is such widespread sentiment in our land in favor of total abstinence from all alcoholic beverages, and we, the delegated representatives of more than four million members of the Methodist - Episcopal Church hereby appeal to the President as a Christian gentleman to abolish the wine cup from all functions over which he has control. And, furthermore as liquor as beverage is a liquor traffic has national organization, and pays government revenue, so that for these and other reasons it is a national issue, we most urgently request the President to give his endorsement and hearty support to the pending measures looking toward nationwide prohibition of liquor beverage traffic."

Tailor Slashed by His Barber Enemy

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 3.—Herman Pitts, a tailor, was hacked to death while being shaved in a barber shop in the Washington Hotel. He was found dying with his throat, face and wrists cut. The police are searching for the slayer. Pitts entered the shop for a shave and had an argument with the barber.

Before he died Pitts said that he had had trouble with the barber several times. When he climbed into the chair and asked for a shave, he said the barber began hacking his throat with a razor.

Employes of the hotel said they found Pitts bleeding beside the chair.

POSSE ON TRAIL OF BAND OF YEGGMEN

Sheriff Frank Barnet is at the head of a posse of deputies who are today searching the county for a band of yeggmen who last night forced an entrance to a general store conducted by John Correia at Hayward and carted away merchandise valued at $1000. The thieves are believed to be members of a band of roaming criminals which has entered and robbed scores of stores throughout the central part of the state during the past six months.

The authorities are also seeking a "fence" where the thieves are believed to be disposing of all the loot which they have procured in their wholesale robberies.

The merchandise stolen by the band since it has been operating in this part of the state is valued at several thousand dollars.

ONE OF TEN.

Last night's burglary is the last of about ten which have been committed in the smaller towns in the eastern end of the county January of this year. All are believed by Barnet to have been committed by members of the same band. Three Mexicans now under arrest in Martinez are believed to have been identified with the thieves operating here.

It is estimated that at least five men were concerned in the Correia burglary, as the loot was all removed in suit cases and sacks. Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares, who made the first investigation, says that no wagon or other vehicle was used. Five dozen pairs of shoes formed a part of the booty.

Dodd's Men Fight Desperate Battle

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, April 29, by motor courier to Columbus, N. M., May 3.—There was man-to-man fighting and some of the Americans went up the mountain side with knives in their teeth during Colonel George A. Dodd's battle against Villistas on April 22 at Temochic.

"It was the devil's own playgrounds." This was Colonel Dodd's description of the terrain of this battle in Southwestern Chihuahua, among towering mountains, where 150 bandits sought refuge.

For two hours Dodd's troops of the Seventh Cavalry, E, H, I and L, fought from an immense hollow, with bandits on three sides, charging deliberately over marked ground with bullet puffs in the dust all about their feet, where the Mexicans had their exact range. They accounted for at least fifty bandits killed or wounded, against an American loss of two dead and three wounded. One Mexican woman was wounded by the bandits.

$25,000 Damage Case Up for Retrial

A jury is being chosen in Judge T. W. Harris' court today to retry the damage case filed by Mrs. Margaret G. Riley of Berkeley against the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways, who wants $25,000 for the death of her husband, Benjamin F. Riley, who was killed by a Key Route train at Sixtieth street and Ashby avenue on Thanksgiving day, 1914. At the first trial the jury disagreed, being discharged when eight members desired to render a verdict for the plaintiff and four favored a verdict for the defendant corporation.

UNKNOWN IS SUICIDE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Preempting a vacant room in a lodging house at 691 Broadway, an unidentified man last night turned on the gas, and was found dead this morning. There is no clew to his identity. The police are investigating.

the fact of murder. Three others were taken into custody early today and placed in jail.

A note alleged to have been found in Hall's possession read: "Five killed, fourteen injured. Phone McNamara to meet M——." The corner of the note was torn off and apparently the letter "E" was missing after the "M," the coroner said. Hall refused to tell who "McNamara" was.

In a full page newspaper advertisement this morning addressed to the people of Pittsburg, the Pittsburg Street Railways Company announces that by the terms of the settlement of the street car strike yesterday that the pay-roll of $2,500,000 is increased by $500,000, which the company is unable to meet from its earnings, and it is proposed to increase street car fares. Notice is served on the Pittsburg council that immediate steps will be taken to this end. It is proposed to double the fare charged after midnight, making it 10 cents.

RIOT IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Several hundred striking employes of the International Harvester Company today stormed the tractor plant on the West Side. A riot call was sent in by the police. The strikers were driven back within a short time. Two men were reported injured.

ORDER 30,000 OUT.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Orders for a strike of 30,000 garment workers were posted in 2000 factories here today. The workers were directed by the union officials to quit the shops at 11 a. m. The strikers will join the 3000 other garment workers already locked out from 409 factories.

Five thousand pickets have been selected for duty in front of the factories. The union officials announced that they had received word that most of the independent cloak and suit manufacturers were willing to grant all the demands of the strikers as soon as the strike went into effect and the demands were formulated.

Benjamin Schlessinger, president of the International Union, said the union was not yet ready to make public its demands. The lockout, which took place several days ago, was put into effect, the manufacturers said, to prevent the unions from dictating who should be employed in the garment factories.

WHARVES ARE CLOGGED.

Steamship piers are piled high with freight which cannot move, and fifty steamers lie at anchor in the harbor today unable to reach the wharves because of the strike of marine engineers, which has tied up 450 tugboats, composing about 75 per cent of the craft engaged in such service in New York harbor.

The only relief on this, the third day of the tie-up, was afforded by the action of some of the railroad companies in acceding to the demands of the engineers. Among them was the Lehigh Valley Railroad, whose tugs are in operation today, together with those of the New York Central and New York, New Haven and Hartford roads.

Owners of about thirty other tugboats also have yielded to the demands of the men. Other companies declined to pay the increase in wages. With the expected arrival today of the steamships Tuscania, Espagne, United States and many steamers from Central American and coastwise ports, a further increase of the congestion of freight is foreseen.

The situation was aggravated by small strikes of longshoremen at some of the piers and by the intimation that a general strike of 40,000 longshoremen might be called to support that of the engineers.

DEMANDS REFUSED.

The demands of telegraphers and signal men on the lines of the New York Central and Nickel Plate Railroads for increased wages and better hours will not be granted, it was announced here today by A. T. Hardin, a vice-president of the New York Central.

A strike which, according to the employes, would involve 5000 men, had been set to begin tomorrow, but H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, said totday that reasonable time would be granted the railroad officials to give further consideration to the demands.

PREDICT PEACE.

LONG BEACH, May 3.—A settlement of the shipbuilders' strike was predicted within a week by labor leaders here today. Three government submarines of the new U-boat type are in course of construction at the California Shipbuilding yards here, where work has been suspended through the strike. Three hundred and thirty-two men are out.

North End Gang Ransacks Residence

Burglars entered the home of G. S. More, 6322 Colby street, through a rear window, last night and looted the place, taking coin and jewelry amounting to $151. The police believe the burglary was committed by the gang operating in North Oakland for the past week.

Mrs. Louis Gunsberg, 681 Harrison street, reported an attempt at burglary at her home. The thieves were frightened away before they gained entrance.

While moving from 2335 Seventeenth street to 2110 Montana street, O. L. Smith was robbed of a bureau and four bureau drawers and their contents, according to his complaint to the police today.

YOUNG HUSBAND SUED.

Noel Coates, son of the chief operator of the Western Union Telegraph Company, was arraigned today in the local police court on a charge of failure to provide for his minor child. Three years ago Coates married Miss Marie Selers, who was only 14 years old at the time. They were divorced a year later, after several stormy sessions of the court. Coates is 21 years of age. The case was continued for hearing.

WILL RENEW PROTEST.

Property owners in West Oakland who feel they have been financially injured by the action of the city council in limiting the wholesale produce merchants to the district south of Seventh street and east of Broadway, plan to hold a meeting on May 9 to discuss the situation, and plan to carry the matter again before the city council.

DREADFUL COUGH CURED.

"Following an attack of pneumonia I had four years ago, I had a dreadful cough that hung on for months," writes Mrs. Owen Caruthers, Wabash, Ind. "I lost in weight and became alarmed about my condition. I doctored with a number of remedies without benefit until taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It helped me almost immediately and by taking one bottle of it I was cured." For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

"MOLLY MAKE-BELIEVE"

Merchants' Exchange Endorses Exhibit Plan

Endorsement was given by the Merchants' Exchange last night to the county fair to be held at Chico on May 22. Secretary Wilber Walker, who with Theo. Gier and Harry Williams, also of the Exchange, are members of the Alameda county exposition committee, said that much business had been received from that section in Oakland and Fred Parsons informed the members that Oakland was now in a position to secure much of the trade from Chico and the surrounding territory.

Added impetus to the coming membership campaign of the exchange was given at the meeing last night. M. B. Morrison, chairman of committee, said that the city would be laid out into districts with a general chairman in charge, assisted by six vice-chairmen and district deputies.

Included in the membership committee are M. B. Morrison, chairman; W. J. Sears, H. E. Cornell, L. G. Bonzagni, William Ellis, E. F. Muller, E. O. Meysel and the officers of the exchange, President Harry G. Williams, Vice-President E. L. Vander Naillen, Secretary Wilber Walker and Treasurer J. C. Downey.

Upon the motion of Director W. P. Hook, a committee composed of Hook, H. E. Cornell and Wilber Walker was appointed to confer with Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Jackson to devise ways of enforcing ordinance on speding of automobiles and motorcycles.

Men Flayed for Over Fondness for Liquor

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—"Any man who drinks a pint of liquor a day is cruel to the wife who looks on protesting and helpless," said Superior Judge Graham this morning, in granting a divorce to Ruth M. Mosley, 1090 Bush street, from Harry Mosley. The wife testified to Mosley's fondness for his regular toddy.

Banks Must Tell Of Foreign Loans

Comptroller of Currency Issues Statement

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The comptroller of the currency has taken steps to ascertain to what extent American banks have financed European nations at war.

Revised blanks, mailed yesterday to all members of the federal reserve system to be used in the next bank call, require each bank to report the amount of bonds, obligations or acceptances of foreign governments it holds under the following subdivisions:

Anglo-French bonds (part of $500,000,000 issue).

Other English, French, Russian or Italian securities.

German, Austrian or Turkish securities.

Securities of South American governments.

Securities of other foreign governments.

Other foreign bonds and securities.

This information never before has been sought. It is to be asked in order to provide accurate information and to dispose of guesses and reports that are believed to have placed the total sum loaned on foreign securities far in excess of the real amount.

The blanks provide for no distinction between amounts lent prior to the war and thereafter. Whatever foreign securities are now held by banks in this country will, therefore, be reported in totals, irrespective of the date of issue.

"Burnt Cork" Bandit Is Girl Footpad

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—The burnt cork bandit has made her appearance. With her was a well dressed young man.

They walked up to George Clark and asked for a match. Clark hesitated as he saw the odd combination of a white man with a woman who appeared to be a negress. Then he reached down and got a match. As his hand disappeared in a pocket the man grabbed him and forced him into a basement stairway. There the woman went through his pockets and extracted $115, while the man held him. Clark fought vigorously and several times slapped the woman. Later he discovered streaks of lamp black on his fingers.

Howard Healey and Frank Miller, alleged pickpockets, were arrested today at First and Broadway by Patrolman George Caveney and will be charged with grand larceny for the alleged theft of a purse containing $40 from E. A. May, 2454 Roosevelt street, Berkeley. Both men were known to the police.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Digestion is largely a mechanical process. When there are stomach troubles there is usually a weakness of the muscles upon which digestion so largely depends. To strengthen these muscles and overcome stomach troubles our druggists, The Owl Drug Co., guarantee Vinol, a reliable nonsecret remedy, which contains iron to purify and enrich the blood, the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, and the nourishing properties of beef peptone, all combined in a delicious native wine. If you are suffering from stomach trouble, it will pay you to try it.

P. S.—In your own town wherever you live there is a Vinol drug store. Look for the sign.—Advertisement.

DANIELS SAYS HE COURTS A PROBE

Asks Fiske Letter Be Put in Record; Charges "Sniping" Method.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske's letter to the Senate taking issue with Secretary Daniels for the latter's statement that he never had been furnished a copy of Admiral Fiske's letter warning the department of the unprepared state of the navy in 1914, was made public today by Chairman Tillman of the naval committee. In submitting the letter Senator Tillman declared Secretary Daniels courted investigation if one was demanded.

"The secretary of the navy has nothing to conceal and courts an investigation if one is demanded," said Senator Tillman. "Neither he nor his friends here like this kind of sniping or guerilla warfare. Therefore I content myself with asking that Fiske's letter to the Vice-President be published in the Record so all may judge how little there really is to his utterances, except malice and wounded vanity. Disappointed ambition, too, has had much to do with his conduct. He has brooded over what he supposes to be his wrongs until he seems to be obsessed and I really feel sorry for him."

Senator Lodge, defending Admiral Fiske, said he thought an injustice had been done the naval officer. "The secretary of the navy has seen fit on several occasions," he said, "to attack Admiral Fiske. Admiral Fiske is an officer of the highest rank. He has had an unblemished career in the navy. He has engaged in no guerrila warfare, but has only the desire that is the right of every honest man to protect his own reputation."

In his letter Admiral Fiske referred to Secretary Daniels' statement to the Senate saying he had never been furnished a copy of the Fiske unpreparedness letter and expressing great surprise to learn that such a communication had been filed. Admiral Fiske wrote:

"This statement constituted an accusation against me for a grave breach of official propriety—in fact, of actual underhandedness, of an attempt to conceal an important letter from the Secretary while, as a matter of fact, I was always scrupulously careful never to permit him to receive or to remain under any mistaken impression or to be in ignorance of any important matter, if I could prevent it."

Train Hits Auto; 2 Men Are Killed

WATSONVILLE, May 3.—T. J. Albright and A. L. Schultze, automobile dealers of Santa Cruz and Watsonville respectively, were killed near Vega station yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by the southbound Del Monte express.

Their machine was ground under the wheels of the engine. Albright was instantly killed, being thrown nearly 100 feet from the track. Schultze died at the Watsonville hospital.

Albright, who had lived many years in Watsonville and was once chief of police, was one of the backers of the Three-C League.

The Del Monte express also killed an unidentified man who was walking on the tracks near San Mateo.

FORT BRAGG, May 3.—Emil Snugg, a business man of this place, was killed when his car overturned on the Navarro Ridge road, 35 miles south of Fort Bragg, early yesterday morning. Four friends escaped death when the car was stopped at the edge of a 300-foot cliff.

Police Wreck Store in Search of Liquors

SEATTLE, Wash., May 3.—A squad of policemen, searching for liquor, wrecked the interior of the Stewart Street Pharmacy last night, doing damage estimated at $3500. Show cases, soda fountain, fixtures, plate glass mirrors and other fittings were broken and chopped into bits by the policemen's axes.

No liquor was found in the store, but the search revealed two empty barrels, the inside of which, the police said, still were wet with whisky. The raid was made after a policeman arrested J. C. Wilson and Stanley G. Smith, who were sitting in an automobile in front of the store. One hundred and twenty-four quarts of beer found in the tonneau of the car were confiscated.

W. M. Hazlett, who said he bought the store from Logan Billingsley April 13 last, said after the raid that he would sue the city because of the damage done by the police.

Criticism of Colonel a Proof of Sanity?

NEW YORK, May 3.—The fact that A. F. Eno, who left a $15,000,000 estate, regarded Colonel Roosevelt as "unsafe and a demagogue," and thought woman suffrage "a fool thing," will be cited as evidence of his sanity at the coming Eno will contest.

This evidence will be offered to contradict the contention of Amos F. and Gifford Pinchot, two of Colonel Roosevelt's enthusiastic admirers, in their fight to break the will left by Eno, their uncle.

The testator left about half of his estate to Columbia University as residuary legatee. The Pinchot brothers and other next of kin alleged he was incompetent.

New Planet Is Found by Swedish Scientist

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 3.—The discovery of a planet by Dr. Wolf of Koenigstuhl is announced in a cablegram received at the Harvard College Observatory from Copenhagen. The object, which had a cometary appearance, had a daily motion of minus 32 seconds in right ascension and plus five minutes in declination and was visible through a large telescope. Its position as observed on April 17, .4124 Greenwich mean time, was right ascension 12 hours 40M 16S, and declination plus 2 degrees 24M.

EEL SPEARER SUED.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., May 3.—The South Side Sporting Club has brought action in the Supreme Court to restrain John Loucks from spearing eels in the Connetquott river. It is said that the suit was instituted at the request of William K. Vanderbilt Sr., owner of the Idle Hour estate at Oakdale. The stream is stocked with trout and sportsmen charge that the spearing disturbs the fish.

FORETHOUGHT.

People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance: E. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, writes: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since we commenced keeping house years ago. When we go on an extended visit we take it with us."—For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

Leaps to Death From Bridge to Pavement

SEATTLE, May 3.—Before the passengers from a passing street car could interfere, a young man believed to be Bert Roche or W. S. Breen, a ranch hand, 21 years old, leaped from the railing of the Dearborn street bridge late yesterday afternoon and was dashed to death on the pavement 150 feet below. Just as a Beacon Hill street car was approaching, Roche climbed to the railing of the bridge, which carries Twelfth avenue over Dearborn street, stood upright for a moment and then plunged head foremost to the street below, striking on his head a few feet from two pedestrians. In his pocket was a hospital record card made out in the name of Bert Roche, but his coat was marked W. S. Breen, which the coroner believed was his real name.

ALARM SCARES ROBBER.

FREEPORT, L. I., May 3.—The fire alarm whistle sounded at midnight routed out a burglar who had gained entrance to the home of Alfred R. Bryce. The whistle aroused Bryce, who got downstairs in time to see a man leaving through a porch window which had been pried open. Nothing was taken from the place.

Mawson Will Attempt to Rescue Explorer

NEW YORK, May 3.—Sir Douglas Mawson, the Antarctic explorer, who recently arrived in the United States from Australia, sailed from this city yesterday on the steamship Orduna for Liverpool. Sir Douglas said that when he reached London he would offer his services to an expedition for the relief of Lieutenant Sir Ernest H. Shackleton if such an expedition were organized.

His direct mission to London, however, he said, was in connection with war work he has been conducting in Australia.

"I have been urging universal service in Australia," Sir Douglas said, "but I must say Australia has done nobly. She has sent to the front already about 250,000 men."

The Orduna carried 350 passengers, of whom twenty-two were Americans.

Returns on the Progressive and Democratic tickets are slow, little interest in them being manifested owing to the fact that there was no contest in either party.

PROGRESSIVES VOTE LIGHT.

The Progressive vote was negligible. In San Francisco only about 1000 Bull Moosers voted their party ticket. This may be explained to a degree. Many Progressives, pursuant to the public request of Governor Johnson, supported the United Republican ticket. That, however, does not account entirely for the dwindling of the Mooser vote, which was overwhelming at the last general election.

Governor Johnson, while registered as a Progressive, gave his support to the United Republican ticket in a public statement and his influence undeniably helped materially to swell the vote given to the United candidates for delegate.

The fight between the two Republican factions, despite the efforts of some of the leaders on both sides, early developed into a pro-Johnson and anti-Johnson affair.

The selection of the United ticket delegates was accomplished by a group of especially invited men under the leadership of Guy C. Earl, and was dictated by Governor Johnson. The Regular Republican delegates were named by a representative convention of Republican County Central Committeemen from all parts of the State, acting with the Republican State Central Committee.

With no contest in the Democratic forces a large number of Bourbons in San Francisco and in other districts yesterday asked for Republican ballots.

Santa Barbara is claimed by the United people.

San Mateo and Santa Cruz appear to have supported the Regulars.

Registrar Zemansky of San Francisco ordered the ballots voted straight counted first. That makes it impossible to guess what the result of widespread scratching of the two opposing Republican tickets will be.

Compilations indicate that the Regulars have carried the following counties: San Francisco, Alameda, Butte, Calaveras, Colusa, Contra Costa, Del Norte, El Dorado, Fresno, Glenn, Humboldt, Kern, Kings, Lake, Lassen Los Angeles, Marin, Mendocino, Merced, Mono, Monterey, Napa, Orange, Riverside, Sacramento, San Benito, San Bernardino, San Diego, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sonoma and Sutter.

This estimate is based solely on incomplete returns on the Bordwell and Chapman and Bulla and Collier vote. The only counties which available figures show went for the United ticket are: Imperial, Solano, Santa Barbara, San Joaquin and Madera.

The total straight Democratic vote in 2270 precincts out of 4351 in the State was 23,559.

In San Francisco 362 out of 370 precincts gave 19,764 for Bordwell; 20,207 for Frank Keesling, 19,563 for Chapman of the Regulars and 13,727 for Bulla, 12,399 for Collier and 13,681 for Supervisor James Power of the United ticket.

The total vote cast in San Francisco will be about 50,000 out of a registration of 118,900, according to Registrar Zemansky. That falls 20,000 short of Zemansky's prediction.

The Los Angeles vote was a surprise even to the most confident Regulars. Eighty thousand votes were polled. Complete returns from 251 precincts show that Bordwell topped Bulla by 7526 to 5341.

In selecting the names of Bordwell and Bulla for purposes of comparative tabulation, the registrars throughout the State chose the leading aspirants for delegate-at-large on each ticket.

Governor Johnson's precinct in San Francisco was won by the Keesling faction.

Meager figures from Southern California points, where the influence of the Governor and E. T. Earl, brother of Guy C. Earl, leader of the United forces, was expected to materially decrease the vote for the Regulars, indicate a triumph for the regulars.

Generally San Joaquin valley points, with the exception of Stockton, supported the regular ticket.

MUST SELECT ALTERNATES.

It is now the duty of the elected delegates to meet and select, by such method as they may agree upon, alternates to serve in the event that any elected delegate is unable to attend the convention. Section 5 of the Presidential Primary Act of this State provides as follows:

"The delegates to each national party convention elected at the May presidential primary election shall, before leaving the State to attend the convention, meet together and select alternates to the convention. The number of alternates to be selected shall be no greater than one for each delegate, and each alternate must be selected from the congressional district of the delegate for whom he is an alternate, and the method of selection shall be determined by the majority of the whole number of delegates who have been elected to the convention."

Regular Republicans carried the "solid south" in all counties south of the Tehachapi, partly complete returns indicated this morning.

With 30 per cent of the registered vote cast, Los Angeles county regulars were leading one and one-half to one over the united faction.

Complete count in 428 precincts gave Bordwell 12,716 and Bulla 3560. San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside and Ventura went to the regulars. Orange went regular 2 to 1, it was estimated.

No count of the Democratic or Progressive vote is being made in Los Angeles this morning. Regulars also carried San Diego county by 3 to 1.

40,000 MAJORITY CLAIMED.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Basing his statement on returns from more than half the precincts of the state, Francis V. Keesling, chairman of the Republican State Committee, claimed today that the regular G. O. P. delegates to the Chicago convention had been elected over the United Republican candidates by a plurality of more than 40,000.

With slightly more than half of the vote tabulated, the United Republicans claimed a lead in Fresno, Stanislaus, Sacramento, Riverside, San Joaquin, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties. The other counties were claimed by the regulars.

The united forces this morning had not admitted defeat. They conceded that they had lost in San Francisco county, but looked for a gain in other districts.

United candidates were pledged to join with the Progressives, if the occasion presented, to support a "forward-looking candidate." They had the support of Governor Johnson. The "regulars" are unpledged.

A good Democratic vote was cast, but there was little excitement in that party's election as all candidates were pledged to President Wilson. The Progressive vote was rather small as there was no contest.

Women did not go to the polls in large numbers in San Francisco. In this city, according to Registrar Zemansky, a total vote of about 50,000 was cast out of a registration of 113,900. This fell short of estimates.

While no complete official returns have been tabulated, the following figures show how the ballots were cast in 370 districts of San Francisco:

United Republicans—Bulla 14,032, Anderson 14,645, Strong 13,120, Powers 13,992, Boude 11,820, Crail 11,828, Collier 12,675.

Regular Republicans — Bordwell 20,232, Cole 18,177, Krebs 18,195, Keesling 20,679, Crocker 21,176, Ackerman 19,500, Chapman 20,020.

DELEGATES FAVOR HUGHES

CANVASS SHOWS SENTIMENT

The California delegation to the National Republican Convention, selected at yesterday's preferential primary, is friendly to the candidacy of Justice Charles E. Hughes. While the members of the delegation have not pledged themselves in any way to support any candidate, a poll of the delegates conducted by The TRIBUNE shows that Hughes is favorably looked upon.

The result of The TRIBUNE'S poll last week showed the following as viewing Mr. Hughes as acceptable as a Presidential candidate:

Hayes, Hochheimer, Lancaster, McDonald, Clinch, Veale, Gibson, Carlston, Berendsen, Keesling, Cole and Crosby—12.

The following delegates replied that they felt it unnecessary to answer the question regarding Mr. Hughes' availability because of the instruction of the state convention that the delegation go to Chicago unpledged:

Bordwell, Britt, Mott, Chapman, Lostutter, Mushet, Cressey, Crocker, Clayton, Castle, Russell, Akerman—12.

There is no opposition to Hughes within the delegation.

The attitude of the delegates regarding Mr. Hughes' candidacy became known through publication of The TRIBUNE'S poll. The "United," or hydro-electric, ticket was openly for Roosevelt, its sponsor, Governor Johnson, having declared in favor of the Colonel, and urged Progressive support to the ticket on the ground it was favorable to Roosevelt.

It is accepted that to an appreciable extent the primary was a test of Hughes sentiment over Roosevelt sentiment, and that the Colonel has lost again through the acts of his friends, as he did in Massachusetts. The dragging in of the Colonel's name was against his wishes. He has repeatedly declared that he was opposed to factional fights in the Republican party and has refused to give authority for the use of his name in such strife.

It is not believed, however, that the action of the hydro-electric sponsors and the result of the primary will in any way prejudice the Republican delegation against Colonel Roosevelt in the event conditions should arise to make the Republicans in the national convention feel that his nomination was advisable.

U. S. DEFRAUDED OF $320,000,000?

McAdoo Asked to Give Congress Report on Alleged Income Tax Frauds.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Secretary McAdoo is directed to furnish Congress with a statement showing whether $320,000,000 is being annually withheld from the treasury by income tax frauds and evasions, in a resolution offered in the House today by Representative Keating of Colorado. McAdoo is asked why he has not recommended to the President that all income tax returns be made public in order that fraud may be checked. Keating said he based his resolution on the charges made by Basil M. Manly, chief investigator of the Industrial Relations Commission.

Manly, in a published statement, declared that more than $400,000,000 should be received annually instead of $80,000,000 actually collected. The resolution asks whether:

Fifteen billion dollars was paid in wages and salaries during 1914, $500,000,000 being paid to men receiving $3000 a year or more; whether more than $300,000,000 yearly above the $3000 exemption is received as income from fees; whether $20,000,000 is received as income from ownership of property and the conduct of business above the $3000 exemption; whether incomes received by persons subject to income tax total $20,860,000, and whether, with all proper deductions, the figure should be $14,500,000.

In introducing his resolution Keating said:

"You may discount Manly's charges 50 per cent and still have a sum which makes all other frauds heretofore perpetrated seem insignificant. Three hundred and twenty million dollars represents the income of 600,000 workingmen who have labored every day in the year. The nation's pension rolls are enormous, but the sum which Manly says the millionaires of this country steal yearly could pay it twice over."

Community Orchestra Will Give Concert

In a program of operatic numbers and marches the Community Orchestra will demonstrate this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Technical High School auditorium what progress has recently been made by this body of non-professional players. The concert is to illustrate one of the ideas of the director of music in the Oakland schools, Glenn Woods.

"I have great hopes of this orchestra," he explained, "it gives scope for the activities of people musically inclined, but not in the ranks of professionals. We have need for such intellectual outlets, and the more people hear and realize how excellent is the work being done, the greater the development of the enterprise."

It is into this orchestra that many of the players now in the school orchestras will pour their talents on leaving school. The players will be assisted by several soloists including Herman Trutner, violinist and head of the bands in the schools; Hugh Williams, tenor; Miss Grace Gantt, pianist and Charles Frisble, cellist.

ALAMEDA GOES IN RANKS OF G. O. P.

Voters Give Strong Support to Regular Ticket in This District.

From every present indication Alameda county will return to her former position as the banner Republican county of the State of California. At the county clerk's office the staff of deputies is at work compiling the vote cast yesterday for delegates to the National Republic Convention, and up to this afternoon it appears that in 397 complete precincts out of 411, the following figures are final: Bulla, 11,525; Collier, 10,822; Bordwell, 18,779; Chapman, 18,551. Progressive—Bull, 1918. Democratic—Straight, 6717.

The Progressive vote dwindled to a mere 1903, while the Democrats cast 6561 in the 389 precincts tabulated. While these parties had no contest, it was thought that the United group, fostered here by lieutenants of the state administration, would make a much better showing.

H. D. Perry, assistant secretary of the County Republican Central Committee, issued the following:

"The splendid vote cast for the regular Republican delegates Tuesday by the voters of Alameda county is a most gratifying one. It leaves no doubt in the minds of those who have followed the political situation closely in the past ten years, more particularly in the past two years, that the voters of this county, as well as of the state, firmly believe in fair play.

"The Republican delegates will go to the Chicago convention with the full confidence of the Republican voters of this state, and it is up to us to at this time continue on with our good work for a splendid Republican victory next November. Further, it is a most gratifying one that Alameda county is again back in the Republican column.

"I take this means to express to the workers and voters of this county and to The OAKLAND TRIBUNE, on behalf of the County Central Committee our appreciation and thanks."

Alameda Boosts Regular Figure

ALAMEDA, May 3.—Alameda city did its full share yesterday in the overwhelming regular Republican victory in the state at large. This city went almost three to one in favor of the regular ticket. Scarcely a single precinct did not return at least a two-to-one victory for the regulars. East End, West End, North Side, South Side, it was practically all the same. The figures came rolling in to the Republican committee headquarters in a solid wave of Republican victory.

There are undoubtedly many wise ones today who foresaw it all but most of the modest-minded regulars will admit they are quite as much surprised as the Johnson forces over the wonderful statewide showing the regulars made. There were doubting Thomasses in this city yesterday who said it looked bad for the regulars. They hoped Alameda city, at least, would boost the regular ticket to the top, but their gloomy air almost belied their expressed hope.

One of the most pleased men in Alameda was Judge A. F. St. Sure, Republican state committeeman, who organized a little coterie of Alameda Republicans a few days before election and who was instrumental in opening the headquarters on Santa Clara avenue. This small bunch of workers telephoned and canvassed friends to get out and vote. Yesterday a few machines were used for a portion of the day. While the returns showed an easy victory, the effective work the Republicans did was undoubtedly a factor in increasing this city's vote to practically a unanimous endorsement of the regular party.

PRECINCT FOUR BEST.

Probably the best precinct showing in Alameda was in precinct 4, with a total of 132 votes. The regulars carried this precinct by over four to one; in fact, almost four and a half to one. The highest regular vote in No. 4 was 89 and the highest Hydro-Electric vote was 20. There were 13 Democrats and 3 Progressives. Miss Marguerite Ogden led the Hydros, both she and Mose Gunst receiving 20 votes.

In Precinct 8 the regulars polled 65 votes to the opposition's 30.

About the best showing the Hydro-Electrics made in the 42 Alameda precincts was in Precinct 7, at the corner of San Jose avenue and Pearl street, where the vote stood: Regulars 23, hydros 12.

The redistricting of the city caused a large amount of confusion in precinct registration. Early in the day the county clerk's office gave up the idea of issuing certificates of wrongful assignment of precinct and announced it would notify all inspectors to let persons vote who were properly registered outside of precinct restrictions. The clerk's office, however, failed to notify a good many election boards and later in the day representatives from the clerk's office visited the polling places and said that voters should be in the precincts in which they were registered in order to vote.

LAW BEYOND CONTROL.

The ever-growing election law has apparently now gotten beyond all control and comprehension. In some precincts the voters were compelled to sign their party affiliations on the roster of voters and in other precincts they could sign or not. Those election boards were strictest in their efforts to follow the very letter of the law probably committed more technical offenses than those boards who used common sense mostly and the election law occasionally.

The clerk's office itself violated the laws that a copy of the register be enclosed with the election returns. The clerk's office sent deputies to notify inspectors to leave the registers out for use at later elections. The law's provisions that a voter voting a primary ballot yesterday pledged himself or herself to support the same ticket in November, was kept a profound secret in many precincts in order to facilitate progress and stop endless objections and jangling. In other cases voters found out this weird provision and loudly howled, some turning away from the polls without voting.

Returns from the forty-two precincts in Alameda give the following estimated averages. Vote cast, 4283; regular Republican ticket, 2540; Hydro-Electrics, 942; Democratic, 528; Progressive, 133.

U. S. Will Lead Way, Says Secretary Baker

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Secretary Baker today, in speaking of the negotiations that would be undertaken with workmen of the Rock Island (Ill.) arsenal seeking a higher wage scale, expressed his belief that the government should lead the way as an employer and pay more than the usual wage scale.

"The government," said the Secretary, "should be an industrial leader offering the employes better wages and working conditions than private employers."

Endorsement of Hughes in Michigan Probable

LANSING, Mich., May 3.—Conditional endorsement of Justice Hughes for President was in prospect here today when Michigan Republicans assembled in their state convention. The movement sprang up unexpectedly overnight.

STATEMENTS OF LEADERS

STATE IS CONGRATULATED

By RALPH HATHORN.

Manager of the Regular Republican Campaign.

I want to begin by congratulating The OAKLAND TRIBUNE and the Alameda County Committee through The TRIBUNE for its splendid work in rolling up such a tremendous majority for the Republican ticket. The result was just as we figured and counted on. California has come into its own. We are now in a position to ask for California that which we are justly entitled to. We are now going forward with the Republican party in this state rejuvenated and rehabilitated. We are going to get California upon a rational basis and into the rational column in state matters as well as in national affairs. We are going to make progress all along the line. Nothing can stop us now.

I predicted success and I was hoping for a landslide. Naturally I am cheered and heartened by the result and I believe that California will now take her rightful place among the Republican states of the Union.

A cheerful welcome within our ranks awaits all Republicans, of whatever faction in the state, as well as the Progressives, to come back home and join with us in making certain the victory over our Democratic adversaries in November next. I congratulate California. I congratulate her citizens. I believe that we have achieved a great and lasting triumph.

By FRANCIS V. KEESLING.

Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

In 1910 the Republican electors voted to eliminate certain unscrupulous leaders from the party. It was a rebuff to individuals, and not a rejection of party principle. The candidate who was successful misinterpreted all this, and not only departed from Republican doctrines and principles, and otherwise made direct effort to injure it, but set up in place of the old regime a new one with infinitely more vicious possibilities. These individuals continued successful, due to the fact that certain old organizations, and political job chasers, continued to inject themselves into Republican party councils, and in some instances were aided and abetted by the administration, because they were vulnerable, representing as they did that which has been repeatedly repudiated by the Republican party.

The culminating misdeed for the purpose of perpetuating the machine was the effort to thrust upon the people of this state a vicious non-partisan system, and they were so persistent with this effort that they even proceeded to ignore the decree of the people by again attempting to thrust it upon them by measures enacted at the extraordinary session of the legislature. I have always been of the opinion that California is sanely Republican, that all that was needed to insure Republican success without any fads or fancies, Republicanism of a kind which recognizes only the application of common sense in governmental matters, was to present to the Republican electorate candidates who would inspire their confidence, unselfish and untainted by affiliation with the old job chasing coterie.

In the present campaign we have applied these theories and the result is very gratifying indeed. The contest has created no rupture, and the effort will be continued for harmony. It all augurs well for the success of the Republican party, not only in California, but in the nation. California is now set right in Republican councils. Consistent with our conception of the manner in which the Republican party should be governed in California, we will vigorously espouse the plan of free and open conference in the party, avoiding those who have selfish motives.

By CLINTON C. DODGE.

Chairman Alameda County Republican Committee.

For four years we have battled for the preservation of the Republican party in California, and we have lived to see the battle won. We made a clean and manly fight. The victory is all the more gratifying because we were compelled to combat the most pernicious primary law ever placed upon the statutes of any state. The Alameda County Republican Committee feels particularly proud of the representatives we chose to go to the Chicago convention from the Sixth Congressional District. Peter J. Crosby and Joseph F. Carlston are splendid types of true and forward Republicanism and may be relied upon to unite in the selection of the most available candidate for the Presidency. We congratulate the loyal Republicans of Alameda county and thank them for their loyal support.

To the Editor of The TRIBUNE—

On behalf of the Republican County Committee let me express to The TRIBUNE our sincere thanks for its splendid and earnest support of the Regular Republican ticket in the campaign which ended so decisively in favor of true Republicanism yesterday. Among the efforts that produced that result none were more potent or powerful than The TRIBUNE.

CLINTON G. DODGE.

By PETER J. CROSBY.

Delegate to the Republican National Convention.

The results of the election throughout the state are conclusive. The people understood the issue and voted to maintain the Republican party and the things the party represents. A delegation will go back to Chicago pledged to work for the greater national victory and place back in the White House a Republican administration.

The electors of California are to be congratulated in escaping the danger of confusion. The United Republican ticket was defeated because it was not bona fide. There is one Republican party in this state, and the nominees of that party, tested by every rule, have been voted for by the Republican electors. The non-partisan idea in the Golden West has been repudiated again and the long effort to divide the ranks in the interest of personal aspirations has proved an utter failure.

By JOSEPH F. CARLSTON.

Delegate to the Republican National Convention.

The result clearly indicates that the voters of California are with the Republican party. The issues of the state campaign are behind us and I am sure every loyal Republican now looks forward to a great national victory in which the party will again take over the reins of government. To that end the Regular Republican delegates have always been pledged, and I am convinced that California will give the next Republican presidential nominee a tremendous vote.

By GUY C. EARL.

Organizer of the "United Republican."

In my opinion the election of the "Regular" Republican ticket was occasioned by the intense Republican feeling in the state. People are sick and tired of the Wilson administration, and, in their desire to vote their feelings as strongly as possible they voted the "Regular" ticket.

The United Republican ticket was equally a Republican ticket and its candidates shared this intense Republican feeling, and sought to organize a majority to express by affecting a union with the Progressives in support of the Republican ticket this fall in order to avoid the split of four years ago. A divided party is a defeated party.

The intense Republican feeling augurs well for Republican victory this fall; provided wise counsel prevails at the Chicago convention, and the presidential ticket is nominated which will affect a reunion of the Progressive with the Republican.

John A. Wilson Is Damage Suit Loser

John A. Wilson, former Berkeley councilman, who recently broke a thirty-day fast to appear as a defendant in a damage suit in the Superior court, was today instructed by a jury to pay the plaintiff, R. R. Patterson, $1500. The jury, which was in Judge Harris' department of the Superior court, deliberated but a short time.

Wilson, suffering from organic trouble, a month ago announced a thirty-day fast, saying that he intended to cure his disorders through abstinence from food. When the case which had been filed against him by Patterson was called for trial he broke his fast to appear in court.

Patterson complained that he was run down and seriously injured by Wilson's automobile in April, 1915, at Shattuck avenue and Ashby street, Berkeley. He brought suit for $3350.

Boy Vandals Are to Face Punishment

A group of seven boys who broke into the Longfellow school, Apgar and Market streets, Sunday, and committed acts of vandalism, breaking eggs over tables in the domestic science room and smashing transoms and windows, has been rounded up by the police. The boys will be handled by the juvenile authorities, and their names will not be disclosed. The sons of two members of the Oakland police force were among the young vandals.

WANTED IN TACOMA.

J. C. White, arrested at the request of Captain of Inspectors W. J. Petersen by the San Bernardino police, is also wanted in Tacoma on a felony charge, it was learned today. The Oakland police hold a felony embezzlement warrant against White, but will compare notes with the Tacoma authorities as to which has the better case against the prisoner.

Action on Brandeis Is Again Delayed

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Senate judiciary committee today postponed action on the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis as associate justice of the United States Supreme Court.

FIVE COUNTIES IN UNITED COLUMN

Whole Remainder of State Is Solid for Regular Republicans.

Afternoon returns over the wire from the state generally indicated that the United Republicans had been defeated probably in every county but five. Two Mrs. Bob's in Portland at Once PORTLAND, Ore., May 3.—The former wives of Bob Fitzsimmons caused a mix-up in Portland church and theatrical circles today. Two of them will be in Portland at the same time tomorrow.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons No. 3, formerly Julia Gifford, a prima donna, is slated to appear at a vaudeville theater. Mrs. Fitzsimmons No. 4 will lecture tomorrow night at an evangelical meeting at the White Temple church.

When he saw the name Mrs. Fobert Fitzsimmons emblazoned on theatrical billboards yesterday, H. W. Stone, Bible School superintendent, telegraphed that if Mrs. Fitzsimmons No. 4 was the one who was going to appear at a theater she might just as well cancel her evangelical engagement. Mrs. Fitzsimmons No. 4 replied from San Francisco that she wasn't on the stage and hadn't been for some time.

BANISH SCROFULA

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cleanses the Blood, Skin Troubles Vanish.

Scrofula eruptions on the face and body are both annoying and disfiguring. Many a complexion would be perfect if they were not present.

This disease shows itself in other ways, as bunches in the neck, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, wasting of the muscles, a form of dyspepsia, and general debility.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine completely eradicates scrofula. It purifies and enriches the blood, removes humors, and builds up the whole system. It embodies the careful training, experience and skill of Mr. Hood, a pharmacist for fifty years, in its quality and power to cure.

Scrofula is either inherited or acquired. Better be sure you are quite free from it. Get Hood's today.—Advertisement.

What Dyspeptics Should Eat

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products should try a meal of any food or foods in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any excess acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated Magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and anti-acid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. Do not dose an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs, but get rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and note remarkable results.—Advertisement.

Clears Away Pimples

There is one remedy that seldom fails to clear away all pimples, black heads and skin eruptions and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with zemo, which generally overcomes all skin diseases. Acne, eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, black heads in most cases give way to zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is safe, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 25c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins.

Roll Boulders to Cure Habit, Says Man

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—"The surest cure for alcoholism is rolling huge boulders up hill," William H. Nicholl, probation officer of San Francisco is on record today as advocating. Nicholl is a delegate to the State Conference of Social Agencies in session here. He urged that inebriates be forced to build up their bodies. A strong physique can better withstand inclination to drink than a weaker one, he declared.

Marguerite Clark Stars in Adaptation of Famous Story

MARGUERITE CLARK.

The many thousands who have read Eleanor Hallowell Abbott's celebrated story, "Molly Make-Believe" will recognize at once that Marguerite Clark is ideally suited to play the role of the delightful little Molly, one of the most lovable little characters in fiction. Though the charming story is essentially romantic and comic in its main theme, there are some remarkably pathetic scenes and powerful dramatic incidents which combine to make this Paramount picture, which will be shown at the Oakland Photo Theater for four days commencing this afternoon, an exceptional photo-play. Molly Make-Believe is unquestionably one of the most sweetly sympathetic characters Miss Clark has ever played on the screen.

MRS. CLAY TO BE PRESIDENT AGAIN

Oakland Woman Presides Over U. D. C. Deliberations at Stockton.

STOCKTON, May 3.—The sixteenth annual convention of the California division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was called to order this morning at 9:30 o'clock by Mrs. P. C. B. Ewing, president of the local chapter, for a two-day session. Addresses of welcome were given by Mrs. Ewing and Mayor Oulahan and responses for the delegates were given by Mrs. Grantland S. Long of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. M. Munroe of Long Beach and Mrs. John Knox of Visalia.

Mrs. C. C. Clay of Oakland, the California division president, then gave her annual address and reports of the various departments were read. More than seventy-five delegates were in attendance.

An elaborate luncheon was served at noon today. A reception and ball is to be given this evening.

Election of officers will be held Thursday afternoon, and as this is Mrs. Clay's first year as president, the custom of a two-year term will undoubtedly be followed.

Pleads Continued Aid for Belgians

Miss Daisy Polk, who was prominent among the California women in London working for the war sufferers last spring, yesterday urged Ebell Society's members to remember that now, more than ever, are the Belgians in dire need—need of food, and especially of clothes.

"I think Americans are a little tired of hearing so much about the Belgians," she commented earnestly. "They don't realize that saving these people is the one big American undertaking abroad today. I have had several women say to me, 'Why give out of our own country when our charities are in such a bad way?' Not many, but several, women have said that to me.

Miss Polk lived for nearly two years in Belgium and feels especially sympathetic toward its stricken people, whose gratitude toward the United States she described in moving little stories. Later, in London, she studied under English masters of the piano, until the outbreak of hostilities interrupted her studies. She has been back almost a year, but the contrast between conditions here and abroad have not ceased to impress her.

"There is not one," she said, "who could not make little sacrifices. Realize what blessings you are already in possession of."

A Bit of Fancy Work

For Your Leisure Hours

For the trip to the country, the cozy afternoons on the home porch, or the few hours' chat over the needle with your neighbor, the bit of fancy-work is indispensable. Completed, and put away, December 24th holds no terrors, for much can be accomplished in this direction toward the Christmas gifts, and their summer making means unworried leisure later in the year.

Then, too, there are so many things to make up for the summer home: washable cushion covers, warranted to stand a splashing in the canoe or countless tumbles from the hammock—you can't have too many of these, or to make more comfortable the hickory porch chairs. Many dainty pieces of lingerie await a bit of embroidery to transform them into lovely garments.

In all the package goods, Busilla, Pacific and Royal, this section (second floor, to the left of elevator), is well stocked. All the tatting and crochet cottons, in every shade and quality, are here to meet the prevailing fancy-work craze. Free lessons given from 9 to 5 to purchasers of materials in crochet, tatting and embroidery stitches.

Wash Dresses for Morning or Afternoon Wear

HOUSE DRESSES in tub materials are the demand of the hour, and the busy housewife and mother feels hardly justified in taking time to make even the simplest, when such trim, dainty dresses can be bought at a figure that little more than covers cost of material.

Beginning with the always neat percale or gingham, carefully fashioned, with generous width of skirt, yet easily laundered, Capwells stock is replete with surprises, at prices ranging from $1.25 to $8.50.

At $2.95 is one of the prettiest French Ginghams ever shown; in itself the fabric, with its pastel-shaded stripes, is most attractive; but when one notices the fine smocking used on shoulders and cuffs, the plain color bands with button trimming, the fine edging, the garments really need nothing more to transfer them to a discriminating woman's wardrobe.

In all white, with pleated fronts, are shown some very trim gowns in poplin with white hemstitched organdy collars and cuffs. These are to be had in all sizes, as also the fine Madras dresses in new stripe effects, and a design in white Panama cloth, with a touch of color in the narrow blue bands on collar, cuffs and handkerchief pocket. A sailor-knotted tie completes a gown that would grace a canoe. These range in price from .... $2.75 to $3.50

Utility House Dresses

A favorite house dress with women because it does double service and saves laundry bills. The front of the dress is interchangeable. It is easy to slip on, is made of fine quality ginghams and percales and looks very neat and attractive .... $1.25 to $2.50

Porch Dresses

Sheer Lawn Porch Dresses in wide stripes and pretty colors for morning or afternoon wear, suitably harmonizing with the summery effect of shaded porch and afternoon tea table, are made with long sleeves, belts and pretty touches on collars. They are favorite purchases at $2.50.

Middy Blouses

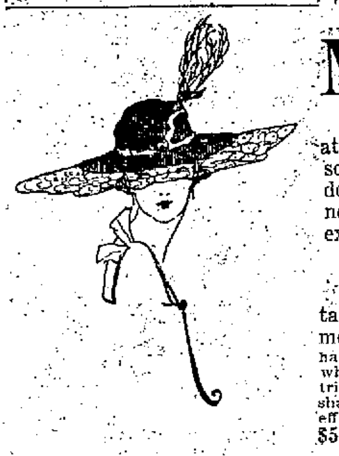
That universal feminine garment, the Middy Blouse, now holds the stage, and will continue to do so to the end of summer. All the new styles in both plain and striped effects, and in designs never before shown.

At $1.25 is the middy of striped galatea, in black and white, gray and white, blue, pink. Then there is the Panama cloth in tan, with handkerchief pocket, contrasting lacing, a chic little affair at the same low price; and a navy blue, with white braid trimming and plenty of all-white.

The awning-stripe cotton crepes in gold, tan, green and all wanted colors have the novel touch of a lacing at the side and solid-colored band around the bottom. These are $1.50.

Middies with the wide blazer stripe may be had in all colors in crepe and sateen. The cut is coat style, belted, with deep sailor collar, button-over pockets at belt, collar, cuffs and pocket revers in stitched white. An orange and black, elbow-sleeve middy is striking and has all the accessories mentioned above. Price—$1.95.

Fine Pongee Silk Middies $3.95
White Japanese Silk Middies $3.50



Millinery of Latest Style

Never was a season known when hats were so universally becoming. The more elaborately trimmed hats head the list, closely followed by the Panama, the sport hats and those somewhat futurist affairs that are at once an artist's delight and a conservative woman's doubt. CAPWELLS Millinery Department is receiving daily consignments of everything needed for town or country wear; shapes and trimming so varied that individual fancy finds exactly its needs. The amazingly low prices sell these hats at sight.

Black and White Hats

This black-and-white season has certainly taken the popular fancy, and to meet it we have made up some charming hats in this Frenchy combination. For the all-white costume we have a variety of shapes and trimmings, in all white; the lighter summer shades are also represented in these wonderfully effective millinery offerings at the low prices of—$5.00, $7.95 and $8.95.

New Panama Shapes

At one time the useful Panama was only useful; its shape was confined to the one general "soft hat" effect. But now the Panama is as varied in shape as its sisters of hemp, mohair, Milan, leghorn. We are showing hundreds of these becoming hats in the many different styles adaptable for all occasions—motoring, sports, shopping, seaside, mountains, traveling—and the values are really extraordinary when you consider the grade of Panama offered. Prices—$1.95, $2.95, $3.95 and $4.95.

Entirely New Sport Hats

In this line we are not showing the usual floppy head covering, but especially designed sport hats of novelty materials, something with a touch of individuality on it that is the quest of the fashionable woman. Many are in white, others in plain one-color, and still others in daring color combinations. Made to our order for summer wear. Without question the largest and most comprehensive sport hats department in any of the bay cities. Prices—$1.95, $2.95, $3.95 and up.

Model Hat Sale

Now in progress is the semi-annual sale of our Model Hats at half and nearly half prices for the finest hats. Do not think that these hats have lost their freshness by handling; they show no decrease in their first striking beauty of materials and lines. Prices—$11.95 and $15.95.

Society Women to Aid in Special Events

Who wants a real live healthy baby to take home? The infant will be awarded to the person holding the winning number next Saturday evening at the Pacific Coast Motor Power Show, being held at the Oakland Auditorium. Every person attending will have the opportunity of becoming the owner of this five-weeks-old infant, the numbers to be drawn by a Red Cross nurse, who will be in attendance. If the person holding the lucky coupon does not wish to accept the prize another number will be drawn until the claimant comes forward. He will then be required to sign an agreement that he will bring the baby up to conform to his means and give it every opportunity. The committee in charge of this contest has had adoption papers drawn up and all legal requirements have been filled.

Tonight will be baseball fans' day at the power show. The members of the San Francisco and Oakland clubs will be the guests of honor and a big program is to be given in their honor. This afternoon was Richmond and Contra Costa county, California good roads and Alameda county day. Lectures illustrated with moving pictures were shown upon good roads conditions and special demonstrations by the tractors and good roads making machinery in the annex building were demonstrated. A feature this afternoon was the large attendance of women. They have taken over the afternoons and the hundreds of exhibitors vie to explain and demonstrate the woderful assortment of power machinery and automobiles on display. Arnot and Presley, representing the Pathfinder car, have announced the sale of three roadsters and a seven passenger car since the opening of the sale. SACRAMENTO DEALERS.

Tonight has also been set aside for the Sacramento automobile deals and the Alameda county lodges of Eagles. Following a big program in the arena and the annex, a dance will be given every evening in the auditorium ballroom. The entertaining program given every evening by the regular vaudeville performers and the extra features put on by the visiting organizations has made the big exposition a place of merriment as well as instruction and Oakland never before has shown the holiday spirit displayed since the opening of the show.

The cups for the best decorated and illuminated motor vehicles in the big parade with which the show was opened last Wednesday night have been awarded by P. S. Cole, chairman of the executive committee, and Advisory Director H. W. Buckley. The first cup went to the Oakland fire department for the aerial truck, the only one west of Chicago. It is a combination aerial ladder and water tower, with an 85-foot extension, four-wheel drive, six-cylinder, 85-horsepower engine. The cup was received by Captain Sagehorn of Aerial Truck Company No. 1 and by Fire Chief Whitehead. The other awards were made to H. C. Canwell company, Osen-Hunter company and the Telegraph avenue garage.

Tomorrow evening will mark the opening of the Outdoor Sports Fashion Show on the auditorium stage. A second performance will be given Friday evening. The first dress rehearsal was held yesterday and more than 75 beautiful professional models of the H. C. Capwell company, Roos Bros., Taft & Pennoyer and Kahn's took part. Unusual scenic and lighting effects are now being installed and vivid tableaux of a bewildering array of the newest and most extreme costumes will be shown. Girls in the latest riding habits will be shown astride pure-blooded Arabian horses, wonderful hunting costumes will be worn by huntswomen in pursuit of real beagles, furnished by the Hillsborough kennels, fair motorists will be seen at the wheels of automobiles and the latest bathing suits will be shown on real sand.

ONE HAT, TWO SHOES YEARLY; DIVORCE

Wife Says Husband Told Her to Pack Grip and Go; Sues J. N. Kirk.

James N. Kirk, a life insurance agent whose wife says he has a monthly income of more than $500, allowed her but one hat and one pair of shoes annually, according to the allegations of Lulu M. Kirk in a divorce complaint filed in the Superior Court today. In addition to his $500 monthly income, says Mrs. Kirk, Kirk owns eleven building lots in Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond, and has money in a bank. So she has applied for a court order restraining him from disposing of his property or spending his money until her complaint has been disposed of.

Mrs. Kirk makes the hat-and-shoe episode a cruelty charge. In addition, she avers that her husband called her improper names, flew into a rage when she became restless and told her to pack her grips and go, as she could get no money from him. The couple have two small children, both girls, and the mother asks to be granted their custody and $100 monthly alimony. The Kirks were married at Santa Cruz in 1906, and reside at 2425 Tenth avenue.

May Brown filed a divorce action against Clarence Brown today, alleging habitual intemperance and cruelty. She asks the custody of their one child, a baby girl. They were married in Calgary, Canada, in 1914.

UGH! A DOSE OF NASTY CALOMEL

It Salivates! It Makes You Sick and You May Lose a Day's Work.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.—Advertisement.

NEW Post Toasties

No other flaked corn food on the market shares this honor—no other equals it in form or flavor.

Several distinctive features characterize this new and economical food delicacy.

Old style "corn flakes" do not possess much real flavor of their own. Old-fashioned methods of making didn't bring it out. They depended largely for their taste on the sugar and Cream or milk, you ate with them. You were never asked to test the flavour by eating them dry.

We want you to test New Post Toasties by eating some dry, fresh from the package. You'll get the flavour at once. The new way of cooking, rolling and toasting under quick, intense heat brings out the sealed-up goodness of the grain.

New Post Toasties do not mush down when milk or cream is added. They don't crumble or "chaff" in the package or in the dish. There's substance to them, and so wonderfully delicious as to make you call for more.

Blue Bird Bureau

Department of Good-Fellows

What we want more than anything else right now is shoes and clothes for children. In a little bit of a shack near Hayward there are five children going barefoot. No, not from choice, but necessity. These children are positively without shoes of any description. They do not possess a pair between them even of the most wornout type. The father is a consumptive, and the mother is unable to work, and the only support that this family knows is what the two older children bring in by working at odd jobs, such as running errands, chopping wood and delivering milk, while one of the little fellows sells papers. Now, how long do you suppose a family can live at this rate?

"THE BLUE BIRD FOR HAPPINESS."

"Heads up, work hard, keep smiling and lend a hand"—that's the motto of the Blue Bird Bureau, The TRIBUNE'S Department of Good Fellowship. To show people who are willing to help others just how to go about it without putting a tax on any one, to provide happiness swiftly without publicity, to make life brighter and give childhood its birthright—that is the purpose of the Blue Bird Bureau. If interested, phone Lakeside 6000.

With all of the children in Oakland who are growing larger and stronger every day, there must be in nearly every child's closet a pair or two of outgrown shoes or an outgrown pair of trousers or a dress. This is not the only case that we know where children's clothing is needed. In lots of families little children are going barefoot and with bodies not sufficiently clad. This family is just one of many, but even if just one child out of the five is given a pair of shoes or a dress, some good has been done, and we shall feel that our efforts have not been altogether in vain.

Yesterday three big jars of jam, two loaves of bread, some sliced bacon, a pound of coffee, and some rice was left in the Blue Bird's nest. It may be a good idea to tell you that the Blue Birds, as hungry as they may have been, left the "goodies" undistributed for they were sure that in some other little nest or nests there were also other little birds who were waiting patiently for Mamma Bird or Papa Bird to return home to the nest with a few crumbs for their hungry little mouths.

So one of the most entrusted Blue Birds was summoned to fly away to a shabby little nest, where there were four little birdies, and oh—such hungry little birds as they were! Mother bird just returned home after a long hard day's work and was feeling very much like a "blue" bird at not having been able to bring home enough food for her little brood, but when she saw all the good things that were waiting for her, she was once more like the real Blue Bird, which stands for happiness.

CORRESPONDENCE.

CENTERVILLE, May 3.—Former associates of John A. Bunting in the oil industry of which he was a leader, attended his funeral here this morning. Bunting died Monday after several months' illness at the age of 61 years. Services were held in St. James' Episcopal church and the funeral took place from there to Irvington cemetery.

Bunting made a fortune in the Kern river and Coalinga oil fields and was one of the best known oil magnates in the state. He is survived by a widow, a daughter and three sons.

ENTIRE LEFT BREAST ONE MASS OF CANCER

Different Physicians Refused to Operate.

When Miss Mary Dutra, 30 South Monroe street, Stockton, Cal., started treatment with the Dr. J. H. Shirley Co. her entire breast was one live mass of cancer and was so far advanced that parts of the breast had simply rotted away. Different physicians refused to operate, advising her to go home and prepare to die. This lady is well today, the cure having been accomplished over eight years ago. She is now a walking testimonial to our wonderful success in the treatment (no knife used) of cancer and all lumps in the breast. If you are skeptical write this lady for particulars. She will gladly answer.

Note—We will give $500 to any one who can produce one assertion in the above statement that is not a positive fact. Our offices are located at 253 Twelfth st., Oakland, Cal. Examination free; 64-page book mailed upon request.—Advertisement.

SAM'S CREEK NOW IN CHURCH DISPUTE

Methodist Episcopal Face Conflict in History of First Services.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., May 3.—Was a log cabin in Sam's Creek, Carroll county, Md., or a sail loft in William street, near John street, New York, the first Methodist-Episcopal church in America?

This question, the subject of a controversy among high dignitaries of the church, started four years ago, and will come up for settlement at the General Conference at Saratoga, which is now in session here.

Sides have been taken openly on the issue.

Methodists down in Maryland, ignoring the credited history of the church, held a celebration two years ago in honor of the 150th anniversary of the foundation of the oldest Methodist church in the country, which they said was erected at Sam's Creek.

Here in New York Methodists are preparing to celebrate in October this year the 150th anniversary of the John Street Methodist - Episcopal Church, on which site they insist the first Methodist church in the country was built. Their claim is backed by church records and has official sanction of the General Conference, the church's law-making body.

Philip Embury, a missionary, arrived in New York from Limerick, Ireland, in 1760. His following quickly grew. When this congregation outgrew its new home he began holding services in a sail loft in William street. This was in 1767. One year later Embury had raised enough money to found a church on the site of the present John-street church. The present pastor is the Rev. L. R. Streeter.

Maryland Methodists claim that Robert Strawbridge sailed from Ireland two years before Embury and founded the first church at Sam's Creek, fifteen miles from Baltimore.

There is no officially approved record of this, but there was a church at Sam's Creek, which lasted a few years.

In 1912 the subject was brought up at General Conference meeting and a commission of seven clergymen appointed to solve the mystery. The meeting was held in Baltimore, and here enters politics.

"Seven representatives were invited from southern churches to vote on the question," said the Rev. Carroll today.

"The Rev. Kelley, the Rev. Chadwick and myself refused to vote as the vote said the church founded at Sam's Creek was the oldest in America."

The board of bishops then requested that action of the commission be deferred until the meeting of the general conference this year.

This was ignored, and two years ago the southern churches celebrated the sesqui-centennial at Sam's Creek.

The Rev. Carroll said there will be a minority report to the General Conference, objecting to the adoption of the report that the Maryland church is the oldest.

Meantime, the Rev. Streeter is busy getting ready for the sesqui-centennial celebration at the John-street church.

Progressives Elect Two as Delegates

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 3.—The State Progressive convention met here yesterday behind closed doors and elected two delegates at large to the national convention in Chicago. No public endorsement for president was made, but T. H. Wannamaker of Columbia, who was elected national committeeman, tonight issued a statement saying:

"It is as certain as anything can be which has not yet happened that Mr. Roosevelt will be the nominee of the Republican convention on a Progressive platform. This, of course, means the uniting of the Progressive and Republican vote."

The delegates are Mr. Wannamaker and John Cantey.

Clerk Faces Charge on Year-Old Warrant

Armed with a warrant more than a year old, Detectives William Kyle and Tim Flynn of Oakland this morning, in San Francisco, arrested Noel Coates, a clerk, charged with failure to provide. The warrant was sworn to by Mrs. Coates in October, 1914, and Coates had never been located. The San Francisco police finally located him and notified the Oakland detective department of his whereabouts.

He was brought to Oakland to face a hearing in Judge Samuels' police court.

State to Be Asked for Boats on Inland Waters

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Collector of Customs John B. Elliott is preparing an appeal to the State Legislature urging the enactment of laws covering the operation of motorboats on inland bodies of water.

The drowning of four fishermen at Little Bear Lake Monday, a half an hour before trout season opened, as well as other fatalties prompted Elliott to press an appeal for greater safety on inland lakes.

SANTA MONICA, May 3.—Ministers of the bay district will meet here this afternoon to consider a protest against the annual "bathing suit girls'" parade next Sunday at Venice under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and Venice trustees.

In the past the bathing girls' parades have attracted more than 50,000 persons to Venice.

MONROVIA, May 3.—Damage amounting to more than $40,000, it was estimated today, resulted from the fire which destroyed the La Vista Grande hotel, an old landmark here, early this morning.

There were few guests in the hostelry. They escaped the building without injury. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

PROTEST SEIZURE.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 3.—Owners of 1500 bags of spotted peanuts, valued at $12,000, which the State seized on the ground that they were unfit for human food, represented yesterday in the superior court that the nuts were not intended for human consumpion, but for manufacture into oils for soap. The owners, therefore, seek to have the nuts released and not destroyed.

Crews Short, British Vessels Are Idle

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Three British sailing vessels are lying idle in port here today, unable to sail because of lack of men. A few sailors who want to get back to England and enlist have volunteered. But there are practically no seamen available at present, most of the tars having gone north with the Alaskan packing fleet.

Folsom Making Bad Men Worse

So Asserts Hyatt Who Visited Prison

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—Loafing, idling, time-killing are flagrantly evident at Folsom prison, according to Edward Hyatt, State school superintendent, who visited the prison recently.

"There are 1200 men in the prison," says Hyatt, "all kinds and colors and races of men, sent there for all kinds of offenses, but chiefly for crimes against property. This army of men is well fed. They have splendid appetites. But they have nothing to do.

"Society will not allow them to produce anything to be used outside, for that competes against free labor. They do some gardening and some farming on the prison farm, but that can't keep 1200 husky men busy. Therefore, they loaf, they kill time, they lounge around under the guns of the guards.

"It is a pitiful thing to see them doing nothing, growing more inefficient, learning to be listless and worthless. They will return to society less capable of maintaining themselves than when they left it.

"They should be employed, they should do something, they should labor, even if it be only to throw a pile of bricks over the fence and throw it back again."

CARE OF INSANE URGED ON STATE

Chicago Chief Justice of Municipal Court Heard in South.

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—In an address last night before the State Conference of Sacred Agencies, Harry Olson, Chief Justice of the Municipal Court of Chicago, analyzed disease and crime, their association and their treatment. He said in part:

"Insanity and feeble-mindedness are on the increase in this country. Many factors contribute to this, among which are the speed of our civilization; inadequate immigration exclusion laws; disregard of laws of eugenics; relation of specific disease to heredity and mental health.

"The cost of crime and the care of defective classes is becoming a great burden on society. The state of New York spends a quarter of its total outlay in the care of the insane. The state of Illinois pays for its charitable institutions 28.1 per cent of its total expenditures, of which the mental, nervous and insane group make up 21.8 per cent.; yet this state, like New York, is not giving institutional care to thousands who need it. Chicago spends about eight million dollars annually in handling the criminal situation, more than six and a half million being expended for the police department alone.

NOT GETTING RESULTS.

"That we are not getting an equivalent in results for such outlays all thoughtful people agree. Besides, the record of assassinations and attempts made on the lives of others by insane and feeble-minded individuals is not a credit to our methods of handling this class.

"In view of the comparative failure of our past efforts to suppress crime, of the increasing charge upon the state in taxes for maintaining prosecutions, courts and jails, of the menace to society by defective delinquents and of the injustice involved in the neglect of the feeble-minded, we must adopt new methods to prevent crime and care for the mentally afflicted. Since crime and mental disease are so inter-related we should try the modern methods of the medical profession—diagnosis and prevention—where cure is impossible. As has been said in medicine diagnosis is half the cure; so we hope in criminology that if we can diagnose the cause we will be well on the road to a cure.

"Courts are beginning to rely more on the opinions of medical men than formerly. The institution of psychopathic laboratories in connection with courts is an indication that the legal profession is beginning to appreciate that a large number of chronic offenders are not always benefited by the legal punishment.

PSYCHOPATHIC LABORATORY.

"The first psychopathic laboratory in connection with courts in this country was that instituted through the beneficences of Mrs. William F. Dummer, of Chicago, in the Juvenile Court of that city in 1908. In May, 1914, the municipal court of Chicago opened its psychopathic laboratory.

"What is the promise of the future? The feeble-minded situation as a whole is a hopeless one. Our only present methods of handling this situation are isolation and sterilization, since we realize more and more daily that the vast majority of these cases are of a hereditary nature. However, the possible regeneration deserves some study for its possibilities, especially since, at the present time, the problem of isolating and controlling our large feeble-minded and psychopathic population is so gigantic. As for the treatment of the defectives who get into courts the farm colony offers the one solution."

U. C. Man to Tell of California Industries

"How Manufacturers may extend information concerning their industrial processes to the people and to the future buyers of California" will be the subject of Wallace Hatch, secretary of the bureau of visual instruction, of the University Extension division of the University of California in his speech before the members of the Home Industry league at their regular weekly luncheon at the Palace hotel tomorrow.

Hatch will describe in detail the work of the Extension division of the University in instructing not only pupils in the public schools throughout the state, but the parents as well, as to the extent and scope of manufacturing in California, as well as to how individual articles are made.

Oakland Blanked for First Time as Martin's Stars

Young Oak Hurler Loses Tough Struggle to 'Curly' Brown

be written after "Speed" Martin's name in the record of yesterday's game between the Oaks and our old friends the Seals. The young pitcher who has flashed upon the Coast League horizon in meteoric splendor and who defeated every other team but San Francisco, lost yesterday because his team mates failed to hit behind him. Martin had the misfortune to be pitted against "Curly" Brown while the latter was enjoying exceptional form.

Except for two innings, the young Oakland wonder pitched no-hit ball and had the Seals at his mercy. In the third, Jones got a life when Kenworthy fumbled his difficult grounder. An infield out advanced "Ducky" and Brown's hit through short registered the first run.

The other Seal markers came in the fourth, when Martin made the mistake of trying his "fast one" on Schaller and Bodie. The former singled and then Bodie drove a terrific smash to center, the ball rolling under the clubhouse steps for a home run. That was the sum and substance of the Seal success and it proved sufficient despite many strenuous attempts at an Oakland rally.

Elliott tried hard enough to win that opening game. He used fourteen men in the lineup, including three pinch hitters in the ninth inning, but to no avail. The Seal southpaw was unbeatable yesterday. When the pinch came, "Curly" tightened up and left no loophole through which a run could crawl. It was the first time this season that the Oaks have been shut out and it marked their fifth straight defeat. It is time for Oakland fans to come to the club's rescue and pull the boys out of their batting slump.

"Jap" Barbeau, the Oaks' clever little lead-off man, was suffering from a cold and after he had whiffed in the first inning, Elliott benched him, using Berger at short and Bobby Davis at third.

Twice Mal Barry's batting slump hit the Oaks hard, for the big first sacker came up twice with men on base and two out. Once he fanned and again was an easy infield out. Elliott also had a chance to score two but he grounded for the third out.

Brown was only in danger in the final round when the Oaks succeeded in crowding the hassocks. With one out, Davy Griffith, swinging for Barry, doubled to left. Davis was thrown out by Downs. Klawitter, up in place of Martin, walked, and so did Berger.

In this crisis, with only a long double needed to tie the score, Elliott took a chance, and sent up Billy Zimmerman to swing for Middleton who had not been able to do much with Brown.

Zimmerman took three healthy swings and the crowd made for the exits.

It was a tough game for Martin to lose, for he really pitched ball good enough to win nine out of ten games, but this happened to be the tenth.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The Oaks' traveling uniforms seem to have suffered considerable since the boys were in the trenches. It will be next week before the laundry gets the unfamiliar gray suits.

* * *

There was a gala crowd on hand to root for the Seals and the weather conditions were ideal. Brown got a big hand when he whiffed Jap Barbeau.

* * *

After Barbeau fanned in the first round, Elliott made a switch in his line-up, sending Berger in at short and switching Davis to third.

* * *

"Kopecs" Kenworthy has taken off a lot of weight since the season started, and is now a dangerous man on the paths. He stole on Brooks the first chance he got.

* * *

Umpire Jack Doyle got in wrong with the fans in the second inning when he called Kenworthy safe at first when it looked as though the Oak captain had been caught off by Brooks' snap throw. As a matter of fact, Kenworthy was out, but Doyle was in such a position he could not see the play.

* * *

It looked as though Martin was making a mistake in using his fast ball on such men as Bodie and Schaller. That is the sort of thing they could and did hit a mile.

* * *

Bodie's "homer" rolled under the clubhouse steps or else "Ping" would have had but a double.

* * *

"Curly" Brown had more speed and "stuff" on his curve ball than we have ever seen him possess.

Philadelphia's talkative manager, Moran, and argumentative catcher, Burns, tried to chatter their way into a victory over the Braves, but only succeeded in getting the boot, Czar Rigler doing the banishing.

FOOTBALL DEVOTEES CLASH IN RALLY TO OLD GAME

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 3.—An impromptu rally here last night by champions of the American game of football resulted in a free-for-all mix-up when supporters of the Rugby game charged down on the rally, captured an American flag and stampeded the meeting.

The American game supporters rallied, reformed and gave chase to the Rugbyites. There was a lively tussle in which about 300 men participated, and which lasted until the American forces had recaptured their flag.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

OAK LEAFS WIN, 4 TO 2.

That fast colored team, the Oak Leafs, added another game to their string of victories last Sunday when they defeated the Peerless club of San Francisco by a score of 4 to 2. The Oak Leafs played errorless ball behind Dunlap, their star right-hander, who was in the box for them Sunday. Claxton, their southpaw pitcher, played the role of pinch hitter and drove out a hit which scored two runs in the seventh inning. "Herb" Clarke and Houston featured with the stick. The former came through with a timely wallop in the sixth, scoring Conver, who had just doubled. Dunlap struck out twelve men while Yates, ex-State Leaguer, sent eight Oak Leafs back. This Sunday the Oak Leafs and Bloomhearts meet in their first of a three-game series for the championship of Emeryville at Emeryville.

CONCORD WINS EASY GAME.

The Concord team easily defeated the Modern Woodmen team at Concord Sunday by the score of 12 to 6. Jackson and Randall were the hitting stars for the day. Sellman pitched a fine heady game and, with such a lead, took matters easy. At times he merely toyed with the opposing batters. The score:

OAKS FAIL TO GET HARL MAGGERT

A deal whereby the Oaks offered a pitcher and an outfielder to Los Angeles for Hart Maggert was spoiled today when Frank Chance announced that he was satisfied with Maggert and would not trade him.

"He has been in bad health," said Chance. "That's why we haven't used him regularly. Oakland thought I didn't like his style because we didn't use him. Maggert is a great ball player."

Elliott seems in need of a reliable right-hand hitting outfielder—particularly a clean-up hitter. Maggert played with the Oaks in 1911 under Wolverton.

WANTS NESS BACK.

Sporting Editor OAKLAND TRIBUNE—Dear Sir: May an old "fan" inquire why the management of the "Oaks" does not do something with the big "Oaks"—Klawitter, Pruiett and the new big "Oak" Chabek? If these big "Oaks" cannot be induced to get busy and produce results worthy of at least a class "D" league is it not up to the management to get a few more acorns like Speed Martin or even Boyd and Beer that will use their endeavors to give the loyal "fans" a run for their money?

Some short time ago The TRIBUNE had a series of articles on the raising of a sum of money—possibly $4000 or more—for the purpose of trying to induce the 1916 pennant to float over Oakland. Your writer would suggest that this $4000 or as much of it as might be necessary be expended in the securing of Jack Ness for the first base position. The TRIBUNE of May 1 says Ness refuses to go to Baltimore, but will play semi-pro ball in Chicago. Kindly insist that the management of the "Oaks" get a move on themselves and give the "fans" back their idol. Would it not be possible also to get an outfielder who could once in a while hit for four bags? The "Oaks" have some good fielders—notably Rube Gardner—but Rube is not a home-run hitter. The other outfielders do not show impressive stick work. Yours for the "cause."

STRONG FINISH WINS GAME FOR CHANCE'S ANGELS

Johnny Lush Pounded Out of Box While Hogg Allows Four Hits.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 3. — Johnny Lush, who has not been in shape this season, grew tired after the seventh inning yesterday and McCredie sent Harstad to the mound to finish up. The score was, Portland 3, Los Angeles 2, at that time. Harstad pitched one-third of an inning. Wolter singled, Koerner doubled and Galloway singled and Los Angeles won the game, 4 to 3.

Walter Boles chased in two with a single in the seventh. Portland made two in the first inning on the walk by Vaughn, a single by Southworth, a double steal, an error by Bobby Fisher and a wild pitch.

Guisto's home run into the leftfield bleachers in the seventh put Portland momentarily in the lead. Hogg allowed only four hits. The score:

New Comers Sparkle in Early Fielding Averages

Barry of Oakland Leading the First Sackers in His Department .

In the first four weeks of the 1916 Coast League season up to May 1 the work of new comers to the circuit was one of the particular features of individual fielding averages, thus bearing out the theory that Coast League clubs have materially improved their defensive strength over that of 1915. Thus in the individual fielding averages for the first month the following newcomers to the league are leading the players in their respective positions:

Barry of Oakland is leading the first basemen in fielding although it is anybody's race with Gleichmann of Vernon and Autrey of San Francisco running closely behind him; Rath of Salt Lake has only been in thirteen games but he has accomplished the somewhat unusual feat of going through those thirteen games at the difficult position of second base without an error, giving him first claim to the best fielding second baseman to date, despite the fact that second basemen on the other five clubs have all played more than twenty games; Coffey is well out in front as the best fielding shortstop to date with Ward of Portland and Davis of Oakland as the nearest rivals to the new San Francisco short patcher; and Wille of Portland is going after the errorless string record hung up by Roy Moran of Sacramento several years ago, Wille having played 22 errorless games in center field.

Leaders in the individual fielding records for the other positions are Coast League veterans. Spencer of Vernon and Sepulveda of San Francisco lead the regular catchers; Stumpf of Portland is leading the third sackers, with Galloway of Los Angeles, a newcomer to the league, as his nearest rival; Buddy Ryan of Salt Lake is leading the left fielders, having handled 31 fielding chances without an error in 14 games; Walter Doane, of Vernon, leads the right fielders with 24 errorless games. This is more games than Wille, the errorless Portland center fielder, has played, but Wille has handled 63 fielding chances in his 22 games in center field, as compared with Doane's 44 fielding chances in 24 games in right field.

Following are the individual fielding records of each player for each position in which he appeared up to May 1, covering first four weeks of the season:

DOUGLAS GRANT TO MEET LAPHAM

MENLO PARK, May 3. — Douglas Grant will meet Roger Lapham in the semi-finals of the Northern California golf championship tournament as the result of his victory over Paul Jones yesterday, six up and five to play.

Grant's brilliant playing gave him a card of seventy for the eighteen holes, which is par, and made him a favorite for the championship.

Reading the Green

Ping Bodie fattened his rep. and worsted the Oaks when he poled a home run into deep center with one roosting on the sacks. Final score, San Francisco 3, Oakland, the hole in the doughnut.

Elwood Martin of Oakland heaved his fleesiest and held the Seals to four hits, but when one of them is a home run, wot t'ell. This pinked Martin's record of games won. Had five in a row before.

It looks as if Los Angeles might fatten its average at Portland, while the Oak's and Seals are slugging toe to toe on the bay side pasture. It has been done before.

Louis Guisto of the Beavers slammed out his seventh home run of the season and gave Portland a 3-to-2 lead, but—

The next three Angelic swatsmiths at the platter bingled safely and the Seraphs winged away with the blubber.

Giants took Brooklyn into the kraal when Tesrau held the Dodgers in the hollow of his hand.

Benny Knauff's batting average—000.

Doak of St. Louis encouraged the Cubs by promenading four men, but he pitched airtight stuff in the holes and won, 3 to 0.

Washington continued bringing in the sheaves at the expense of the Red Sox, the Senators hitting Shore for ten safeties and five tallies.

White Sox beat St. Louis when Terry, as a pinch hitter, with two dead and two on, doubled, and the band played Annie Laurie.

That makes seven straight defeats for St. Louis, who appear to be the Russian army of the American league.

Reminiscences of a Veteran Sporting Editor

By MR. MULDOON.

"Here's to the Day!"

It was Tub Becker, loyal Dutchman of Oakland who spoke. He referred to Thursday, May 4, 1916, the day Oakland meets San Francisco in battle array.

It will be the first meeting this year in Oakland's baseball park of the San Francisco and Oakland baseball teams. This is the game of which The TRIBUNE'S sporting editor had a pipe dream some weeks ago, a dream that ended in a ten inning contest, with the Oaks winning out by a whisker.

"I believe," said Becker, "that the pipe dream will come true. The league has been using the Oaks for a football now for some time, but I believe the day has come when we are going to get even. And so I say: Heres to the Day!"

Becker is a butcher boy and the butcher boys of Oakland having good lungs, he has sent out a call for them to report at the ball park next Thursday afternoon and to whoop it up for the Oaks from the jump.

"The assault on Dublin won't be a circumstance to the battle the Oaks are going to wage against the Seals on Thursday afternoon," said Andy Hynes of the Liquor Men's Association.

"How do I know? Why, Rowdy Elliott put me next and I'm banking on what he says. Our association has promised to turn out in a body and boost for the Oaks on Thursday as they never boosted before."

Tom Watson, Oakland music dealer, is getting out a song for Thursday. It goes something like this:

Meet me in the Oakland ball park, Meggie, dear.
Meet me there next Thursday afternoon;
Meet me while the sky is bright and clear,
And the bands are playing that good old tune:

It's a long time since Oakland flew the flag,
It's a long while since we led the Seals a dance,
It's a long while since the Oaks have won a rag,
But this year we surely have a chance.

For now the sky looks mighty clear and fair,
And hope is sailing very high and free
With cadence flexile—soft as summer air,
Or foam crest on a quiet, sun-kissed sea.

It's a long time since Oakland flew the flag,
It's a long while since we led the Seals a dance;
It's a long day since the Oaks have won a rag,
But this year we surely have a chance.

Assistant District Attorney Smith, a baseball fan of the 100 and then some degree, believes that every citizen of Oakland who fails to attend Thursday's contest and root for the Oaks, should be indicted for high treason and then some.

"Will I be there?" said Smith. "Put that down please with the foolish questions. I will not only be on deck, but I have served notice on all my sisters, brothers, cousins and aunts to be there or take the consequences."

W. E. Whitaker, chief attorney for the Hutchinson Contracting company believes it the sworn duty of every attorney in Oakland to subpoena himself and friends and relatives to the Oakland ball park on Thursday.

"Look for me in the front row," said Whitaker, "regardless of court or other calls."

"Will I be there?" said J. T. Moran, dean of Oakland's army of baseball fans. "Can a duck swim? It's a long while since I've had the laugh on Danny Long and the bunch from 'Frisco and do you think I'm going to pass up the chance that seems almost in my grasp right now?"

"Will I be there? I'm greatly surprised at a young man of your intelligence asking me such a foolish question. Yes; I look for a big crowd but it won't touch the crowd that was out that day to see the Greenhood & Morans when they met the Hop Bitters over in the old park 100 or so years ago."

Jim Landregan and his partner, Al White, the big two of North Oakland, have notified all their employes to be at the ball park on Thursday afternoon.

And Jim and Al will be there to lead the North Oakland rooters.

"We owe it to Elliott and his boys, and we're going to pay the debt," said big Jim. "Watch our smoke, Thursday."

Chief of Police Woods in anticipation of a big crowd will have out a special detail on Thursday to help handle it.

The chief is a great lover of the game and he and his family will witness the contest from seats in the grandstand.

There promises to be big delegations from both the California and St. Mary's universities. Speed Martin's friends will be there in a body for Speed is expected to face the Seals and to hold them down to ciphers. When, a few weeks ago, Speed made his debut he was a novice, but now he is a full fledged veteran and he promises to prove this when he faces the Seals on Thursday.

John Frogel, grocer at Adeline and Felton streets and Tom Martin and Martin Atkins of Adeline and Sixty-first streets, have promised to have special delegations on hand to root for Rowdy and his boys on Thursday.

The Triangle Realty company at Sixty-first and Adeline, Moran & Co., Arnheim and all the North Oakland and South Berkeley realty merchants are going to the ball park on Thursday afternoon in a body to root for the Oaks to beat the Seals.

"It's the duty of every real estate man," said Washington Irving Robinson, the realty man of Adeline and Sixty-first streets, "to root for the Oaks. Nothing advertises a town and helps real estate better than a winning baseball team and that's what the Oaks look like this year. We are so pleased with their good mark that we believe it our duty to go out and root for them and we will be on deck in a body next Thursday afternoon."

The Oakland Baseball Citizen's committee met today to talk over plans for a big turnout Thursday. Chairman Harry Anderson said that there would be a liberal representation of city and county officials at the game. Most of the banks and big business establishments will permit a majority of their employes to attend.

BAND AND MARINES FOR TOMORROW'S GAME

The Yerba Buena naval training station band and a detachment of 400 marines will attend tomorrow afternoon's game in this city and enliven the proceedings. Thousands of Oak rooters will be on hand to cheer the Oaks and help them to overcome their ancient enemies, the Seals.

Chairman Harry Anderson of the Citizens' Baseball committee, announced today that indications pointed to a capacity attendance.

HAL CHASE IS ONCE AGAIN ON TOP OF THE HEAP

Prince Hal Driving 'Em Crazy, Says Baseball Expert of East.

Hal Chase's scintillating display of ball for Garry Hermann and the Cincinnati National league fans is creating a furore in the big leagues. In commenting on Peerless Hal's great work, Grantland Rice, one of the cleverest of sport writers, says:

"Eleven springs ago Hal Chase, the Los Gatos Genius, joined Clarke Griffith's Yankees. Hal was the game's Stormy Petrel from the start. Even as a youngster just starting he kept Griff in suspense for over two weeks by delaying his arrival.

"Since that date eleven campaigns ago Chase has known the most vivid career in the annals of play. Always a grand ball player, the famous Mexican Jumping Bean was a stationary object compared to California Hal. He jumped the Yanks twice and the White Sox once. He painted with streaks and strips of gray the domes of Griffith, Stallings, Wolverton and Chance. On at least three occasions he was ordered to oblivion by the dope of the game and the verdict of the fans. But today he is not only back in the big league, but is starring with even greater brilliancy and batting beyond his usual force.

"Chase was born on Friday, February 13, thirty-three years ago. This may account for his erratic temperament. But those who believe that Chase is about through have not been following the box scores of the new campaign."

BILLIARDS

Another hot game was pulled off at the Oakland billiard parlor with Hoover and Wells in the center of the stage and playing pool that would make anyone sit up and take notice.

Hoover won the game but it took all he had to turn the trick. The score, 100 to 97, about tells the story, but not all. The finish was particularly nerve-racking and had the spectators half rising out of their seats more tha nonce in the last ten balls. Wells is a fighter and best of all he doesn't know when he's licked. He showed that last night. Hoover had a handicap of ten points and added to that materially in the first few innings. He was going good, but Wells never faltered, and went to work to cut down the lead his opponent had established. By steady work he caught him at 96—just four balls from the finish. Then he fell down on a couple of combinations and Hoover, after one bad failure, managed to muster sufficient courage to pull the last ball and win. Wells had a bit of tough luck in his breaks thtat had a good deal to do with the outcome, but it is good and bad breaks that determine nearly everything in life. And we must remember that the best manager generally wins.

Hoover's outstanding weakness is carelessness on reasonably easy shots. He should aim to correct this and he will make tough going for anyone. Wells seems very careful, but as I said before, had a few bad breaks that affected his judgment. And judgment is the one thing to retain i na hard game of pool.

Donahue ran away from Bailey Monday evening. The score was 100 to 50. Donahue seems to be getting into better form.

Plumb and Brown will tangle tonight. Karns and Condon on Thursday night.

An echo from the Vallejo trip comes in the invitation of their leading room to send along another player to meet a new champ; they have dug up. So Brown will go. This may lead to a return match. Brown will hand out a tough argument.

Cassignot's passing is causing a vast deal of regrets other than usually expressed at the death of a good man. He looked to be the only opportunity to dethrone Willie Hoppe.

Not that people really want to see Hoppe defeated, but they do want to see competition and Hoppe on the short end once in a while. Sort of an appetite revivifier, as it were.

TECH AND BERKELEY IN FINAL GAME

The Alameda County Athletic League baseball curtain will be rung down tomorrow afternoon when the Oakland Technical and Berkeley High school nines line up at Grove Street park. The two teams played to a 2-2 tie two months ago and a victory for Tech tomorrow will give them the league championship. If Berkeley wins, however, Tech will be tied with Alameda High for first place, each with four victories and one defeat. If Tech wins, the College Avenue boys and the San Jose High nine will meet Saturday to decide the Northern California championship. Bobby Smale will probably take the mound for Tech, with McCord tossing 'em for Berkeley.

BERKELEY HIGH LIKELY TO TAKE UP OLD GAME

College Town High School Leaning Towards U. C. Football Style.

Berkeley high school, perhaps the State's leading institution in producing prep school athletes, is on the verge of adopting the American style of football, it was learned from a good source today. At present the situation is up in the air, with everything pointing to the return of the old game to the college town institution.

The fact that Berkeley high is the nearest school to the University of California, which turned to the old game last year, makes it all the more probable that the Berkeley boys will don moleskins next fall. The university athletic leaders have been trying to tempt the high schoolers into quitting the English game for the past year, even going so far as to offer them the privilege of using one of the varsity football members as the Berkeley high school coach without pay. This offer, last year, was rejected, mainly because the game was too deeply rooted.

However, this season, Berkeley faces a new situation. A majority of the members of last year's State championship team have graduated, leaving only a few lads around with which to build the 1917 outfit.

Cecil Mathews, president of the student body of Berkeley high, and Mervin "Toughy" Crow, 1917 football captain, both denied the fact that Berkeley has already decided to return to the old game. However, they made it known that Berkeley will take her next action in regard to football after the Stanford rugby crisis is over.

"We are certainly going to change if Stanford does," said Mathews, "even if the A. C. A. L. rules otherwise. Berkeley is closely attached to the University of California and I think it is only fair that we should follow in their footsteps. It isn't fair to the high schooler who wants to enter college to force him to play rugby. If he wants to continue in athletics, he has to start all over again, learning a game which he is not accustomed to. That's a great handicap. I am sure we will thresh the matter out after we have learned what the Stanford University students have decided upon."

Athletic dopesters hereabouts, those who are well up in the athletic situation between the University of California and Stanford, all believe that it will only be a matter of a few weeks before Stanford will have adopted the "good old American game." Stanford lost money last year playing the University of Santa Clara. It seems ridiculous that Stanford, under the present system, has only one big game—that with Santa Clara. And after all, competition is the most important thing in athletics.

Jimmy Thoburn, present Tech high coach and 1913 Stanford varsity football captain, is, of course, in favor of rugby, but yet he can't see how Stanford can continue playing only one real big game. Charley Blesse, Fremont high mentor, likes the old game, while Frank Bock of Oakland high and Otto Rittler of Alameda, though they have not made any official announcement of the matter, seem to be in favor of the old game, too. So don't be surprised to see the American game back in the A. C. A. L. and on the Pacific Coast for good by the time the fall season rolls around.

Not at Home Sign Will Be Displayed This Evening

Before proceeding to the more important part of the tale let us take this opportunity to warn two thousand or so fond wives and mothers that hubbies and sons will be out late tonight. If the boys don't arrive on or about midnight call up Tommy Simpson at the West Oakland Club, and not The TRIBUNE.

Yes, the boys will be at the West Oakland Club for a few hours. Having been mesmerized by T. Tommy Simpson, a flock of our most enterprising citizens, have purchased tickets for the fistic carnival, starting at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

There are eight four-round bouts on the card. According to Tommy Simpson's estimation and the ring experience which he has gathered through his fifteen or twenty years of dealings with the biff bang boys, four of tonight's bouts are in all true sense of the word, real main events. These tid-bits are the Battling Ortega-Cliff Lester, Mexican Kid Carter-Norman Stone, Jimmy Ford-Billy Alverls and Henry Hendricks-John Rusling melees.

ORTEGA THE FAVORITE.

Battling Ortega, the whirlwind Mexican, is, of course, the favorite to win tonight's tangle against Cliff Lester. The latter is a burly chap, carries a hefty wallop in either hand, but is as open as the mining camps of California in the days of Bret Harte. That should make him an easy target for Ortega's rip snorting body blows and his smashing right smash to the jaws. On the other hand, if Lester ever piles one of his fists on any portion of Ortega's anatomy, the "Mex" had better order his epitaph for Lester has a kick heavier than an Arizona "canary bird."

Though most of the fans who will flock to West Oakland tonight are peeved at Pancho Villa and his followers, they will at least allow a few of Villa's men an opportunity of displaying their ability in the art of dodging blows. In Kid Carter, who has just arrived from Los Angeles, the fans will see another clever Mexican in action. Like Ortega, he is a fighter from his toes up, and fans who have seen him box before are picking him to create a furore once he jumps into the ring. Carter will meet Norman Stone, the husky who stood toe-to-toe and exchange wallops with Willie Webb a while back.

Jimmy Ford and Billy Alverls have met so many times that our Remington refuses to commit itself on past history. Anyway, they are scheduled to face each other for the eighth time.

Shades of Jess Willard! John Rusting, the lad who is down on the card to meet Henry Hendricks, the larruping Dane from San Francisco, is big enough to become a member of any police force in the world. Rusting weighs 234 pounds, stands 6 feet 4 inches in height and has a reach of 81 inches. Tommy Simpson hesitated in matching him, only because he feared that one of the gallery gods, who visit his show will obligingly stretch out his hard and give Rusting a good slap if Little John gets too fresh. Also, Tommy has a few arc lights hanging from his ceiling which he does not want damaged.

Jimmy Dundee, star newsboy and proprietor of Oakland's leading weekly, the main event, will be only a special eventer tonight. Jerry D'Annunzie will tangle with Jimmy Arrousey. The latter has returned from Los Angeles after a long absence and wants to place himself in the good graces of the local fans again. In Dundee, he will meet a lad who is attempting a come-back and doesn't stop mixing until his toes are pointing to the ceiling. So the two Jimmies should put up a neat bout.

The rest of the card all measures up to the Simpsonian standard. Sammy Morris vs. Kid Wesley, Joe Grim vs. Herrera and Frankie Wolgast vs. Sammy Pelsinger makes up the rest of Simpson's card. Marty Cronin, Dick Adams and W. J. Eyre will act as judges.

The Cause of most Disease is Poison-Infected Blood

You cannot expect to have a healthy body if you have impure blood running in your veins.

The blood is the great source of nourishment for all flesh tissues. When the blood is not pure it carries poisons and impurities to all parts of the body, causing local ills that cannot be cured until the blood is purified.

Rheumatism, Catarrh and Malaria are the direct result of impurities in the blood. It shows in such symptoms as a lack of energy, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, and many other little ills that may become serious if the cause of them, blood impurities, is not removed.

Nature has given us the true remedy for blood disorders and their kindred ills, in the roots and herbs from which S. S. S. is made. These ingredients contain the power to act directly upon the blood corpuscles, making them pure and healthy so they can do their work in fighting off disease and nourishing the body.

All roots and herbs will not do this. You must have the right herbs and roots, they must be carefully selected, and it requires a thorough knowledge of them and a wonderful laboratory equipment to bring out their curative qualities.

For nearly half a century we have been producing S. S. S. Our laboratory is the greatest of its kind in the world. S.S.S. has real medicinal value because it is scientifically produced.

If you suffer from any blood disease or any illness that is based on impure blood, write to our Medical Department for free advice.

S.S.S. is sold by drug stores, in every locality. If your druggist hasn't it in stock, don't accept a substitute. He can get the genuine S. S. S. for you, if you insist. The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1916.

YESTERDAY'S PRIMARY.

A delegation of tweny-six loyal Republicans will represent California at the national convention at Chicago. The Republicans of California were not disfranchised yesterday. In this instance no one will contest the seats of the regulars at Chicago, for their credentials come directly from the people. In view of all the circumstances, the significance and far-reaching effect of the victory in this state and nationally is too well understood to call for extended comment.

It is evident that many Progressives enlisted as privates in the Republican ranks. They will receive a cordial and hearty welcome. Individuals who were not satisfied to take a place in the ranks, but sought to command the forces they had previously attempted to destroy, suffered a humilating defeat.

In this hour of triumph Republicans of California can afford to forget the past and turn their attention toward bringing back into the fold the few who yet hesitate to enroll. Let every effort be put forth toward completely harmonizing all differences to the end that Republicans of California will present a united front to the enemy in November.

The Republican delegates from California are for harmony. Uninstructed, they will favor the candidate who in their judgment will command the support of the Republicans of the nation and of all Americans who realize that the welfare of the country demands a change of administration.

SCUTTLING IS DELAYED.

The House of Representatives has refused to accept the Clarke Senate amendment to the Philippine bill which sought to grant complete independence to the Filipinos within four years. President Wilson had written a personal letter to the Democratic members urging acceptance of the Clarke idea, which had his full approval, but the administration forces were defeated by a coalition of the Republican minority and thirty revolting Democrats.

Those having a genuine interest in the welfare of the Philippines, the upholding of American prestige and the discharge of America's plain duty to the islands, should not be led by this vote to believe that an appreciable section of the Democratic membership in the House has reversed its idea regarding scuttling. And if any really have changed their minds, Monday's vote is not to be accepted as a result. That vote was the result of opposition to Mr. Wilson within his own party. There are thirty or forty members who have long been waiting for some issue to come up on which they might dare to oppose the President. European issues made "tenderfeet" of them, the effect of anti-Wilson votes being so uncertain. But in the matter of removing the time limit from the promise of Philippine independence there was a chance to show Mr. Wilson just how he stood, how many Democrats were defiant of the Presidential "big stick." Lobbyist Quezon and others interested in the independence propaganda may console themselves with the reflection that the defeat of the bill was due to anti-Wilson sentiment rather than anti-Philippine sentiment.

At the same time we who have followed attentively the progress in the islands resulting from the fifteen years of American administration of affairs are glad that definite repudiation of that progress is to be delayed. We are given to hope that the Philippines will not be abandoned to their own inadequacies, nor to the impracticable doctrines of demagogues and the tender mercies of Filipino politicians. The Filipinos are assured their independence when a stable government shall have been established. That is definite enough. It will enable the American government to withdraw from the islands in the light of obvious facts of the ability of the people to govern themselves wisely; it will avoid our forced withdrawal under the influence of theories of anti-constructionists and appeals to prejudice.

It is a wise policy, no matter how it has been initiated, that we do not weaken our hand in the Philippines until other world affairs related to the United States have become somewhat more definitely shaped. The Filipinos will gain by the delay. They have only to go ahead with their work of self-equipment. When their education is completed and they can show the world they will not abandon the schools or the hospitals, will not turn the lepers at large nor wreck the sanitation systems; will not despoil the revenue system nor pollute the judiciary to serve private and political interests, then we will be glad to see the question of Philippine self-government revived.

AFTER THE PARLEYS, WHAT?

Every sign discernible on the Mexican border and at Washington indicates that the American troops will not be withdrawn at present; presumably they will remain until Villa is captured and raiding Mexican banditti is dispersed, or until a reasonable test of the ability of American military forces to accomplish these ends has been made. We have a "hunch" that if Villa is not captured and the international boundary cleared of all danger from raiding outlaws, Pershing and his men will remain on the job until the Presidential election. It would be politically unwise to acknowledge further failure of administration policies in Mexico sooner than November.

In the meantime, however, all possible efforts should be made to crown the punitive expedition with success. The probabilities of early success depend largely upon the conduct of the Carranzistas. If they would lend genuine cooperation, which they have never done and which we do not expect, it ought not to take long to dispose of the man and his followers whom the de facto government has declared outside the consideration of Mexican law. If the Carranza commanders would honestly aid the American troops and permit the free use of all means of transportation of men and supplies the presence of our troops would not long be necessary. And if they want our men withdrawn cooperation is the sensible thing.

But if we get no aid and have to overcome the opposition of the Carranzistas in order to accomplish our object we may have to stay on the job for several months or several years.

In the face of Carranzista hostility the possibility of success depends solely upon the Washington administration. General Funston and General Pershing should be relieved of all restrictions and given as many men as they ask for. They are experienced and competent. Let them use the railways wherever they will be of military service. The President knows, as does the nation, that these trained soldiers know how to deal with Latin susceptibilities and peculiarities. They will not arouse any more animosity among peaceful, law-abiding Mexicans than is absolutely necessary. Let Mr. Wilson give them full authority to go ahead and then let the cabinet revolving chair brigade direct its attention to the sundry civil appropriations bills, or some other subject with which they are familiar. Give our soldiers a soldier's chance.

Let us realize at once that our present venture in Mexico should be treated as a military problem and not as a political enterprise or a social call on rival faction leaders.

WHO IS TELLING THE TRUTH?

In the official record of Mr. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, the deadly parallel will crop up, despite the best of intentions. A few days ago Mr. Daniels replied to a demand of the Senate for a letter from Rear Admiral Fiske, setting forth the unprepared state of the navy.

"This communication was not furnished me," he wrote, "and I did not know of its existence until long after it was written. I find upon inquiry that it was filed with the chief clerk without my knowledge that it had been written."

Yesterday Admiral Fiske wrote a letter to the Senate stating that he personally handed Mr. Daniels a copy of his letter on unpreparedness, watched him read, and that others can testify to the occurrence.

Relying upon our knowledge of Mr. Daniels' career of making public statements at variance with the facts and upon our confidence in the honor of a naval officer of the rank of Admiral Fiske, we shall believe, until convinced to the contrary by new evidence, that the statement of Admiral Fiske is the true one. Mr. Daniels owes the public an explanation. If he made a false statement to the Senate he should admit it, insomuch as that statement has been questioned; if he did not he should discipline the officer whose superior he is for disputing a truthful statement.

A poll of Republican and Progressive members of State legislatures conducted by The Literary Digest results in an expression of sentiment regarding potential Presidential candidates that deserves more than passing notice. As this weekly observes, the State legislators are now at their respective homes and in most cases voice the trend of local sentiment. Over fifteen hundred replies were received, which is five hundred more than the number of delegates which will assemble at the national convention of each party in Chicago. Hughes led with 758, a majority of the whole vote; Roosevelt was second with 275, and Root third with 138. The remainder of the votes were divided among a dozen "favorite sons." The least that can be said of this poll is that it is more clearly indicative of public sentiment than the various preferential primaries that have been held.

WOODROW WILSON IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

There are many excellent reasons why the United States should quit the Philippine Islands, which it has refused to allow its citizens to develop to their profit. There are also excellent reasons why the United States should stay in the Philippines, adopting a course toward them radically different from that which has been followed in the past.

These reasons have nothing to do with the conditions in the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives, which has split over the measure providing that the United States shall get out of the Philippines in the immediate future.

That split is symptomatic only of the distrust, suspicion and dislike the members of President Wilson's party feel toward him. They would oppose him as violently on any other measure on which his ambition was set, provided that measure was one they dared to oppose; they would throw his whole program out of the window if they had not a high desire to retain their jobs; and whenever they find it possible to thwart his wishes without endangering their own skins they may be counted on to do it.

There is no mystery about the troubles of the Democrats at Washington.—New York Sun.

Swiss Citizenry Knows How to Fight

(By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERNE, May 2.—The men of Switzerland aren't soldiers in peace times.

They are only citizens who know how to BE soldiers if they have to.

The United States doesn't need 4,000,000 soldiers. What it DOES need is 4,000,000 men who know how to BE soldiers in case the need arises.

"I had a boy in college," wrote the father of a young British soldier. "One day he ran off and enlisted in a London foot regiment. After three months' training his regiment was sent to Flanders. He was killed at Ypres. I am telling you this to help you preach the gospel of compulsory training, not conscription.

"I am grieved and proud about my boy. But I feel that his regiment did not have a sporting chance. They only knew HOW TO GO ON AND DIE. I feel that the men in England who oppose compulsory military training are guilty of a greater felony than those who sank the Lusitania."

This is the sort of feeling I find, this feeling expressed by this father, that brought about compulsory military training in Switzerland.

Here in Switzerland, where, under the marvelous system of military training, a fifth of a million of the finest soldiers in Europe were placed on the frontiers of their country to guard them before the first shots at Liege had died down, you get it driven into your American mind that compulsory military training isn't intended to create soldiers. Its purpose is to create a nation of fine, strong young men and hale, hearty old men who will know how to BE soldiers if an enemy forces them to play that role.

The Swiss aren't fussy; they don't love fighting. All these years of learning how to be soldiers, if the need comes, has taught them that fighting is no picnic and that it doesn't pay to start a row just for the sake of rowing.

The Swiss are not a fighting nation, like the Serbs, for instance, and yet, man for man, the Swiss army is the equal of any army in the world. Every citizen in the ever-fighting Balkans is a soldier; a potential killer. That's one of the troubles with the Balkans. But every citizen of Switzerland, because of his scientific training, is a citizen who'll be a soldier ONLY when some enemy drives him to play that role.

That's the big reason Switzerland is at peace today.

It would cause an upheaval in the United States to put the Swiss military system into effect there. In fact, we couldn't transplant it in its entirety.

There are some things about it that Americans wouldn't like. One of them is the little blue book.

A little blue book, Mr. American, with your name and your photograph and a score of facts about your life written in it, which you would carry in your pocket all the time, would be the token of the upheaval in American life which would be caused by the introduction of the Swiss military system, in its entirety, in the United States.

"Here's my book," said Luigi Corti, a storekeeper of Chiasso, who used to live in Texas. "Every Swiss must carry his book with him. When I go to the bank I take it. When I go to a strange Swiss city I'm asked for it. I show it when I register at the hotel, when I draw money, when I send a telegram. My book shows how much military service I've done. If I neglected my duty my book will show it."

"Do you think Americans would like to have to carry books like that?"

"Not the kind of Americans I used to know in Texas twenty years ago. Americans don't like their government to interfere with them," said Luigi.

Luigi was in the American army during the Spanish-American war.

"This little book," he explained, "is issued by the federal government. Down in Texas the folks got along all right with the mayor and the policemen and the sheriff, but the minute you said 'United States marshal' they pricked up their ears.

"American folks don't like to be governed by Washington."

Luigi Corti had his Texas folks right. He had a lot of other Americans right, too. This little blue book would mean that you were tabbed and listed by the federal government.

Some years ago this would have sounded more un-American than it does today, because in reality you are now tabbed and listed on the federal income rolls. But this little book of military service and citizenship would keep you in your niche, right under the eye of the federal military authorities all the time.

If you left Chicago to live in Cleveland you would be forced to have your military book vised by the military commander of the city you were leaving and signed by the commander in the city to which you moved.

A centralized government would have its grip on you.

Even the Swiss, after eighteen months of war, are becoming restless under the central military control of Berne. In peace time the local commander is an officer, chosen by the soldiers in the local troops; he is always a man from the neighborhood.

But during the war high officers from Berne have gone to the various corners of Switzerland to take control, and the independent Swiss citizens don't like it. Not any more than Americans in California would like to have an army officer from Washington come and rule their lives and actions. There have been half a dozen parliamentary quarrels in the Swiss Congress within the last four months over this matter.

The little blue book, issued by the state government, wouldn't be an inconvenience. Americans in every district, to judge by the experience of the Swiss, would want to elect their own officers and be under the control of their own state government.

Any Swiss can tell you that to submit to any other arrangement is to upset the fundamental ideas on which both the United States and the Swiss federation were founded.

Military men in Switzerland want federal control.

The citizens want Canton or State control. And when they don't have it they raise a row that serves to ease up the federal pressure on them.

TIME TO RETIRE.

Francis Burton Harrison, the present governor general of the Philippine Islands, has served notice on the Administration that he desires to retire not later than March 4, 1917. What is that old adage about rats deserting the sinking ship? Burton will be separated from his authority as chief executive of the Philippine Islands on the exact date at which Woodrow Wilson will be gently but firmly requested to retire to the classic atmosphere of Shadow Lawn, there to occupy his mind by revising his "History of the American People," and bringing it down to date.—Pike County (Mo.) SHOULD BE REAPPOINTED.

The whole infamous conspiracy against Thomas M. Osborne has collapsed with the refusal of the judge to send to a jury trial the immorality charges framed up against him because of their absurdly unsubstantial nature. Nothing is left but a trail of political and criminal blackguardism reminiscent of the frantic effort of the old prison ring to knock out the Osborne reforms. If Mr. Osborne now desires to return to his former work as warden of Sing Sing, Governor Whitman should promptly provide the opportunity. —Springfield Republican.

THE UNFOLDMENT.

Youth tiptoed down the world to me,
Glad-hearted, leading by the hand
A fluting maid, whose mystic strains
Woke all the elfs in Fairyland.

And I, joy-mad, with wondering eyes,
Awoke to find myself a man.

ATTIC STORY FOR MILLS MAY FETE

Love of Shepherd for Naiad Theme of Festival

College Girls to Give Masque by Campus Lake

Borrowing from the poetic fancies of an old world that believed in gods, Mills College students will wander through the story of an Attic shepherd who loved a water Naiad when they give their annual May Fete on Saturday afternoon, May 13. The shores of Lake Alviso, a beautiful pool on the campus, will be the amphitheater.

This year the senior class decided to open the opportunity of writing the Fete to all who desired. Following this method of securing a theme for production a contest was held, with a committee formed of faculty members and seniors as judges. The theme chosen, "The Shepherd and the Naiad," is the work of Miss Helen Landon, a major in the physical education department, who is taking her fifth year of work at the college. The simple, mythical story told in the play is, pictorially, especially adapted for a presentation on the lake shore.

Music, carefully chosen to harmonize with the theme, is being arranged and orchestrated under the direction of the Misses Hyde. This is the story of the drama, which will be produced at 3 o'clock by a large number of students disguised as early Greeks and spirits:

INTRODUCTION.

In a little valley among Ionian hills lies a pool, shaded by trees and bordered by grasses, ferns and flowers. At the water's edge, deep in this little valley, is a shrine, gray with age and grown over with vines, sacred to Artemis, lover of meadows, springs and woodland brooks. Here, once a year, in the spring, the people from the little town beyond the hill come to worship and offer sacrifice. Within the pool a lovely Naiad lives, who is guardian to Artemis' shrine and keeps the water clear and makes the grass grow about it.

THEME.

A voice is heard singing over the water, seeming to come from the pool itself. The Naiad appears among the ferns and vines at the water's edge near the shrine and slowly rises. As the song is ended, she steps out upon the grassy bank, looks back at her reflection in the water, laughs and dances along the bank, picking flowers. With the flowers in her hand she returns to the little altar, kneels before it, rises and arranges the flowers among the vines. When she has completed the preparations for the coming sacrifices she continues to play about the bank.

While the Naiad is dancing alone in the woods, as she thinks, a Shepherd Youth is seen coming over the hill. He had often heard the sweet singing in the woods, but could never find the singer. As he comes down through the trees he suddenly sees the Naiad dancing on the bank and knows that she must be the singer for whom he has looked so long. He stops, gazing at her, but as she turns in her dance she sees him, is frightened and a moment later disappears into the pool. The Shepherd Youth follows to the edge of the water and persuades her to come back. She rises again partly; he bends, takes her hands and kisses her face. But as she is sacred to Artemis' shrine and can never leave the pool, she disappears slowly, leaving him alone. He looks after her for a moment, then goes sadly up through the trees and over the hill.

NYMPHS ENTER.

Laughter is heard among the trees to the left of the shrine and Artemis and her nymphs come gaily to their favorite resting place and sit on the bank. They dance and as they finish faint singing of many voices is heard coming from over the hill, and Artemis, knowing that on this day the worshippers from the little town beyond the hill come to her shrine, leads her nymphs back to the woods.

The singing becomes louder and maidens in white, holding high their baskets overflowing with herbs and bright flowers, lead the procession down the hill side. Children carrying garlands follow and after them come the shepherds, young and old, among them the Shepherd Youth.

They present their offerings, then scatter about on the bank to rest and play. When they are tired all but the Shepherd Youth return to the town. He has remained upon the bank unnoticed by the throng going homeward. He gazes at the pool, but knowing that he can never have the Naiad, sinks down in the grass in despair. But Artemis has discovered their love, and appearing beside him, bids him rise. She leads him to a big tree, whose roots grow deep in the water and whose branches bend above it. He must choose whether he will live far from the pool and its Naiad or have his spirit enter the tree. The Shepherd Youth chooses to live forever in the tree near Naiad. Artemis allows them to see each other once more. A last farewell they take of each other and then the Naiad returns to her pool. The Shepherd Youth watches until she is gone, then disappears in the tree. As Artemis leaves the sweet voice is again heard singing.

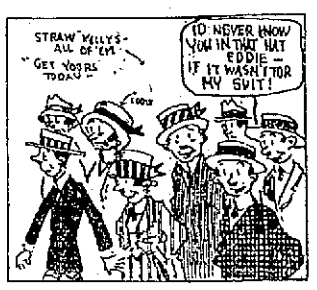
YOU LOOK KINDA DIFFERENT! WHAT NOW? STRAW KELLY! YES, THE MAYOR MADE IT SO

"You look kinda different. What's the matter?"

"Huh? Oh, I gotcha! Straw Kelly!"

This, with some slight variations here and there, was Oakland's "good morning." From the hour of 8 o'clock until 11 o'clock it was the prevailing conversation.



STRAW KELLYS - ALL OF 'EM - "GET YOURS TODAY"
I'D NEVER KNOW YOU IN THAT HAT EDDIE - IF IT WASN'T FOR MY SUIT!
TOOT

For today is the Day of the Straw Kelly.

The mayor has made it, and the sunshine is here. The old felt hat is no more for Oakland. It's the season for straw by official proclamation and climate. Summer is here, and who's worrying?

"Straw hats," declares Frederic Boegle, of the Chamber of Commerce, "are brain ventilators. They aid in the simulation of thought, and are best suited for the heads structurally composed in a way to render them capable of sustaining but little weight. Anyway, you look at the straw hat, it's the real hat."

HOW D'YOU KEEP 'EM FROM BLOWIN OFF CARRY IT IN YOUR HAND!

STRAWS IN ALL SHAPES.

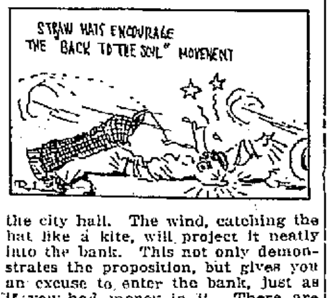
Oakland's straws appeared today in all shapes and varieties. There were newly-blocked and bleached panamas, and queer grass creations with hatbands that had Joseph's coat looking like a faded dishrag in comparison. There were wide-brimmed straws and narrow-brimmed straws, rough straws and smooth straws—and all sorts of variations to these general types.

Some were worn with consummate skill—and others rolled into Broadway. For balancing a straw hat on one's cranium on the first day of the straw hat season is a trick that many an expert juggler falls at.

These simple directions may help.

DIRECTIONS MAY HELP.

When the new straw is purchased, it will be noticed that it "balances" on the head—feeling too small until one is used to it. Then, to demonstrate this balance further, stand at the corner of Fourteenth street and Broadway, and look up at the top of the city hall. The wind, catching the hat like a kite, will project it neatly into the bank. This not only demonstrates the proposition, but gives you an excuse to enter the bank, just as if you had money in it. There are words that go with this hat-balancing trick, but they are left to the discretion of the owners of hats.



STRAW HATS ENCOURAGE THE "BACK TO THE SOIL" MOVEMENT

ART OF BALANCING.

To keep a straw on one's head, learn to balance it against the wind, or use elastic.

Wearing a straw hat also encourages the farmer. It encourages the "back to the soil" movement, and uses up the straw that otherwise might go into mattresses for county infirmaries.

But no matter what advantages the straw hat has, it's the fashion now—and that's the real consideration. Today, proclaimed "Straw Hat Day" by Mayor Davie, opens the fashion, shows the world that summer has arrived in Oakland, and starts the general discussion of summer vacations. More power to the straw!

Oakland Writers' Club Honors Shakespeare

The Oakland Writers' Club paid honor to the memory of Shakespeare last night when, at the Hotel Oakland, its Shakespeare Tercentenary program was given before a large audience. The Del Monte players, assisted by a number of talented amateurs, gave selections from the various Shakespearean plays, and Lowell Redfield, baritone; Mabel Hill Redfield, accompanist, and William G. Orton, violinist, were heard in the musical features of the evening.

A feature of the evening was the reading of a Shakespearean poem written by Miss Mary Lambert. Among those taking part in the Shakespearean scenes were Ruth Alma Farley, Mrs. Edwin A. Cox, Miss Marjorie Smith and Mrs. Julian D. Chese.

Day of Perfect Double Vision Lenses Has Arrived

Long Wished For Invention At Last A Reality.

Wearers of glasses and optical scientists have long wished for the day when a perfect bifocal would be made. The old style bifocals, while serving their purpose in a measure, were in most cases unsatisfactory. Many objected to them on account of their appearance, others on account of the so-called "rainbow" colors which were quite perceptible and annoying. At last perfect double vision lenses have been perfected and are known as "Caltex Onepiece" Bifocals. Reading and distance corrections are combined in one lens, which being ground from a single piece of glass have the appearance of regular glasses. Remember the name, "Caltex." Ground at the three establishments of the California Optical Co., 1221 Broadway, Oakland; 181 Post St. and 2508 Mission St., San Francisco.—Advt.

Pipe Leads Right to Coppers' Arms

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—A smooth pipe, such as the firemen use to reach their engines, is a great police escape—if the police are at the right end of the pipe. Otherwise—but there hangs the sad tale of Ah Lung. Ah Lung devised the pipe escape to get away from a gambling den in Ross Alley, should a raid be held. But the police had watched the pipe being put in, and they had drawn deductions.

This morning at 3 o'clock they raided the place. Ah Lung slid down the pipe—but not to freedom. Waiting arms of two policemen received him. Seven other Chinese were booked as visitors, and he as owner of a gambling house.

RUGBY VOTE STARTS WAR AT STANFORD

Students Electioneer in Good Old Sandlot Fashion

Relations With U. C. Depend on Today's Ballot

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 3.—Rugby's fate is being decided here today.

At 11:15 o'clock this morning students began voting to decide whether they should retain the English brand of football or return to the American game. The polls close at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The days of old-time ward politics, when fights raged around the ballot boxes and election day was one long battle, were recalled on the Cardinal campus as the hard-fought campaign drew to a close.

Starting with a near-riot, which occurred at the Stanford Union last night, the excitement was intense.

Supporters of the American game today made the most noise. Their leather-lunged orators mounted chairs and steps and addressed cheering audiences wherever a crowd could be gathered together. Nothing else was heard in the quadrangle but football. Disputes, arguments, cat calls and wild cries filled the air with a medley of sound that distracted attention from classes and worked up the thrills to fever heat.

Students who announced themselves as neutral were attacked by electioneers from both sides. The American boosters waved United States flags. Mobs assembled around the polls. Leaders in the fight for both sides were loudly cheered as they entered to cast their votes.

A favorite argument of the Rugby faction was "Down with California!"—which, it was claimed, would consider Stanford as surrendering if the English game was knocked out.

It is evident that when the result is announced the winning faction will celebrate with torchlight processions and other forms of jubilation, and preparations are being made for such an event.

Following the free fight last night at the Stanford Union, every effort was made to keep the enthusiasts from becoming too obstreperous. On the occasion of the clash, the Rugby men charged an American football column which was parading the "Row" in front of the frats and sorority houses and a series of combats ensued, the war being carried inside the clubhouse.

POSSE PURSUING GYPSY KIDNAPERS

Sight of Millionaire's Son Starts Effort at Recovery.

RICHMOND, May 3.—Hot on the trail of the band of gypsies believed to be the kidnapers of James Douglas Grant, son of a Jersey City millionaire, the Richmond authorities and sheriff's office are ranging the State to recover the child. The gypsies, with a white boy, believed to be the millionaire's son, camped in Richmond a few days ago, and escaped when District Attorney T. M. Carleson and D. W. Calfee, humane officer, started an examination.

The Grant kidnaping case was one of the sensations of the country several years ago, when the four-year-old boy was stolen by a gypsy band. The entire country was searched.

The boy was seen with the gypsies in Richmond, known among them as Adam Adams, filled the description of the missing child. When seen in the camp, his case was investigated by the local authorities, but before they were able to gain custody of the youth the gypsies took alarm and fled.

The sheriff's office is close in pursuit of the band, and has discovered its whereabouts, according to word from Sheriff R. R. Veale's office today. Deputy Sheriff Frank McNamara is leading the pursuers.

NO CLOTHES, NO WIFE

Troubles Over When Bought Suit on Credit.

Love knows no bounds and yet I am not dressed well enough to make an impression on my lady friend, murmered Teddy Sinclair to himself, until one bright day he passed by the Peerless Clothiers at 537 Twelfth street, between Washington and Clay streets, and he was attracted at the word CREDIT. Why, my troubles are over, Teddy said to himself. If this is all it takes to be dressed well—a promise to pay $1.00 a week. I may as well enjoy the privilege.

The PEERLESS CLOTHIERS, "seventeen years in Oakland," take the chance and I take the clothes. The PEERLESS CLOTHIERS even make suits to order cut and fit and guarantee satisfaction at the same moderate rate of $1.00 a week. He only for men, but WOMEN also. He also was informed that the Peerless Clothiers had another elegant credit store at 30 Fifth St., San Francisco.—Advertisement.

SHOT IN SELF DEFENSE, IS HAASE'S PLEA

Story Is Denied by Victim of Waiter's Bullet

Held at Salinas Under Guard to Prevent Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—William Haase, who shot and seriously wounded Charles O. Swanberg, cafe proprietor, during an argument over employment, was taken from Monterey, where he was arrested, to the county jail at Salinas today, awaiting arrival of officers from this city. They will bring him to San Francisco on the 6:20 p. m. train.

Swanberg today denied the self-defense story told by Haase. He denied that a woman witnessed the shooting, and asserted that he did not attempt to hit Haase with a chair.

The prisoner's claim that Swanberg told him he could not fulfill his promise of employment because of the assailant's German name was also called false.

The sheriff at Salinas says he believes Haase is sane.

Haase, captured by a constable, who recognized him from pictures despite the fact that his moustache was shaved off, declared that he had been promised the management of the cafe and induced to leave another place; that Swanberg then refused him the place, and that, in the argument that followed, the cafe proprietor attacked him with a chair and he shot in self-defense.

His brother-in-law, declaring that Haase had declared that he would never be taken alive, asked that he be watched lest he attempt suicide.

Haase declared that he had been a head waiter for nineteen years in San Francisco and St. Louis, and that he was induced to leave the position to come to Swanberg's establishment. Swanberg then informed him, according to his story, that his name was too German and might offend English patrons.

Swanberg declares that he offered the man a position as floor manager, and that a misunderstanding arose. He has assisted Haase's family financially since the shooting, and declares it as his belief that Haase was temporarily insane.

Decision May Cost Man $50,000

Common-Law Wife to Secure Property

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Dominico Francisconi, a wealthy contractor, probably will lose $50,000 as the result of Superior Judge Mogan's decision today that Agatini Franciscont is his true and lawful wife. She filed suit charging cruelty and demanding half of his $100,000 estate as community property. The trial was halted when Dominico introduced the point that he had married Agatini at an ecclesiastical ceremony but without the civil ceremony that the law of Italy demands, and sailed for this country immediately after the clergyman had said the service.

The Franciscomis lived for two years in Chicago, and today Judge Mogan decided that their residence there was prior to the repeal by the Illinois Legislature of the common law statute and that living together for that period constituted marriage.

The original trial will proceed.

Boys Find World Cold and Large

Two Ride Beams; Are Found by Police

Sol Schultz, 14 years of age, and Romaine Meyer, 10 years, two Oakland boys, "rode the beams" of a freight train from this city to Stockton last night. Cold and exhausted, they were taken from a Western Pacific train shortly before 2 o'clock this morning by the Stockton police and will be returned to Oakland. The parents of Schultz, who live at 781 Fourteenth street, and those of Meyer, 117 Fifth street, were notified today. The boys had wanted to go to the country to seek work on a farm.

FOUR WOMEN ON DELEGATE LIST

Washington Representattives Chosen at State Convention.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., May 3.—Twenty-eight delegates to the National Convention at St. Louis, each having half a vote, were elected by the State Democratic convention here yesterday. Four of the delegates are women. Seven presidential electors also were named.

Hugh C. Wallace of Tacoma was chosen national committeeman, succeeding John Pattison of Spokane.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED.

The resolutions commended the Democratic tariff law as the "first in many years written without the advice or consent of specially privileged interests"; commended the new currency system, President Wilson's foresight and wisdom in keeping the country out of war, his course regarding Mexico and his attitude toward preparations, which was characterized as a "refusal" to consider turning the nation into an armed camp and to commit future generations to universal and unnecessary military training." Construction of the Alaskan railroad also was approved.

Regarding state affairs, the resolutions favored revision of the state constitution, endorse Governor Lister's administration for constructive efficient management, particularly in applying the eight-hour minimum wage law and effecting harmony between the state educational institutions.

Governor Lister in an address at the afternoon session announced that he would accept a renomination for governor if the Democrats of the state wanted him, but if they preferred another he gladly would support another candidate.

State Chairman Fogarty in opening the convention read a telegram from President Wilson conveying greetings from the president. The message was received with cheers.

Permanent organization was effected at the afternoon session with Howard Hathaway of Snohomish county as chairman and Carl Eshleman of Tacoma as secretary.

An attempt by the King county delegation to stampede the convention for Judson Shorett for national committeeman as against Hugh C. Wallace, the compromise choice of the party leaders, resulted in the only roll call of the day. Shorett was defeated, 771½ to 231½.

BAD CHECKS IN TRAIL OF NAVY GRAD

Lieutenant Pritchard Is Sought by Oakland Police

Wife Attributes Delinquencies to Auto Accident

The Oakland police have been seeking Lieutenant Earl W. Pritchard, Annapolis graduate, who disappeared from his home in San Francisco, March 8, since last October on a felony warrant, charging that he obtained $675 from P. H. Weber, 9333 East Fourteenth street, under false pretenses. Pritchard is wanted by Constable Moore of Santa Cruz on a similar charge.

According to the police, Pritchard obtained the money through misrepresentations concerning stocks and bonds. He had offices in Oakland and engaged in the bond brokerage business.

Mrs. Pritchard, who is living at the Dallas apartments, in Larkin street, San Francisco, is under the care of friends. She said that, following an automobile accident eighteen months ago, in which Pritchard ran down and killed a man, he became despondent in brooding over the death of the man and started drinking. It was after this that he became involved in financial difficulties and finally became a fugitive from justice.

Many See Man Leap 150 Feet to Death

SEATTLE, May 3.—Coroner's deputies today are trying to establish the identity of a man 21 years old who committed suicide late yesterday afternoon by climbing to the railing of the Twelfth avenue viaduct and plunging head first to the pavement 150 feet below.

Pedestrians and street car passengers saw him leap to his death.

A card in the man's coat pocket showed he had received treatment under the name of Bert Roche, at the city hospital April 29.—Attendants there say he was a ranch hand from Texas.

He had lived under that name for a few days at a local hotel.

The name sewed in his coat is W. S. Breen.

The new money provided will pay for the Venezuela, the Ecuador and the Columbia, steamers just purchased. The year ending February, 1916, showed a total earning of $1,661,936, a profit of $371,468.

Robbed While He Seeks for Match

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3. — George Clark, 278 Hickory avenue, was held up last night by a man and woman, who used the "Match Trick" to rob him of $115. Stopping him at a dark corner the man asked for a match. When the victim was feeling in his pockets he was seized and held, while the woman searched him. Investigation is being made by the police.

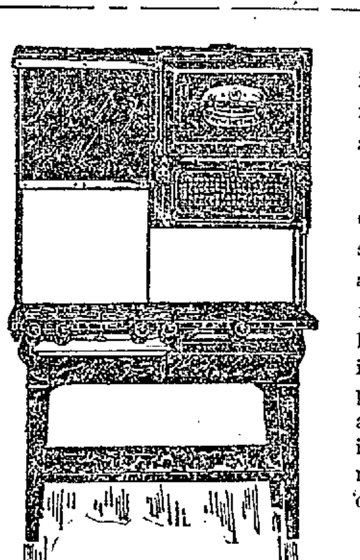
Will the Fact That You Saved a Few Dollars on the Purchase of Your Gas Range Give You Much Satisfaction a Year From Now?

In time the cost of the gas range is forgotten, but its value is always present.

The person who holds his dollars too close to his eyes, warps his judgment. He thinks too much of the money he holds, too little about tomorrow's usefulness.

He is not only penny-wise and pound-foolish, but dollar-wise and tomorrow-foolish.

There is little satisfaction to be had in saving a few dollars from the purchase price of your gas range if it is going to cost you several times more to operate it than it should.



New Method Ranges, because burners are made of steel, enameled inside as well as out, allowing the air to flow freely unhindered by rough burrs found inside every cast iron burner, consequently permit more than three times as much air to be mixed as in any other gas range, and means an actual saving in gas of from 20 to 40 per cent.

Compute your saving from last month's gas bill.

FINAL PLANS ARRANGED FOR BELGIAN MARKET FEATURES

Society Women to Cook, Sew and Sell Goods for Charity Saturday

Last plans were gone over, new features added to the occasion, and several novel attractions planned, in the meeting held this morning by the committees in charge of the arrangements for the Belgian Relief Market, to be held next Saturday in the city hall square. The meeting was held in the Belgian Market headquarters in the Federal Realty building.

Reports of every plan were made at the meeting, and the members of the different committees on booths announced the attendants at these.

Interest centered on the special attractions for the day. The open-air luncheon place, to be constructed from borrowed bottoms of election tents, was fully planned, and it was decided to locate the delicatessen and coffee establishments near this place.

Society women will sell vegetables, fish, delicatessen, fancy work, clothing, and all manner of household goods and commodities at the big fair, and several novelties, such as a fish pond for children, a fortune telling booth, an open-air performance, and the picnic luncheon, will be features. Mrs. Edward Lacy Brayton and Miss Carmen Ghirardelli will fry French doughnuts for the big crowds. Mrs. J. F. Carlston, will sell flowers.

The affair will be to aid the funds of the American Relief Commission working in Belgium under the direction of Herbert C. Hoover. It is under the auspices of the Alameda County Relief Association branch, headed by Mrs. Mark L. Requa.

Among those who will sell goods at the market are the following:

Two Men Drowned in Attempt to Rescue

MARYSVILLE, May 3.—John L. Molton, 33 years old, and Joseph O'Conner, 22, were drowned today at Long Bridge, Sutter county, when Molton jumped into the river in an attempt to save O'Conner who had fallen in and was unable to swim.

O'Conner clutched his would-be rescurer, who was unable to break the grip of the drowning man and they both sank. The bodies were recovered.

A Real Flesh Builder for Thin People

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay-there" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to charge weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and Osgood Bros. Drug Stores and all other good druggists in this vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every large package.—Advertisement.

Society and Those Socially Inclined

At noon today Miss Dorothy Churchill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Churchill, was married to Herman Hess at an al fresco wedding at the Churchill country place, "To Kalon," near Napa. The Churchills lived for several years in Piedmont and a number of Oakland guests motored up for the event. It was a very beautiful ceremony on the lawn, and later a wedding breakfast was served at small tables in the garden. The bride, who is piquant and pretty, was very attractive in a gown of white Georgette crepe with a white picture hat. Her only attendant was Miss Franc Pierce of San Francisco, who wore blue chiffon with a broad-brimmed black picture hat. After the honeymoon the young couple will make their home at To Kalon, where Hess is manager of the Churchill vineyards.

Mrs. Hess is a very fascinating girl, who has been a favorite in society across the bay. She has traveled abroad and spent two years in Paris with a chaperone while she studied music. Her voice has been heard at a number of charity fetes across the bay in the past winter. The Churchills keep an apartment in San Francisco and spend much time there.

Among Oakland guests at the wedding were Mrs. W. G. Henshaw, Mrs. Alla Chickering, Mrs. Charles Keeney, Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Mrs. Dan Belden, Mrs. Lucie May Hayes, Mrs. John Pym Neville, Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Miss Alice Grimes and Miss Farrier. Better Food, Better Home, Is Plea Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn to Give Course

MRS. KATE B. VAUGHN, WHO WILL CONDUCT TRIBUNE'S COURSES IN HOME ECONOMICS.

Methods of Domestic Science to Be Told by Expert for The Tribune

The study of household arts is the newest of the sciences. It holds for its charter better health, greater happiness and longer life. It was not a science of ancestral wisdom that in the past, so little thought was given to the choice of what should be done. Nowadays, every housewife recognizes the vital importance of rational feeding. All of this leads up to the coming of Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn to Oakland next week. The event is sure to prove one of more than ordinary interest. Only a small fraction of women in this community, as elsewhere, have been privileged to take up the study of cookery. University and college graduates in domestic science are comparatively few, but there are thousands of women in Oakland who studied homemaking and housekeeping under Mrs. Vaughn's superior tutelage last season, and who will gladly welcome the opportunity to do this again.

SECOND ANNUAL COURSE.

This opportunity is to be accorded them next week, when under the auspices of The TRIBUNE Mrs. Vaughn will conduct a second annual Better Foods Better Homes course in Auditorium Oper House. This will include a lecture and cookery lesson every afternoon from Monday the 8th to Saturday the 13th, inclusive. To these sessions all housewives of Oakland are cordially invited.

Mrs. Vaughn has devoted many years of her life to brightening and lightening the essential affairs of the kitchen. She is one of those sunshiny souls who put a song into every task. Just to look at her is refreshing. The moment she speaks one instinctively knows she is a Southern woman. Women like her and she likes women. Out of her large experience she has helped countless thousands make better choice of wholesome and nutritious foods. In her lecture and cookery course here next week she will demonstrate what to have for breakfast, what constitutes a satisfactory and nourishing lunch and just what foods go to make up the sort of dinner a man needs after a hard day's work. The discussion of each of these meals and the demonstration of foods suitable for each one will be taken up on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday consecutively. Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be devoted to general demonstrations of things good to eat. Especial attention will be given to successful cake-baking and Mrs. Vaughn has some new and interesting cake recipes to offer.

PROBLEMS ARE HANDLED.

It will be remembered by the women who attended her classes here last season that she is intensely practical with an enthusiasm that is catching. Women may bring their little troubles in household management to The TRIBUN'S Better Foods Better Homes school in perfect confidence that they will be helped in their solution. Mrs. Vaughn is a splendid cook. Her cakes are good to look upon and they are likewise good to taste. It is not telling tales out of school to whisper that at every session of The TRIBUNE Better Foods Better Homes school at Auditorium Opera House next week, there will be served samples of all of the good things. Everybody will get a taste of them, cakes, salads and pastry and all the rest of the foods.

Would Surrender Her Husband to a Rival

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Mrs. James H. Sampel, 669 Ellis street, who is seeking a divorce, yesterday revealed the motives which led her to surrender her husband to an interloping telephone girl.

Mrs. Sampel presents strange complexities and inconsistencies of thought. She declares that she will not tell the name of the telephone girl, because she does not want to ruin her. Yet she hopes that her husband will marry the girl, so that they will both be as miserable as she is.

Two children present another problem in the case. As Mrs. Sampel, a small, blonde woman, talked of her troubles, her 6-year-old son came in from the street to see if his sister, 2 years old, had awakened from her afternoon nap.

The baby was awake, and Mrs. Sampel hugged them. She said:

"I have become reconciled to the idea of giving him up; but I feel terribly about the babies. They ask for him all the time. But they will forget; I shall not. I was married when I was 17, and my husband always was and always will be the only man in the world for me."

Peerless Zoo Is Part of Big Circus

A vast number of circus-goers rush through the menagerie with scarcely a look at the animals, intent on getting into the "big-top," or main tent, in order to "get a seat," as they say. Even though one cannot secure a seat in the main tent, one might better view the exhibits in the menagerie at length. But in John Robinson's Ten Big Shows, which will appear in Oakland, May 8 and 9, Monday and Tuesday afternoon and evening, one can take one's time inspecting the peerless zoological department, resting assured that a good seat is available in the big tent, the seating capacity of which is said to be five thousand.

The time expended in observing the splendid specimens of animal life displayed in the modern circus menagerie is returned a thousand fold in the grand educational lessons in zoology. In this menagerie may be seen the best specimens of every species of animal life extant.

The circus menagerie is a great educational factor and is doing more to instruct young America in the matter of zoology than all the country's text books on the subject.

So remember these facts when you attend the circus and make a careful inspection of the menagerie.

We're Lotta Ganga Is New Organization

COLUMBUS, O., May 3. — "Were you ever engaged? Did you ever break your engagement? Are you the victim of the hardness of another's heart?"

Students at Ohio University here, who desire to find rest and peace for their weary minds and aching hearts, have organized the We're Hotta Ganga, new honorary Greek society, which will soon make its appearance among other recognized fraternities on the university campus. At least one broken engagement is necessary for membership.

Elopers Still Wait for Parental Forgiveness

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Parental forgiveness has not come to Archibald M. Alexander and his bride of five weeks, the former Frances Clift, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clift of this city, who returned to San Francisco last night from their honeymoon in Southern California. They are at the Hotel Stewart.

The girl's parents disapproved of this marriage, which took place March 25 at Fresno. The bride has been waiting and hoping for forgiveness since.

Alexander, apparently, is optimistic. He said:

"Everything is all right; it has all blown over."

GARIS' BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Going out again, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, one morning, as she saw the rabbit gentleman taking his red-white-and-blue-striped rheumatism crutch down off the clock shelf.

"Well, yes, Janie, I did think of going out for a little stroll in the forest," said the bunny uncle, talking like a phonograph. What he meant was that he was going for a walk in the woods, but he thought he'd be polite about it, and stylish, just for once.

"Don't forget your umbrella," went on Nurse Jane. "It looks to me very much, as though there would be a storm."

"I think you're right," Uncle Wiggily said. "Our April showers are not yet over. I shall take my umbrella."

So with his umbrella and the rheumatism crutch Nurse Jane had gnawed for him out of a cornstalk, off started the bunny uncle, hopping over the fields and through the woods.

Pretty soon Uncle Wiggily met Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy.

"Where are you going, Johnnie?" asked the rabbit gentleman. "Are you off in the woods, looking for an adventure? That's what I'm doing."

"No, Uncle Wiggily," answered the squirrel boy. "I'm not looking for an adventure. I'm looking for hazel nuts."

"Hazel nuts?" cried the bunny uncle in surprise.

"Yes," went on Johnnie. "You know they're something like chestnuts, only without the prickly burrs, and they're very good to eat. They grow on bushes, instead of trees. I'm looking for some to eat. They are nice, brown, shiny nuts."

"Good!" cried the rabbit gentleman. "We'll go off together looking for hazel nuts, and perhaps we may also find an adventure. I'll take the adventure and you can take the hazel nuts."

"All right!" laughed Johnnie, and off they started.

On and over the fields and through the woods went the bunny uncle and Johnnie, until, just as they were close to the place where some hazel nuts grew on bushes, there was a noise behind a big black stump—and suddenly out pounced a bear!

"Oh, hello, Neddie Stubtail!" called Johnnie. And he was just going up and shake paws when Uncle Wiggily cried:

"Look out, Johnnie! Wait a minute! That isn't your friend Neddie!"

"Isn't it?" asked Johnnie, surprised-like, and he drew back.

"No, it's a bad old bear—not our nice Neddie, at all! And I think he is going to chase us! Get ready to run!"

So Johnnie Bushytail and Uncle Wiggily got ready to run. And it was a good thing they did, for just then the bear gave a growl, like a lollypop when it falls off the stick, and the bear said:

"Ah, ha! And oh, ho! A rabbit and a squirrel! Fine for me! Tag—your it!" he cried, and he made a jump for Uncle Wiggily and Johnnie.

But do you s'pose the bunny uncle and the squirrel boy stayed there to be caught? Indeed, they did not!

"Over this way! Quick!" cried Johnnie. "Here is a hazel nut bush, Uncle Wiggily. We can hide under that and the bear can't get us!"

"Good!" said the bunny uncle. And he and Johnnie quickly ran and hid under the hazel nut bush, which was nearby.

The bear looked all around as he heard Uncle Wiggily and Johnnie running away, and when he saw where they had gone he laughed until his whiskers twinkled, almost like the rabbit gentleman's pink nose, and then the bear said:

"Ha! ha! and Ho! ho! So you thought you could get away from me that way, did you? Well, you can't. I can see you hiding under that bush almost as plainly as I can see the sun shining. Here I come after you."

"Oh, dear!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "What shall we do, Johnnie? I don't want the bear to get you or me."

"And I don't, either," spoke the little squirrel boy.

"I wonder if I could scare him away with my umbrella, Johnnie?" went on Uncle Wiggily. "If I only had some talcum powder I could make believe it was a gun. Have you any talcum powder?"

"No," said Johnnie, sadly, "I have not."

"Have you any bullets?" asked the bunny uncle.

"No bullets, either," answered Johnnie, more sadly.

"Then I don't see anything for us to do but let the bear get us," sorrowfully said Mr. Longears. "Here he comes, Johnnie."

"But he shan't get us!" quickly cried the squirrel boy, as the bear made a jump for the bush under which the bunny and Johnnie were hiding. "He shan't get us!"

"Why not?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Because," said Johnnie, "I have just thought of something. You asked me for bullets a while ago. I have none, but the hazel nut bush has. Come, good Mr. Hazel Bush, will you save us from the bear?" asked Johnnie.

"Right gladly will I do that," the bush said.

"Then, when he comes for us!" cried Johnnie, "just rattle down, all over on him, all the hard nuts you can let fall. They will hit him on his ears, and on his soft and tender nose, and that will make him run away and leave us alone."

"Good!" whispered the hazel nut bush, rustling its leaves. "But what about you and Uncle Wiggily? If I rattle the nuts on the bear they will also fall on you two, as long as you are hiding under me."

"Have no fear of that!" said the bunny uncle. "I have my umbrella, and I will raise that and keep off the nuts."

Then the bear, with a growl, made a dash to get Uncle Wiggily and Johnnie. But the hazel bush shivered and shook himself and "Rattle-te-bang! Bung-bung! Bang!" down came the hazel nuts all over the bear.

"Oh, wow!" he cried, as they hit him on his soft and tender nose. "Oh, wow! I guess I'd better run away. It's hailing!"

And he did run. And because of Uncle Wiggily's umbrella held over his head, the nuts did not hurt him or Johnnie at all. And when the bear had run far away the squirrel boy gathered all the nuts he wanted, and he and Uncle Wiggily went safely home. And the bear's nose was sore for a week.

So if the hickory nut cake doesn't try to sit in the same seat with the apple pie and get all squeezed like a lemon, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Susie's dress.

CABARET SHOW ENLIVENS VOTING

Music and Baseball Game Feature Balloting in Eighteenth.

ALAMEDA, May 3.—Election stunts with a cabaret show and baseball game were the attractions offered voters yesterday in precinct 18 by Inspector George J. Foster, George McCraith, young and unmarried; Carl Bruntsch, ditto and likewise; Miss Gertrude Sutton, young and unmarried; Miss Jennie Bacon, ditto and likewise, were the stars of the carabet show and ball game. G. W. Taylor, with Foster as stage manager, completed the sextet which entertained voters with morning and afternoon performances.

Miss Sutton brought her ukulele, George McCraith brought his baritone voice, Carl Bruntsch joined in the singing and Miss Bacon knew all the late songs. Inspector George Foster enjoyed it all and Judge W. G. Taylor endured it all. There was the ukulele accompanied by song. Then there was the ukulele alone and there was song alone.

In the afternoon the quartet of musicians played "three-hole-cat," with Inspector George Foster as umpire and Judge W. G. Taylor still suffering. But in spite of the concert, the ball game and the other drawbacks, the precinct went for the regular Republican ticket.

Young People to Hear Special Music

BERKELEY, May 3.—A concert of extraordinary merit has been planned for the next Young People's concert which will be given at the high school auditorium Thursday afternoon of this week at 3:30 o'clock. This is the fourth concert of the season of five.

The artists for this occasion will be Miss May Muckle the famous English cellist, who is one of the best-known concert artists, and Miss Ada Clement, pianist, who had the distinction of being the soloist with the San Francisco Symphony orchestra. Miss Clement is also to be soloist with the San Francisco People's orchestra, which is giving a series of Sunday afternoon concerts at the Civic Auditorium.

The Young People's concerts were inaugurated five years ago by William Edwin Chamberlain for the musical education of the young people of Berkeley and they have been a great factor in stimulating an artistic appreciation among these young concert-goers.

Mary Domingo Is Held to Answer

Mrs. Mary Domingo was held to answer today on a charge of bigamy by Judge George Samuels on the complaint of her first husband, Manuel Domingo. The second husband was Charles Monroe, a former soldier.

Domingo is a brother of the late Rosie Domingo, who was murdered near Stege by Said Ali, a Hindu, three years ago. The first wedding of the defendant and Domingo occurred about the time of the murder, and the dead girl's name frequently was heard at the preliminary examination.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of even the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription for special diseases, makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Oakland Tribune.—Advertisement.

Awakes to Wave Adieu to Clothes

Architect Sees Trousers Fly Out Window

BERKELEY, May 3.—Instead of donning his light spring suit this morning when he started for his office, Ernest Coxhead, an architect residing in Cloyne Court apartments, was compelled to resurrect a more sombre set of garments from his wardrobe because, at the early hour of 5:20 a. m., he had seen his trousers vanish through an open window.

Upon retiring last night, Coxhead placed his trousers over a chair which was standing close to a window. Being a believer in the virtues of ventilation, he left the window wide open. Long before his customary hour of arising, he was awakened by a noise and opened his eyes just in time to see a man's head and shoulders above the sill. While he was still rubbing his eyes, the vision vanished and with it went his trousers, together with $40, and a pass book with the First National Bank of San Francisco.

Makes Discoveries of Diseases of Mice

BERKELEY, May 3.—Even field mice can look thin and emaciated and when found in such condition, according to Professor C. A. Kofoid of the department of zoology of the University of California, are afflicted with "giardia microti." Kofoid made this discovery in conjunction with Miss Elizabeth Christiansen and the subject of investigation were just ordinary field mice caught in Strawberry canyon.

Results of the investigation have been published by Professor Kofoid in the university publications. Miss Christiansen is a junior student in the College of Letters and Science.

CLASS WEATHER IS 'RAINEY' AT U. C.

BERKELEY, May 3.—Fifty honorary offices created by the senior class of the University of California and including such titles as class garage, class bun, class croak, class baggage, class sob and the like are being successfully filled by as many members of the 1916 class. These offices created for individual members of the class were purely honorary and were easily filled. Following is the list of offices and the office holders.

Class weather, Bill Rainey; class garage, Hudson Ford; class squeezer, P. C. Gripper; class wild animal, Dick Maddox; class bird, Stork Carlisle; class zoo, C. W. Drake; Clarkson Crane, Miss Elena Crow; meeting place, C. C. Hall; class farmer, B. B. Rakestraw; class baggage, H. F. Trunk; class alley, C. H. Street; class prohibitionist, W. D. Waterman; class sot, H. B. Fuld; class haberdasher, J. H. Schaertzer; class favorites, N. C. Beers, J. H. Stein; class sob, Miss Anita Wales; class convict, George Poundstone; class curse, M. B. Custer; class Mormon, L. Brigham; class pain, Mabel Achers; class humorist, Clinton de Witt; class explosion, Miss Jane Bangs; class completion, H. W. Dunn; class co-ed, Miss Blanche Sherer; class finish, Miss Helen Decay; class bore, Wayland Augur; class bun, C. H. Baker; class croak, Jim Dyer.

With this outlay of latent talent the senior class is well supplied in offices both honorary and otherwise, and it is thought that several other offices could have been created had the committee in charge deemed it advisable to create more than fifty offices.

War Literature Shelfs Professor Cory's Work

BERKELEY, May 3.—The taste of the reading public is too devoted to war to give higher literature its chance. So, to his distinct disgust, Professor Herbert E. Cory of the University of California English department has discovered. Seven years' work on the part of the distinguished author has resulted in the completion of his book, "Edmund Spenser, a Critical Essay." Now the publishers who had promised to bring it out have pronounced an indefinite postponement.

They explain that the public's taste has been whetted by the war fever until nothing but war romances, war adventures and tactical expositions are palatable. After college closes Dr. Cory plans a trip east to reason with his recalcitrant agents.

U. C. Has But Two Grads in Congress

BERKELEY, May 3.—The University of California has but two graduates in Congress despite the fact that two-thirds of the members are men with college training. The University of Michigan is the best represented, there being 26 congressmen in the present session which have attended that institution. Harvard has 20, University of Virginia 19 and Yale 16.

The statistics were procured by the university through the congressional directory and by means of the same source it was found that 68 per cent of the members of the senate have been to a college or law school and 63 per cent of the members of the house have had this training.

Death Result of Fall to Sidewalk

BERKELEY, May 3.—Stricken with apoplexy as he was leaving a roominghouse at 1522 Shattuck avenue early this morning, a man believed to be A. E. Taylor, of Oakland, fell unconscious to the sidewalk and died before medical aid could be summoned. In the opinion of the attendant physician at the Roosevelt Hospital, death may have been caused by the striking of his head on the corner of the house steps.

In the dead man's pockets was found a postal card addressed to A. E. Taylor, 1835 Seventh street, Oakland, and signed by Mr. and Mrs. W. Miller of Grand View, Cal. Taylor was about 65 years of age and had been staying in Berkeley only a few days.

Meyer Re-elected Claremont President

BERKELEY, May 3.—At the annual meeting of the Claremont Club last night at the club house on Hillcrest road, officers for the coming year were elected. Arthur Meyer was re-elected president of the club and Mrs. Ernest Tanner was again named vice-president, while the other officers named were: Mrs. E. J. Burg, second vice-president; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. L. Wolfe; recording secretary, Fenton P. Foster; treasurer, M. L. Delaney.

A subscription list was started in order to further plans to enlarge the floor space in the club and to extend the stage facilities. The work will be done during the summer.

ADOPT BUDGETS.

BERKELEY, May 3.—Budgets for supplies for the grammar and high schools for the fiscal year 1916-'17 were adopted last night at the regular meeting of the Board of Education. For the grammar grades an estimate of $11,054 was made and for the high school $1,651. Bids were opened for four pianos for the intermediate high schools and referred to the committee on supplies.

FAMILY FOOLED WHEN FATHER WEDS

John Haviside Marries Housekeeper in Elopement to San Rafael.

BERKELEY, May 3.—Concealing his plans from his sons and daughters with as great a zest as any romantic youth of the eloping age, John J. Haviside, 71 years of age, former president of the ship chandlery firm of Haviside, Withers & Davis of San Francisco, and a prominent figure in the maritime world for the last half-century stole away yesterday to San Rafael with his housekeeper, Gertrude Ada Schillington, 33 years of age. There a marriage license was secured, and the two were pronounced man and wife by "Marrying Justice of the Peace W. F. Magee.

Haviside, who is a man of independent means, had given no hint to his children that he contemplated a second marriage. John J. Haviside Jr., president of the chandlery firm, was notified of the event at his summer home in Martinez.

This is a complete surprise to me," he said, "but there is little that I can say, for my father is over 21. I have known Miss Schillington only through her being with my father for the past three years as his housekeeper. She came from England, and has no relations in California, I believe."

Harry T. Haviside, the other son, who resides at 1370 Seventh avenue, San Francisco, was equally surprised by the news of his father's matrimonial venture. Besides his two sons, Haviside has two married daughters, Mrs. Fred Swan, 2530 Benvenue avenue, Berkeley, and Mrs. W. F. Withers of Martinez.

CHEERS GREET MEN WHO CAUGHT FIEND

GRASS VALLEY, May 2.—James Rowett and William Tresidder, the men who gave the information that led to the arrest of George Holland, miner, sentenced to fifty years at Folsom for a fiendish assault upon the two little Phillips girls in this city, were offered the $500 reward offered by the citizens' committee. They refused to accept the money and asked that it be turned over to the two little innocent victims. The committee, however, took into consideration the fact that Tresidder is not in the best of health and requested that he keep $100, leaving $400 to be divided equally between Gladys and Edith Phillips.

REMARKABLE DEMONSTRATION.

One of the most remarkable demonstrations of Grass Valley's history took place in the streets Saturday night when Rowett and Tresidder were publicly thanked for their act of public service in bringing Holland to justice.

Following the adjustment of the reward and the refusal of the men to accept it, it was quickly decided by the citizens' committee to present them with some testimonial of public service. Several hundred dollars were raised in a few minutes and a handsome gold watch and chain was purchased for Rowett. For Tresidder a handsome silver cigarette case was obtained.

Hundreds of people surrounded the two men and cheered them while C. E. Clinch made the presentation in behalf of the committee.

CENSURED FOR "SQUEALING."

In response, Rowett asserted that three or four of his boarders had censured him for "squealing" and that he had forcibly ejected one of the men, named Roberts, from his house. The expressions of the crowd which followed Rowett's remarks indicated that the people were in no temper to have such people as these men who upheld Holland around. District Attorney Armstrong at once obtained the names of the individuals and instructed the sheriff to notify them that their presence was no longer desired. The names of the men aside from Roberts were withheld, the officers fearing more violence.

Gladys, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Phillips, is still in a very critical condition and reports from her bedside are discouraging.

TAXPAYERS VOTE AGAINST RECALL

RED BLUFF, May 3.—Although the Superior courtroom at the courthouse was packed by members of the Tehama County Taxpayers' Association and others, the motion to start recall proceedings against the Board of Supervisors, the assessor and district attorney received but one vote, that of Harry Polsley, the author of the motion.

A lengthy report was presented to the meeting of alleged irregularities upon the part of the supervisors and the district attorney and the assessor. An opinion of an attorney was read, declaring the employment of R. L. Rankin, timber cruiser, illegal.

Polsley declared that many residents of the county were in favor of the recall. Numerous members of the Taxpayers' Association addressed the meeting and many were against recall proceedings.

BOWEL COMPLAINTS IN INDIA.

In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Iowa, churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

They will hold office for a period of two years. These members together with those already in office will form the governing body for the year to come.

E. A. Blockinger, Mrs. Wellyn B. Clark, W. A. Hale, Robert Whetmore and Miss Annie Woodall are the present directors. Reports were given last night by the heads of the various standing committees and Mayor Irving, president of the organization, gave a short talk.

The club decided to hold its last social meeting of the club year on May 8, which will take the form of a reception to the retiring members.

State Has Largest Variety of Birds

BERKELEY, May 3.—There are 541 distinct species of birds in the State of California, according to a book recently published by Dr. Joseph Grinnell of the department of zology at the University of California. This is a larger variety of birds than are found in any other state not excluding Texas, which is practically twice as large as California.

Among the rarer species found here are Mother Carey's chickens, which have formerly only inhabited the Atlantic coast, an Ahluga, or water turkey, a native of Florida and Mexico, and the warbler and water thrush, usually found in the southern states.

EXPECT THRILLS AT COUNCIL SESSION

Threatened Resignation Is Cause of Excitement in Alameda Politics.

ALAMEDA, May 3.—The city council will undoubtedly play to a full house tonight. The summary adjournment of the meeting two weeks ago, the Central avenue bids, the threatened resignation of Councilman A. F. Heuer, the promised appointment of a member of the board of education to succeed James Shanly, the Encinal avenue protest, and numerous other smaller matters are certain to draw a big lobby to the council chambers.

Among the prominent men hitherto not figured outright as Shanly supporters, is T. C. West. He added to this a statement that he was for Shanly on the board of education and had used what influence he had in Shanly's behalf.

Councilman Heuer's threatened resignation from the council vies with the election result in being the main topic of talk in Alameda today. Heuer was named by Mayor Bartlett to fill a vacancy and he has been a consistent supporter of the Mayor's program of action until now. Heuer declares that the mayor is trying ten-cent politics. As a mark of his disapproval of the mayor's course Heuer threatens to resign. The break between the mayor and Heuer is regarded as particularly significant, for Heuer has been the mayor's leading supporter in the council.

Heuer acted on the belief that the mayor was to reappoint Shanly and was giving Heuer the chance to do graceful act in apprising Shanly of the mayor's expected action. He says he followed the program to this point but was chagrined and angry when he learned that the mayor had briefly informed Shanly the latter was to be "thrown out" of the board of education.

Taken all in all, tonight's meeting will probably be a record-breaker.

Paul Revere Held for Shooting Woman

Paul Revere was held to answer on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder for shooting Mrs. Ethel Fernald in a lower Washington street lodging house. The two had formerly been connected through a scandal when the woman left her husband. Jealousy of other men was given by Revere as the cause of his act. Mrs. Fernald was shot through the jaw and has been in the hospital since February 7, when the shooting occurred.

Ask Restriction of Rendering Business

A petition signed by 200 residents and property owners of West Oakland asking that the rendering of tallow, lard or fat be prohibited, excepting in a restricted district, was filed with the city council today. The petition was referred to Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Jackson. The property owners are objecting to a soap factory near Twenty-sixth and Poplar streets.

REGAL

SCOTCHMEN have a droll saying, "Wherever MacGregor sits is the head of the table." Wherever you see the Regal Boot swinging outside a store you know that inside is the fountain-head of Authentic Shoe Fashions due to a World-Knowledge of Style Requirements, which separates the sound and lasting fashion from the unsound and passing fad.

Regal is both first to bring out a fresh style and first to drop a stale one. Thus, you cannot buy, even if you wanted to, at a Regal Store any model but one of established fashion and approved good taste.

As for quality, workmanship and wear, you know nothing of what goes into a Shoe, but you can depend upon what comes out of a Regal Factory, because 25 years' reputation and a world-wide fame MUST rest upon keeping faith with the public.

Loses Finger Tip in William Tell Act

BELLA VISTA, May 3.—In a modified William Tell act Thomas J. Lofton was shot through the finger by Roy Hill, a boy of fifteen years. Young Hill, who is a good marksman, is the owner of a new 22-rifle. Lofton, bragging on the accuracy of the Hill boy's aim, declared he would hold up his hat at a distance of forty yards and let the young marksman shoot a hole in it.

Roy Hill demurred, but Lofton insisted.

Lofton held his hat at arm's length and the boy fired. Young Hill missed the hat but his bullet nipped off the outer end of Lofton's right forefinger.

SCHOOL BOY IS SLAIN BY HORSE

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—A 4-year-old Japanese boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Terao, residing at 1218 Fourth street, ran beneath the hoofs of a horse and received injuries from which he died a few minutes later. The accident occurred on Fourth, M and N, as the little fellow was on his way to a Japanese kindergarten school.

He had stopped to talk to a woman and as he left her he started to cut across the street and ran under the hoofs of a horse driven by I. Ishida, vegetable driver from the Sorosa ranch, near Oak Park. The injured boy was rushed to a physician's office, but he died a few minutes later. A pathetic scene was enacted in the physician's office as the mother and sister of the dying boy stooped about the couch and begged the doctor to prevent death.

AUBURN, May 3.—Alden Anderson of Sacramento and Herbert Fleishhacker of San Francisco, capitalists, have closed a deal for the purchase of the Graham tract, eight miles northeast of Auburn. The consideration is understood to be close to $100,000. The tract contains 4700 acres.

No information has been given out here as to the disposition to be made of the land, but there is a hint that it may be made a fine modern stock farm.

The deal was handled by Anderson for the purchasers. He made a personal inspection of the property a short time ago.

PROFIT SHARING SCHEMES TESTED

National Civic Federation Investigates Over 300 in Last Year.

The National Civic Federation has made public an exhaustive report on the various profit-sharing plans tried in the United States. More than 300 such schemes are said to have been tested here, and civic workers have investigated more than 200 in the last twelve months.

Among those quoted in the report are George W. Perkins, Charles M. Schwab, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, and others.

It is brought out that the leaders of labor unions appear almost unanimous in opposition to the theory and practice of profit-sharing. On the contrary, many employers consider the schemes a success.

"Many reasons," says the report, "are given by these employers for their faith in the idea. Among these are that it promotes more continuous service, reduces cost of production, secures more regular attendance at work, builds up confidence and creates a spirit of co-operation, encourages home building, enables the company to keep its employes during rush seasons, induces salesmen and others to work harder, promotes efficiency, interest and loyalty, and increase the profits of the business."

"Yet," the report continues, "employers who have had experience on the subject are by no means a unit as to its practical value. Some employers express disappointment that the efforts of their companies were not appreciated by the men; that they prefer their total earnings in fixed wages, with no variable element; that they were suspicious of the employers' motives; that they insisted upon joining unions and presenting demands in spite of the companies' effort to give them an extra share of the business; that when new stock was sold to employes upon favorable terms they would dispose of it at a profit when its value rose, and so get the habit of watching the stock market; that when the profit distribution was large the employes learned to expect a similar bonanza every year, and were disgruntled if they did not get it."

HORSE RACERS HOLD MEETING

NEW YORK, May 3.—Action was taken at the spring meeting here yesterday of the board of review of the National Trotting Association to join with the American Trotting Association in framing a code of uniform rules for the racing season of 1917. John C. Welty of Canton, O., the president, was directed to appoint a committee to undertake the work.

Much of the session was devoted to the consideration of horses racing out of their class and to the identification of horses. It was understood that action as to whether the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association should withdraw from the National Association also would be discussed, probably when the meeting is resumed today.

W. H. Gocher was re-elected secretary and treasurer for a term of four years. Vacancies in the board of appeals have not yet been filled.

NEW TRAPSHOOTING RECORD IS MADE

LOS ANGELES, May 3. — Frank Mellus of this city is today the holder of a new trap shooting record for the Pacific coast. During the three-day shoot, Mellus broke 396 out of 400 birds, a ninety-nine per cent mark. This is a record for the Pacific coast.

O. N. Ford of San Jose holds the trap shooting championship of Los Angeles, following his victory over thirty-five marksmen in a handicap tournament here yesterday. Ford broke ninety-five, shooting from the twenty-two yard line.

Although Ford won the city championship, Frank Mellus was the star of the meet.

WASHINGTON TRAINS FOR U. C. RACE

SEATTLE, Wash., May 3. — University of Washington oarsmen ended a three weeks' rest following their victory over Stanford university here, April 7, and began training yesterday for their race with eastern crews, either here or at Poughkeepsie. A race with the University of California eight is scheduled for May 22 on Lake Washington, but it is known that members of the Washington board of control do not favor such a race since California lost to Stanford by eight lengths.

The board will meet Thursday night to decide definitely whether to bring the California crews north.

NEW SPEED RECORD IS SET UP

NEW YORK, May 3.—Ralph Mulford broke all automobile records for from one to twenty-four hours yesterday at Sheepshead Bay speedway when he covered 1519 and a fraction miles in twenty-four hours. The best previous distance for a twenty-four hour run was made by S. F. Edge nearly nine years ago on the Brooklands track in England. Edge covered 1581 miles in the twenty-four hours.

The trial yesterday was sanctioned by the American Automobile Association and timed by its representative.

As far as a possible change in the present high shipping rates is concerned the offer for sale of several large lumber carriers and coastwise vessels during the past few days means nothing, according to B. W. Linderman, brother of Fred Linderman, Alameda, and a partner in the Linderman Lumber and Shipping Company.

"There are no indications that there will be any immediate change in the shipping rates in the coastwise trade at least," said Linderman. "The fact that quite a number of lumber steamers have been offered for sale lately has no bearing on the question of rates so far as I can see. Ship owners realize they can secure high prices for their vessels at the present time and are therefore willing to sell. That they are influenced in their desire to sell by the likelihood of an immediate lowering in the freight rates does not appear likely. Of course if the war stopped rates would probably be lowered but what indication do we have of a near peace?" Linderman concluded.

There is speculation in shipping circles on both sides of the bay as to the reason why so many coastwise vessels are being offered for sale, and one conjecture is that ship-owners want their vessels off their hands on account of the possibility of a drop in the shipping rates in the near future.

The steamer Cleone, the steamer Acme, the steamer Westerner, the schooner Annie Larsen and the schooners Mayflower and Albion are among the vessels now for sale which are frequent visitors to Oakland harbor. The steamer Daisy Freeman was sold late last week to Fair and Moran, who have opened up a general shipping and lumber business.

GRACE DOLLAR HERE FROM SEATTLE.

The steamer Grace Dollar left the Oakland estuary last night after unloading lumber at two yards from Seattle. She brought 250,000 feet of lumber to the Hunter Lumber Company and 50,000 feet for the Sunset Lumber Company.

ADELINE SMITH IS LARGE PROFIT MAKER.

Four times the size of an ordinary lumber carrying steamer the steamer Adeline Smith of the C. A. Smith Lumber Company, Captain B. W. Olsen, is now in Oakland for an overhauling and is proving one of the best profit makers in the coastwise lumber trade. With a carrying capacity of 1,600,000 feet of lumber, and unloading apparatus which ensures remarkable speed, the Adeline Smith has been making trips to and from the lumber ports with clockwork regularity. It is said that she has taken in something like $30,000 a month in lumber carrying during the past year. Like her sister ship, the Nan Smith, the Adeline has more the trim, well kept appearance of a passenger steamer than do the usual run of lumber vessels. She will leave Oakland today after drydocking at the United Engineering Company's yards.

CITY OF TOPEKA GETS NEW MAST IN SHORT ORDER.

Within less than two days a new mainmast has been made and installed on the steamer City of Topeka of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company at the Pacific shipyards. She arrived in the Oakland estuary Monday and will leave this morning. The removal of the old mast and the placing of the new in such short time is regarded as a speedy job. The City of Topeka is the second vessel of the Pacific Coast line to arrive in Oakland this week, the steamer City of Puebla leaving yesterday with 1000 tons of ore for Tacoma, Wash.

J. M. GRIFFITH LEAVES OAKLAND MONDAY.

The barkentine J. M. Griffith left Oakland this morning after receiving an overhauling at the yards of the United Engineering Company. She is owned by Uldrich Ottman of San Francisco and was for some time engaged in the Honolulu trade.

The yacht Athene, owned by Charles Miller, which came here from the East by way of the Panama Canal and which was given a cleaning on the United Engineering Company's drydock, left the estuary for across the bay yesterday.

William S. Brustar of the Brustar Shipyard Company signed up the contract Monday with the Government for the construction of five boats for the new light-house tender Cedar.

Produce for local commission merchants arrived at the California Transportation Company's wharf on the steamer Constance.

LEADING SPECIALTIES DISPLAY HEAVINESS

Opening of Market Marked by Declines in Best Known Stocks

NEW YORK, May 3.—Some of the better known specialties displayed marked heaviness on the resumption of trading today, Bethlehem Steel falling 14½ points, with declines of a point or more for Crucible Steel, the locomotives, Marine preferred, Studebaker, Butte and Superior and Great Northern Ore.

On the other hand the more hopeful feeling regarding Mexico found reflection in Mexican Petroleum and American Smelting, those issues recovering much of yesterday's loss.

U. S. Steel was unchanged and rails were fractionally lower, while the balance of the list was irregular at nominal changes.

AMERICAN STOCKS IN LONDON.

LONDON, May 3.—American securities declined on reports of labor troubles, but closed steady at the lower level.

PROFESSIONAL COMMENT.

Clark Childs says: Certain of the weaker lines like Denver, Southern Ry., Texas Pacific and other roads of the Vanderbilt system are apt to pass to one class above in the railroad group.

Baruch Bros. — There is plenty of money waiting investment and earning power is steadily and continually increasing.

Henry Clews & Co.—Home conditions warrant a better stock market but as long as situation is so seriously exposed to shocks resulting from the war it will be unsafe to depart from the present policy of caution and day by day operation.

N. Y. Financial News Bureau—While most of the market comment refers to the delay in the submarine reply and the Mexican complications being responsible for the abrupt reactionary tendency in the market there are strong reasons for believing the technical position has been strengthened.

Mines that have been closed for years will be worked. The profit of smelting companies will be very great. This stock should be bought on all declines.

GREEN BUG IS CAUSE OF TURN

Reports of Damage to Crops Lead Wheat Prices Substantially Upward.

CHICAGO, May 3. — Reports confirming green bug damage to the Oklahoma crop turned the wheat market up grade today after a weak opening.

The opening which ranged from ⅜c off to ¼c up, with May at $1.14⅝ to $1.15, and July at $1.15⅞ to $1.16⅛ were followed by a moderate upturn all around.

Reports of a decline in Manitoba wheat at Liverpool led to a setback. The effect was more than offset by export sales aggregating 1,000,000 bushels and by assertions that Hessian fly in Illinois had caused some plowing up of fields.

The close was firm, $5.08 to $5.08¾ net higher, with May at $1.15½ and July at $1.15¾@1.16¾.

Corn sagged in sympathy with the early weakness of wheat. After opening unchanged to ¼c down, prices averaged slightly lower than yesterday's finish.

Oats eased off owing to the bearish action of corn.

Larger receipts of hogs than expected led to declines in provisions.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Cash prices:

Corn—No. 2 yellow, 78c; No. 4 yellow, 74½@75c; No. 4 white, 74½c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 44¾@45¼c; standard, 48c.

Rye—No. 2, 97c.

Barley, 64@80c.

Timothy, $4.50@7.75.

COAST MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3. — Wheat steady, no trading.

Barley—Firm. Dec. $1.38; May $1.30½b $1.35 asked.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

India shipments — The government is not permitting the exportation of wheat from now onward. Shipments will be light as freights are scarce.

Seaboard claims that export business in wheat was not far from 2,000,000 bushels.

GRAIN MOVEMENTS.

Primary movement:
Wheat, 775,000, 1,159,000, 918,000.
Corn, 904,000, 784,000, 626,000.
Oats, 1,132,000, 1,281,000,534,000.
Shipments:
Wheat, 1,165,000, 851,000, 708,000.
Corn, 769,000, 610,000, 601,000.
Oats, 1,345,000, 1,093,000, 775,000.
Clearances, wheat and flour, 1,512,000 vs. 458,000.

CROP CONDITIONS.

Kansas City despatch over Hutton private wires says:

Weather was favorable for development of winter wheat and there is general improvement in most sections although some damage by greenbugs and hessian fly was reported. Seeding of wheat was delayed in extreme north and somewhat later in spring wheat than average.

Reports of Hessian fly in Illinois and of greenbug from Oklahoma is basis for present buying of wheat.

WACO, Texas, May 3. — Demand very light spot basis lower; weather clear and warmer; planting almost completed.

EXPERT OPINION.

Bartlett Frazier: The decline in wheat market may run a little further, but we believe purchases should be made on the setbacks and we are firm believers in much higher prices eventually. Corn is certainly stubborn, with the large holders showing no disposition to lighten up.

Clement Curtis & Co.: The wheat market will be sustained by the poor crop outlook and buying on the break is advisable. We think the deferred corn deliveries are a good purchase.

Ware & Leland: After a normal reaction we believe wheat will resume an upward trend. Favor purchases of corn on moderate recessions. Sales on fair rallies probably offer the best opportunities in oat market.

OIL STOCKS LOW IN TRADE BOOM

No General Upswing Since Bull Movement Culminated in Last December.

Have prices of the Standard Oil stocks touched bottom? With a few exceptions, active issues touched about the low levels of the year last week.

War and peace rumors and agitation for investigation of the high price of gasoline, have seemingly conspired in the last few months to depress quotations, in face of the most prosperous period the petroleum industry has ever enjoyed.

It has already been demonstrated that the European war is one of the largest factors in the present enormous consumption of petroleum. If this country is eventually dragged into the struggle, our own army and navy would use an increased amount of gasoline, lubricating, fuel and other oils, while additional ships would probably become available for the carrying of exports to the Allies. The oil companies themselves will put a large amount of new tonnage into commission before the end of the year.

The best authorities predict that peace will have no more than a temporary effect in curtailing foreign consumption. They believe that a short time after the war demand for petroleum products will be greater than ever. The far eastern markets will come in for the extensive development which is now hampered by scarcity of ships. Kerosene consumption in China is much below normal.

Following table shows the 1915 high and low prices of the active Standard Oil stocks, as compared with the high, low and last prices this year:

*Ex. 50 per cent stock dividend.

There has been no sustained general upswing in the oil stocks since the middle of last December, when the big bull movement culminated.

In the meantime oil and gasoline prices have advanced 20 to 30 per cent to the highest levels on record. For instance, Pennsylvania crude, now quoted at $2.60 a barrel, has advanced 30 cents a barrel and Kansas-Oklahoma at $1.55 is up 35 cents. Gasoline in New York is 4 cents a gallon higher at 24 cents tank wagon basis, in Philadelphia 6 cents higher at 25 cents and in San Francisco it is up 4 cents at 19.

Supply and Demand Says Oil Producer

The president of a large independent oil refining company says, regarding the gasoline situation: "We will start the summer with practically no gasoline stored, and I believe nearly all other refiners are in the same position. This is one potent reason why the price of gasoline is high and likely to mount higher during the summer.

"The most impartial and thorough investigation of the gasoline situation could not, in my judgment, lead to any conclusion other than that the price has been determined by the law of supply and demand. In former years producers emerged from the winter with their storage tanks filled with gasoline, ready to meet the heavy summer demand. During the past winter the oil was marketed as soon as produced and huge quantities of kerosene were stored instead.

"Another good reason for the high price is the fact that the gasoline content of all grades of crude petroleum has been steadily declining in the past few years.

"I am in accord with those who believe that the ultimate solution of the gasoline situation lies in the perfection of an engine that can be made to run with kerosene. It has been demonstrated that kerosene can develop a higher power than gasoline and if someone could devise a carburetor that would start on kerosene danger of a gasoline famine would be ended for all time. The result would probably be a drop of at least five cents in gasoline and a slight advance in kerosene.

"Kerosene could not well be adapted for pleasure cars, but for heavy commercial vehicles I think with a little experimenting it could be made an ideal fuel."

Dividend Increases Less Than Expected

Dividends and interest payments for May are estimated by Henry Clews, New York's veteran financier, at about $137,000,000, or more than $5,000,000 in excess of last year. The increase, he says, is smaller than expected in view of the large profits made by many industrials. The reasons why distributions have not been heavier are several. Large sums have been charged off for depreciation. Still larger sums have been taken out of earnings and put into plant, reappearing in the form of surplus and stock dividends.

Some companies are wisely strengthening themselves against future reaction by building up good reserves to maintain dividends; and all concerns are feeling the widespread rise in the cost of doing business, as well as the numerous concessions to labor, which will soon cut down dividends to more normal proportions.

Trade Conditions to Be Subject of Probe

WASHINGTON, May 3. — An early investigation of trade conditions in the countries of the world now at peace was announced today by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Work will be started probably in July. The aim is to ascertain what markets the war has opened to American commerce in neutral countries.

The investigation in South America will cover the market for twelve commodities—construction material and machinery, fancy groceries, furniture, glass and glassware, jewelry and silverware, motor vehicles, paper and printing supplies, railway supplies and stationery and office suplies.

In Africa, the far east and Australia the Bureau's agents will study markets for boots and shoes, electrical goods, motor vehicles and railway supplies.

COPPER PRODUCTION HIGH.

LOS ANGELES, May 3. — More than 2,000,000,000 pounds of copper will be the 1916 production record, according to prediction here today in a report by Seeley W. Mudd of the Chamber of Oil and Mines. This would be an increase of more than twenty-five per cent over the 1915 figures. The war in Europe is responsible, Mudd said.

STOCK AND BOND EXCHANGE

Sugar plantation stocks furnished the only interest at a very quiet session of the Stock and Bond Exchange this morning. These were slightly irregular, Union selling up a quarter to 32, Hutchinson an eighth to 31⅝; Honokaa off three-eighths to 14⅝; Hawaiian Sugar up an eighth to 50 and Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar off a quarter to 53. Pacific Gas and Electric first preferred sold up a quarter to 90⅝.

The only bond sale was of United Railroads of San Francisco 4s at 36½, off a half from last sales.

OIL AND MINING STOCKS

Extreme irregularity in the Tonopahs was the feature in the reopening session of the San Francisco Stock Exchange after the holiday. Bar silver high prices have attracted all the attention to this class, but the condition is unsettled. Tonopah Extension bounded to $7 and closed at $6.92½ bid. Belmont was not so strong, dropping to $5.20. North Star shot to a dollar and Jim Butler gained three to $1.10, Montana up three to 39, while Halifax dropped one to 92. Rescue Eula gained two to 48.

The Goldfield list was neglected with Goldfield Consolidated, Silver Pick and Florence selling each a cent higher. The few sales in the Comstocks were a cent higher in each Ophir, Mexican and Jacket.

Big Jim opened ten points lower at $1.20, dropped to $1.15 and was brought up on support to $1.25. The other stocks of the Oatman district were quiet.

Southern Pacific Removes Embargo

The Southern Pacific company announced yesterday that the embargo on eastbound shipments via the Sunset Gulf route to New York and other points on the Atlantic seaboard, reached via New York, would be lifted today with the exception of export shipments for European destinations under through bills of lading; shipments for direct sailing from Galveston to Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Charleston and shipments of barley.

The latter will only be taken when shippers have arranged with consignees in New York to agree that lighters will be provided to take immediate delivery upon arrival of the ships.

These exceptions are made necessary for three reasons. The trans-Atlantic ocean lines are not in a position to cope with the traffic moving from the United States to European countries. The united capacity of the entire fleet of Southern Pacific steamers will be required to take care of business offerings for New York and points beyond and for the present a vessel could not be diverted to the outport service without crippling the efficiency of the service to New York.

Third, the docks in New York are now pretty well congested with barley and it is necessary that immediate deliveries be made from vessels at New York to prevent another dock congestion.

WOOD FAMINE IF WAR HITS WEST

National Peril Is Told Delegates to Conservation Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Delegates to the National Conservation congress in session here today faced a threatened fight over the question of whether the body will maintain its opposition to removing from public ownership all undeveloped water power sites in the country. Another feature of the day was the report of the forestry committee, which strongly urged the cultivation of forests by federal, state and even municipal governments as a national defense measure.

This said:

"While for the next forty or fifty years at least the United States as a whole will have no difficulty in supplying high grade structural timber, many sections of the country which were once heavily timbered are already experiencing a shortage of local timber and are depending on importations from other states.

"If in case of invasion of a foreign nation our Pacific Coast should become cut off from the rest of the country the bulk of the timber resources would become inaccessible to us unless the southern and other timber regions of the country are built up and placed on a permanent basis."

Demands Ex-Wife Give Up Sketches

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Otto Wix, an artist, today applied in court for an order to force his divorced wife, Nellie, to surrender to him numerous art sketches in her possession. These, he held, are the foundation of his work, and without them he cannot earn a living. There was no provision in the divorce arrangements that his wife was to keep them. Mrs. Wix was cited to appear in court May 12, to show cause why she should not return the drawings.

Girl, Filmdom's Find Bessie Love Is Latest

BESSIE LOVE.

Not 18, She Is the Leading Lady in "The Aryan"

William S. Hart's rival for honors in "The Aryan," an Ince-Triangle production, now playing at the Franklin, is Bessie Love, one of the "finds" of the year in filmdom. Although not yet 18, Miss Love has advanced in the past six months from the position of "extra" lady to her present position as leading lady. It is predicted that the next six months will see her a film star in her own right.

"The Aryan" is an original story by C. Gardner Sullivan, author of William S. Hart's former successes, "Hell's Hinges" and "Between Men." The theme chosen by Sullivan for his story is based on the code of the Aryan race: "Our women shall be guarded, and a man of the white-skinned race may forget much—friends, duty, honor, but this he will not, he cannot forget."

Hart plays the part of a rugged man of the desert, who, having been fleeced of his fortune by the degraded women of a lawless town, turns against the feminine sex. He becomes the ruler of renegades in a self-built mining camp, utterly despising women for ensuing years, until he is awakened to the code of his race by a gentle, fearless girl, who trusts him.

The girl, with an unsullied love in her heart for everyone, goes to the man believing that because he is of the white race he will protect white women against his riff-raff crew of reds and browns. Her utter fearlessness and trust in him, despite all his attempts to terrorize her, slowly break down the power of his hate. The whole fabric of his badness dissolves in the light of her faith. His affection for the girl is too fine a thing to touch his senses. Yearning for so exquisite a companionship, he yet turns away in pure unselfishness, knowing himself unworthy.

"The Aryan" was produced on the sands of the Mojave desert.

MAXWELL DRIVEN ON ECONOMY RUN

Makes Trip Between Oakland and San Jose on Gallon of Gasoline.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

One of the most remarkable demonstrations of motor car efficiency ever given on the coast was conducted yesterday when Ray McNamara of the Maxwell Motor Sales Company was checked out from in front of the Oakland Auditorium in his Maxwell car, by the writer, and covered exactly 45.6 miles on the single gallon of gasoline before his car came to a stop at Santa Clara. Having made the trip to San Jose and started on the return lap of the journey on the gallon of Red Crown gasoline, bought and filled in the car under the writer's personal supervision at the start.

Acting as an official observer on the run was L. E. Warford, secretary of the Pacific Coast Motor Power Show and Lincoln highway official. Warford took charge of the official part of the demonstration with Ray McNamara looking after the mechanical end. It was Ray's object to get as much mileage out of the gallon of gasoline as possible. It was Warford's instructions to watch the car diligently and keep accurate tab on the mileage and report when the car stopped and where and the distance covered.

Warford's report to the Automobile Department of The TRIBUNE follows:

Mr. Ed Crinnion,
Auto Editor OAKLAND TRIBUNE,
City.

Dear Mr. Crinnion:

With reference to the motor trip made today in the Maxwell on the one gallon of gas, will say that when the motor stopped for the first time it was at Grant street, corner of Franklin avenue, opposite the Santa Clara College in Santa Clara, and the reading of the speedometer was 45.6 miles. Time, 3:25 p. m. Miss M. Redmond of 1020 Grant street, corner Franklin, who owns this property, was a witness.

Our route was Foothill boulevard, Hayward, Niles, Milpitas, Mission San Jose, through San Jose via Santa Clara street to Santa Clara, where the car stopped. The writer feels that this is a most remarkable test and the driver deserves great credit.

If I can ever be of any further service to you at any time feel free to call upon me.

Yours respectfully,
L. E. WARFORD.

The carburetor of the car was carefully inspected by the writer at the start of the run. The gasoline was poured into the gallon can fastened to the car after having been twice measured by the writer. The connections between the carburetor and the regular gasoline supply were severered before the single gallon of gasoline was put in the car. The only gasoline available over and above that filled in by The TRIBUNE representative was that already in the carburetor and according to McNamara that amount would still be in the carburetor when the car came to a final stop.

The making of the run from Oakland to San Jose on the single gallon of gasoline, a distance of 45.6 miles, including the short jog back via Santa Clara, where the car came to a stop, is considered remarkable and McNamara deserves considerable credit for his cleverness in driving. On the demonstration Goodyear Cord tires were used and the gasoline used was purchased from the Standard Oil Company station on Twelfth street, near the Auditorium. When purchasing the gallon of gas from the oil station a one-gallon can was tendered with the request that one gallon of gas be placed therein. The pump register showed exactly one gallon which filled the can to the brim. The gas was then poured into the one-gallon can through the medium of a one-half gallon measure purchased at a local store. The one-half gallon measure was filled twice and with half a teacupful left over, but the gallon can on the Maxwell car verified the correctness of the measure again by filling to the one gallon mark. This shows three things—that the oil station pump is accurate and gives full measure, and also that the one-half gallon measures on the market are just a slight bit small, and the third is that the Maxwell car was given one gallon of gas to make the run with and not a drop over.

VACATION IN AUTO.

With the season of the year approaching when people begin to plan for their summer vacation trips, the old question of how and where to go is uppermost in the minds of thousands of motorists. The average car owner, because of the fact that he gets the greatest amount of pleasure and comfort out of his car in the summer time, hesitates about leaving it behind when he starts off to the mountains or seashore.

"The motor car because of its ability to 'get there' makes almost any kind of a vacation trip possible," declares John N. Willys, president of The Willys-Overland Company, who has covered various parts of the United States, Canada and foreign countries by automobile.

"Seashore, mountains, inland lakes and rivers, all can be seen to the best advantage by the motor tourist who goes his own way and makes his own times without having to depend upon a railroad schedule or be bothered by the delays and inconveniences to which the average tourist is subjected."

"A small light car like the Overland Model 75 is the type of machine preferred by many people who plan to spend their vacations in the mountains. These smaller cars can travel over rough, hilly roads and get to and from places much easier than the big heavy machines. In fact, the small, light car has every advantage over its big brother when it comes to mountain climbing. Its light weight enables it to get through soft, sandy spots where it would be folly to drive a big, cumbersome car.

"The same is true of rough and rocky roads. The light car threads its way over the bumps without difficulty.

"On hard macadam or asphalt pavement the big car is right at home, but out in the country along the highways and byways where tourists most enjoy themselves, the small light car has proved itself most practical for general use.

"From one to five people can take a vacation trip in an Overland Model 75 and enjoy every minute of the time. Their vacation starts from the time the car leaves the house until it returns. In addition to being out in the open air and taking in points of interest, the tourist finds traveling in a small, light car inexpensive.

"I'll venture to say that the majority of Overland owners who have spent their vacations touring about the country have had more real enjoyment at less expense than would be possible had they undertaken any other kind of an outing."
